12 MINERS KILLED IN GAS BLAST

Senators Watson And Johnson Engage In Wordy Battle

OPPONENTS ACCUSED OF FILIBUSTER

Majority Leader Threatens To Silence Antagonist With Cloture Rule

TO MEET SATURDAY

California Solon Says He Asks No Quarter and Will Fight to Finish

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(UP)—Majority Leader Watson today charged the London treaty opposition with filibustering and demanded on the floor of the senate that they agree to a time for voting or suffer forcible silencing by the cloture rule.

Watson then began to circulate a cloture petition on the floor of the senate. If the cloture petition with 16 signatures were offered today, the senate automatically would vote on the question of cloture one hour after meeting Saturday and, if adopted, cloture would be effective from that time. Cloture limits each senator to one hour's debate.

Asks No Quarter

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, dramatically rejected Watson's offer.

"I ask no quarter," Johnson shouted, "Lay on Macduff, and damned be he who first cries, hold, enough.'"

"Go on with your majority," Johnson continued. "The only time we ever have had cloture in this body is when we were acting on some foreign adventure or misadventure.

"Move on, sir, with your cloture on a treaty that deals with our national defense."

"If the senator from California will agree to limit debate beginning Tuesday at 11 a. m.," Watson said, "to 10 minutes for each senator on each reservation we will not attempt to apply the cloture."

Important Task

"The task upon which I am engaged,' 'Johnson replied, "far transcends the importance of the leadership of the senator from Indiana on this side of the house.

"I ask for no quarter. I know of no way to fight for my country except to die for it."

Watson replied there was no desire to shut off legitimate debate but "there is objection to talking for the express purpose of dissipating a quorum."

"If this is continued," Watson added, "we must have recourse to the only method open to us."

Watson said the senate would meet Saturday and Johnson asked why not on Sunday, too.

After the flurry over cloture, Chairman Hale of the naval affairs committee, began a speech opposing the treaty.

AIRPORT ON ISLAND

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 17.—Development of an airport for landing planes and seaplanes on a 460-acre site at Sea Island, here, has been started. Present plans include the development of the eastern half of the site, the western portion to be leased. More than $300,000 has already been voted by taxpayers for the project.

MURDERER OF MOTLEY FLINT ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

MACDONALD ON WAY TO COAST WITH LAWYERS

Witness in Mooney Case Hopes to Gain Freedom For Two Radicals

NEW YORK, July 17.—(UP)—John MacDonald, the witness whose testimony in the preparedness day bombing trials in San Francisco was largely responsible for sending Tom Mooney and Warren Billings to prison, was enroute to California today with attorneys who believe they can obtain the prisoners' freedom.

In the brief cases of the attorneys as they sped westward on their train carrying MacDonald and the attorneys were the affidavits expected to clear the two men in California prisons.

One of the affidavits, which his lawyers would not discuss but which is regarded as of vital importance, was said to corroborate MacDonald's statement that while he was a witness in the trials he lived well on funds supplied by the district attorney.

The United Press was informed by apparently high authority that the document contained the statement of a woman, who sometimes went out with MacDonald at the time of the trial 16 years ago, that whenever he needed money he went to the district attorney's office and received it.

The woman, now married and living in Washington, D. C., denied, when questioned by the United Press, that she had signed any affidavit.

The new evidence, it was understood, was obtained when the woman motored to Baltimore after MacDonald's discovery there, and revealed her maiden name.

TWO INJURED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Two men were burned, one seriously, when heat generated from the sun's rays caused an explosion in a gas machine being used at the home of J. C. Gray, 609 East McFadden street, yesterday afternoon.

William Smith, of 715 East Chestnut street, employe of the United States Termite company of Pasadena, was severely burned at the back of the neck and hands and head. His condition is serious. Ray Johnson, of the same address, who was working with him at the time, was burned about the face, but did not need medical attention.

Smith was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where his condition today was reported as favorable.

The two men were working with the engine under the house, exterminating termites at the time of the accident. Johnson said he had known gas to explode from heat from an electric light bulb, but that he never heard of the day's heat being responsible for such an explosion.

Air Crash Victim Taken to New York

BENNINGTON, Vt., July 17.—(UP)—The body of Frank Goldsborough, outstanding young aviator, and victim of a flight mishap similar in many ways to that which resulted in the death of his father three years ago, was be taken to New York today.

Frank died at Putnam Memorial hospital here late yesterday, his 20th birthday, from a skull fracture suffered when the airplane he was flying crashed in a fog-hidden mountain forest beyond here Monday.

Caught in wreckage of the ship so that Donald Mockler, New York publicity agent whom he was flying, was unable to extricate him, Goldsborough lay almost 18 hours before being rescued. Arrived at the hospital, he had been without medical attention for almost a full day. During the night he had been exposed to temperatures below 50 degrees.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 17.—The world does not make real progress as fast as some expected. Like backward people with free constitutions reverting to revolution, the nations have made numerous agreements with each other the peace and then turned their attention to preparation for war. In spite of all the high resolutions, all the solemn treaties, all the carefully prepared organizations set up for the peacable adjustment of international disputes, the world is arming more heavily than before the war, and we hear too many distinct utterances of hostility. This is a disconcerting change from the spirit of the Paris peace conference. Then there was disagreement about reparations and allocation of territory but absolute accord by friend and foe alike on the principle of reduction and limitation of armaments and the maintenance of peace.

It was so nominated in the treaty of Versailles. Germany consented to disarm on the agreement of the other parties to the treaty to disarm. Yet only the United States has proposed and secured any practical agreements for limitation of armaments. It has not been possible to secure much real reduction. The war curbed for a time but has not greatly changed the spirit of the nations.

GRAHAM'S BODY IS LOCATED ON UTAH MOUNTAIN

Remains of Pilot Found in Canyon 20 Miles From Wrecked Plane

CEDAR CITY, Utah, July 17.—(UP)—A tiny funeral cortage wending its way through the mountain fastnesses surrounding Cedar City wrote the last sad chapter today to a saga of the air unparalleled for its courage and bravery.

Maury Graham, who gave his life that the airmail might go through, was on his way home.

The intrepid pilot's body, still encased in the heavy flying suit he wore on his last flight, was discovered in a secluded little dell late yesterday by a party of faithful friends and relatives who persevered in their quest even after a widespread search had been abandoned.

The discovery was made by Major Richard McDonald, who has been leading the search since Graham crashed in a blizzard last January 10, and Sheriff Leigh of Cedar City. McDonald, a Brother-in-law of Graham's wife, made the identification.

Fighter Held On Bad Check Count

Ned Hernandez, Anaheim prize fighter, was held to answer to the superior court from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, this morning on a charge of issuing a fictitious check.

The check in question is one alleged to have been given to Henry Smith, of Santa Ana, and was made out for $15, it was reported.

Octoroon Wife to Receive $3600 Annually—Drops All Litigation

LAS VEGAS, Nevada, July 17.—(UP)—Six years of litigation between Leonard Kip Rhinelander, member of a prominent New York family, and Alice Jones Rhinelander, the octoroon he married, ended here today when a property settlement was approved by Judge Edwards.

The agreement was sealed and therefore all the terms were not made known but it was stated that she received $31,500 outright and that she will be paid $3600 a year alimony.

The girl, daughter of a Negro hack driver, also was permitted to resume her maiden name, Alice Jones.

By the terms of the settlement she will drop a separate maintenance suit and an alienation of affections suit brought against Rhinelander's father, it was said.

She also will no longer oppose the Nevada divorce recently obtained by Rhinelander and will lift the receivership she placed on his property.

Harley Harmon, district attorney here, acted for Rhinelander in the brief court proceedings, and O. R. Jacobs and F. M. Gagliardi, acted for Alice Jones Rhinelander.

The Rhinelander case has been before the public since Rhinelander first sued for divorce in New York, stating that his wife had deceived him as to her parentage and that he discovered she had Negro blood. The divorce was denied.

MEMBERS FIGHT IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON, July 17.—(UP)—The house of commons was thrown into an uproar today, when Fenner Brockway and John Beckett, Labor members, got out of hand and Beckett tried to seize the speaker's mace and make off with it.

The trouble started when Brockway was suspended for repeatedly interrupting the speaker. Beckett, one of the four members who voted against Brockway's suspension, angrily seized the mace, raised it in both hands and shouted:

"It's a damned disgrace."

Beckett then tried to carry the mace into the lobby but the sargeant-at-arms intervened, seized the mace and replaced it on the table in front of the speaker.

The house then suspended Beckett.

Insanity Plea Also Entered Before Court

Superior Judge M'Comb Sets August 1 Trial Date On Killing Charge

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—(UP)—A double plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity was entered today by Frank D. Keaton, Inglewood real estate dealer, when he was arraigned for the murder of Motley H. Flint, prominent Los Angeles banker.

Date for Keaton's trial was set for August 1 by Superior Judge Marshall McComb.

Keaton appeared bewildered by the courtroom activity and he remained silent and kept close to his attorney, Public Defender William Neely.

When Keaton was returned from the courtroom to county jail he admitted for the first time that he had a copy of the Rev. R. P. Shuler's pamphlet, "Julian Thieves In Politics," in his pocket at the time he was arrested Monday in the courtroom when Flint was shot down.

The booklet criticized Flint and linked his name with the wreckers of the Julian Petroleum corporation.

Keaton previously had refused to answer questions regarding the booklet and the Rev. Mr. Shuler had indicated the book was planted on Keaton's person to cast discredit on Shuler.

OCCUPANTS OF SPEED BOAT HAVE NARROW ESCAPE WHEN MISS BALBOA CATCHES FIRE

Burning to the water's edge near the entrance of Newport Harbor, the Miss Balboa, 26-foot speedboat of the Balboa Water Taxi company, caught fire last night at 10:40 p. m. and forced the four occupants to don life preservers and jump overboard.

Although the Newport Beach fire department and life saving crew were notified and arrived shortly after the mishap, the boat was a total loss, estimated at $7000. As far as could be learned, there was no insurance on the boat. According to the owners, the Miss Los Angeles will replace the burned boat.

The Miss Balboa, one of the fastest boats on the bay, was occupied by four people at the time of the fire. Miss Elizabeth and Frances Gidden, A. K. Vandermark, the proprietor and Hartley Batey were the passengers. After leaping overboard, the party came ashore on the Balboa shore, chilled by the water but none the worse for the experience.

F. W. Crocker, chief of the fire department and life saving crew and three firemen, Clarence McCormack, J. Briscoe and Arthur Windrigger, responded to the rescue call in the Miss Newport. They used four extinguishers and put out life buoys. The passengers were taken home following the accident.

FOREST FIRE THREATENS TO WIPE OUT CALIFORNIA TOWN AS 100 MEN BATTLE BLAZE

REDDING, Calif., July 17.—(UP)—More than 100 men early today waged a furious battle with one of the most stubborn forest fires of the year that was seriously threatening the town of Hayfork, 40 miles west of here.

The fire, believed by forest rangers to be incendiary, started in the Trinity national forest and was fast eating its way through 250 acres of fine pine timber.

Volunteers and men drafted from every available town were attempting to stem the conflagration before it reached the narrow valley of Big Creek. It was feared if the flames passed there, Hayford would be destroyed.

The mountains west of here were completely hidden in dense clouds of smoke and the rapidity with which the flames were spreading led rangers to send out urgent appeals for more men.

The flames that appeared to have ignited the whole forest sprang up in several different spots, according to George Gowan, forest supervisor. He declared rangers after a hasty investigation, were of the opinion the blazes had been deliberately caused.

Hayfork was threatened by another forest fire less than a week ago and was only saved after a hard battle.

The lo wtemperatures and rising humidity of the past few days was believed to have given a false sense of security that led to a relaxation in carefulness.

EARLY CALIFORNIA TRAIL BLAZER DIES

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—(UP)—Mrs. Magdalena Wolfskill Sabichi, daughter of William Wolfskill, said to be the first American to blaze a trail to California, died today at her home here. A heart attack caused death.

Mrs. Sabichi was born in Los Angeles in 1846. Her mother was Magdalena Lugo, member of a prominent Spanish family of Santa Barbar, Calif.

Mrs. Sabichi's father came to California in 1828. He owned the first citrus grove in California, situated where the Southern Pacific station now stands, and also introduced the muscat grape.

The final business session of the convention was scheduled for the morning during which judges were to announce the winners of the oratorical contest in which 24 youths from all parts of the United States and Canada competed. Lutherland, a Lutheran summer colony in eastern Pennsylvania, and St. Louis were expected to compete for next year's convention.

Delegates yesterday voted $64,000 to be spent for Lutheran medical missionary work in China and India. Of this sum, $30,000 is to be spent in India and $34,000 in China.

LOS ANGELES CITY ATTORNEY QUITS OFFICE

Resigns on Request of Mayor Porter After Battle With Shuler

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—(UP)—A sudden clash over evidence in the courtroom murder of Motley H. Flint, millionaire retired banker, resulted last night in the resignation of City Prosecutor Lloyd S. Nix on the eve of an arraignment of Flint's accused murdered.

Nix's resignation was requested by Mayor John C. Porter after the prosecutor engaged with the Rev. R. P. Shuler, militant pastor, in a heated radio controversy over the Flint case.

While Frank D. Keaton, the little real estate salesman who killed Flint in superior court here Monday, waited in his cell to enter a plea to a murder indictment, Nix took part last night in a session

HYDE DISAPPROVES NEW WHEAT IDEAS

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(UP)—Purchase of new wheat by the federal farm board as urged by western senators would merely dam up the flood of grain without permanent benefit, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde told the United Press in an interview today.

He doubted whether such action would be within the law. Hyde also said the debenture and equalization fee plans which some farm senators now want to revive, would not remedy the situation. Neither would an "eat more bread" campaign help much, he said.

In fact Hyde, after a trip through the wheat belt, saw no relief except for farmers to raise less wheat, and to organize more intensively for better marketing.

KINGSFORD-SMITH PLANS BIG FLIGHT

SANTA MARIA, Calif., July 17.—(UP)—An attempt to span the Atlantic ocean from Harbor Grace to Amsterdam will be made witnin the next two months by Commander Kingsford-Smith and the same crew which recently flew the Southern Cross on an east-west crossing of the Atlantic, it was said here today.

Captain J. Patrick Saul, navigator on the other Atlantic trip, confirmed the plan.

Kingsford-Smith and Saul left here today for Los Angeles where they will visit a week with G. Allen Hancock. They then will go to New York where a four motored Fokker monoplane now is being built for them, Saul said.

TEN OTHERS AVERT DEATH BY RUNNING

HALT RESCUE WORK

Masked Workers Unable to Revive Victims After Bodies Are Removed

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—(UP)—Twelve miners were reported killed early today in Mitchell tunnel 40 miles from here as the second subterranean blast within 30 days rocked the property of the municipal water system.

The explosion, believed to have been caused by the chance ignition of accumulated gas, occurred at a depth of 300 feet as the men were working near the center of the mile-long tunnel.

Ten other miners, at work near the west entrance, heard the muffled blast and ran outdoors to safety ahead of the onrush of gas.

The entire crew of 22 men were working in the tunnel at the time were believed accounted for.

From first reports, it was believed identical with the blast that took the lives of seven miners last month in the Alameda tunnel, a few miles away.

No Warning Given

The blast occurred without warning a few minutes after the early morning shift had gone to work.

As masked rescue workers emerged from the tunnel's mouth with bodies, physicians and orderlies from the nearby town of Livermore worked feverishly at first aid application, but little hope was held that pulmotors would revive a spark of life in any of the dozen, as those who were not killed outright by the force of the explosion, it was feared ,succumbed to the poisonous fumes which came in its wake.

The known dead, six hours after the blast:

John McNichols, 42, 7306 Harvard Boulevard, Los Angeles.

J. C. Maybin, 21, Sonora.

Believed dead, bodies still in the tunnel:

E. R. Cavanaugh, 30, Seattle.

Tony Redka, 44, address unknown.

N. Yaworski, 34, Canada.

L. R. Crowley, 32, 2540 West 133rd street, Oakland, married.

A. W. De Folay, Tracy, married.

C. Urich, Loveland, Colo.

J. M. McMaster, Sonora, married.

G. Nations, 27, address unknown.

J. Colier, 28, Whittier, Cal.

Missing, not known for sure whether at work at the time:

Pat Gallagher, 43, Wellesley, Mass.

Halt Rescue Work

Rescue attempts were abandoned after workers had removed the bodies of McNichols and Maybin until ventilation shall have been restored. Any hope that the remaining miners would be found alive in the gas-choked recesses was virtually abandoned.

Attempts to restore sufficient ventilation to permit re-entry on the part of rescue crews were being supervised by officials of the state industrial accident commission, the U. S. Bureau of Mines and other agencies.

RENEW EFFORTS IN GRAPE CAMPAIGN

FRESNO, Calif., July 17.—(UP)—Workers for the signup campaign for the federal grape control plan concentrated their efforts today on the San Joaquin valley, where, it was reported, only a little less than two thirds of the total acreage has been contracted.

The valley is said to have 320,000 acres in grapes, and, at the official close of the campaign last Monday midnight there were 88,000 acres not contracted. This figure has been lowered during the unofficial campaign but the largest deficit is in this section, it was stated at campaign headquarters.

"One out of every three acres in the San Joaquin valley must be signed if this crisis is to be averted," Wylie M. Giffen, campaign chairman, said.

spot where Graham's wrecked mail plane and its $300,000 cargo of valuable mail was found by sheepherders three weeks ago. Although the plane was destroyed the mail was found intact and returned to addresses.

In death Graham left behind him the traces of a valiant but one-sided fight against the elements that brought his plane to disaster. Battling against the storm after a forced landing, Graham apparently headed on foot in the opposite direction from the civilization he sought. He was unhurt by the landing, it was believed, but the fury of the storm proved too great a handicap—twenty anguished miles were all he could accomplish before he sank in exhaustion to an icy death.

The country in which Graham crashed was extremely rugged, and grew more rough along the trail he followed. Where the group of searchers finally located his body the canyon was almost inaccessible except by foot.

Lost Six Months

More than six months elapsed between the time Graham was known to have crashed and the day his body was found. In that period scores of airplanes and hundreds of men were pressed into the search. An organized combing of the surrounding territory was conducted, and as it developed today, stopped only a few miles short of its goal.

The first great search was abandoned, only to be renewed when the plane was found. The second search was also given up by the main body of men and planes, but a little group of men refused to stop until they had satisfied themselves as to Graham's fate. They went over the ground again and pushed into new territory, finally stumbling upon the still form of the pilot.

And now Graham is on his way home.

Shoots Divorced Wife In Quarrel

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 17.—(UP)—Edith Vossos, 34, is near death after being shot by her ex-husband, Peter H. Vossos, 36, last night, who then turned the gun on himself, a bullet ending his life instantly.

A quarrel led up to the shooting, Mrs. Vosses said in a statement to police. The pair obtained a divorce two years ago and then Vosso hired his former wife to become his housekeeper at $1 a day, she declared.

MEXICANS HELD TO ANSWER ON STILL CHARGE

Charged with owning and operating a whiskey still, Jesus Galvan and Porfirio Diaz, Los Angeles Mexicans were held to answer to the superior court this morning from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court. Bail of $3000 each was demanded, which was not made.

The two men were arrested by Sheriff Sam Jernigan and several officers on a raid at a house in Los Alamitos several days ago. In the house the officers found six small whiskey stills, all operating full blast, they reported. A total of 1400 gallons of mash and 20 gallons of whiskey also were confiscated.

The stills were found in the same house at Los Alamitos in which deputy sheriffs found eight stills not more than two months ago, bringing the total stills captured from one house there to 14, within two months time. Deputy sheriffs were claiming this as a record of some kind.

The stills and the confiscated liquor were brought to the sheriff's office.

SPEAKER TELLS LIONS OF AIR DEVELOPMENTS

The Santa Ana Lions club was entertained today by Lieut. John Vanderveer Deuel, of Balboa, an aviator and author of "Speed Wings."

The speaker discussed in an entertaining and instructive way commercial and military aeronautics in the United States and abroad, emphasizing many features that have characterized the development of aviation.

Pointing out that he had traveled 14,000 air miles in South America, Lieut. Deuel said splendid progress had been made in commercial aviation in South America, particularly in Argentine and Bolivia.

He stressed the point that American-made planes, motors and movies are popular in those countries, with natives preferring the American-made products above similar products of other nations.

One of the reasons for the popularity of the American planes in Bolivia, in particular, he said, was due to the fact that two military officers of that country were sent here for a six months' training course. This resulted in their recommendation of planes made here for military as well as commercial use.

Air lines make it possible, he said, to travel in a few hours from point to point in mountainous territory that formerly required several days of tedious and tiresome transportation by rail or by team.

Miss Luisita Yorba offered the musical program and sang to the delight of her auditors a group of Spanish songs, being accompanied at the piano by Miss Dorothy Hurd.

Harry Hanson officiated as program chairman.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY

New count of the ballots in the big Fox West Coast-Register Popularity contest, completed today, show no changes among the leaders in the contest, but do show much strength for the first five or six runners in both the boy and girl divisions.

Luvina Layton Schade, who was leading last week again topped the list this week among the girls, increasing her lead over Sue Verberg. Miss Dorothy Loyd continued to show strength and large gains were made by Dorothy Reynolds, who moved into fourth place in the girl's division.

In the boy's division, Mario Mecurio continued to lead and is the first candidate to receive more than a half million votes. In Second place is Norman Paul, who was second last week. He showed a big gain over the last count.

The next best gains were made by Everett Conkright, who moved into third place after being far below last week.

An announcement of interest to candidates in the contest was today made by The Register, when it was made known that 1,000 extra votes would be awarded to any of the contestants who would bring in a new subscription to the paper with a letter they received today and tomorrow from the circulation department of the paper.

This is in addition to the regular amount of votes that are awarded for new subscriptions. For every three months subscription the contestant can receive 2,000 votes; for a six months subscription, 4,000 votes, for a nine month's subscription 6,000 votes and 8,000 votes for every new yearly subscription brought into the theater or to the paper.

Many of the candidates have taken this manner of obtaining votes and have obtained good results, according to Roscoe Conklin, Register circulation manager. Blanks can be obtained at the Register or at the two Fox West Coast theaters here.

DIRECTORS OF ORANGE COUNTY FAIR TO MEET

Declaring that the arrangements and advance reservations of space for the coming Orange county fair are a month ahead of any previous year, and asserting the annual exhibit will be the greatest in the history of the fair, Charles E. Lee, secretary, today announced that an important meeting of the directors of the Orange County Fair association would be held at the fair grounds Monday, at 3 p.m.

The secretary said that the premium list would be off the press and available within two weeks. According to his statement many inquiries for pens have come from livestock men as far away as Texas.

Pointing out that the operation period of September 30-October 5 is virtually a month later than the date of fairs of the past, Lee said that 60 per cent of the space in the machinery tent and 40 per cent of the space available in the industrial tent had been contracted, with all concession rights disposed of. Foley and Burke shows will be on the pike, contracts having already been completed. The shows will come here direct from the state fair at Sacramento.

Exhibits have been pledged in sufficient number to fill the feature tent, the secretary stated.

Departments of the fair have been assigned as follows: H. A. Lake, finance; V. D. Johnson, publicity; Lee, space in industrial, machinery and automobile tents; Mrs. J. V. Free tickets will be distributed to school children, 32,000 having been reserved for that purpose, and efforts will be made to have declaration of a half-holiday of the schools of the county so that the pupils may attend, according to the secretary.

Arraign Man On Assault Charge

T. A. Thomas, 39, who resides west of the Santa Ana river bridge on Fifth street, was arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning on a charge of assault and battery, after he is asserted to have beaten L. H. Cain, his neighbor.

Bail of $1000 was demanded, and he is to appear in court July 18 to answer to arraignment.

Thomas is said to have become angry with his neighbor when he heard that he had been reported to the county health department concerning a dead dog on his premises, it was said. Cain was badly beaten about the face.

at the city hall at which he described Shuler as the political boss of Los Angeles.

Speaks Over Radio

A pamphlet, "Julian Thieves," by Shuler, in which Flint's name was linked with those of Jacob Berman and S. C. Lewis in the $100,000,000 Julian Petroleum corporation collapse, was found in Keaton's pocket after the slaying. That same night Nix spoke over the radio and intimatad the pamphlet might have incited Keaton to his deed.

The next evening Shuler, over his own radio station, announced he was willing to submit the pamphlet to "any 12 men in the county for an opinion as to whether it contained any word that would turn a man to murder."

Shuler Explains

The thing that turned Keaton's mind to murder, Shuler said, was that "men were imprisoned for stealing bottles of milk while bankers and brokers who stole millions from Julian investors went free."

It was said at the district attorney's office the pamphlet will be used as evidence "for its entire worth," indicating it might be one of the state's points in attempting to establish Keaton's act as premeditated.

After his arrest Keaton told of losing $10,000 in the stock market and babbled that Flint was big enough to have stopped the collapse. He lost no money in the Julian failure but seemed to hold Flint responsible for the rest.

PARIS, July 17.—With a field of 101 entries already lined up, the International Reliability Race for airplanes, planned by the Aero Club of Germany, is ready to start off July 20. The annual bill for creams, rouge and powders in the United States is about $69,000,000.

Attends Meeting Of Beach Group

County Superintendent of Highways Nat Neff attended the sessions of the meeting of the American Shore and Beach Preservation association at Long Beach yesterday. This organization is attempting to solve the serious and involved problem of preserving the beaches for the use of the public, and has a wonderful program that is of vital importance to California and Orange county, according to Neff.

A California commission is starting work along this line. Many prominent men from all parts of the seaboard of the nation were in attendance at the convention.

LUFTHANSA REPORTS

BERLIN, July 17.—Airline activities of Lufthansa, German airways operator, were reduced during 1929 as compared with 1928. The number of miles flown was decreased 14 per cent, and the number of passengers carried showed a loss of 21 per cent. The company's total receipts were more than $7,250,000.

RUDY GOETZ HELD TO ANSWER TODAY

Rudy Goetz, Santa Ana man, charged in the Orange justice court with resisting an officer was held to answer to the superior court here this morning. Bail of $1500 was demanded.

Goetz is asserted to have resisted arrest at Orana several days ago when Chief of Police Richards and Pete Winslow, Orana motor cop, attempted to arrest him on a charge of possession of liquor. He is said to have had a gallon of whiskey in his machine, but broke it before officers could seize it, they reported.

A fight followed and Goetz was subdued and taken to the Orange jail, later being transferred to the county jail.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is one of the ironies of life that lies revenge themselves on the liar.

The one who denies that he believes in God merely robs himself of the strength and the inspiration which he might have had if he would give rein to his faith and face the responsibilities it involves. The one who disclaims his conviction regarding a life beyond the grave filches from himself the comfort and the strength and the joyous hope which should enlighten and dignify his every endeavor.

Do not deceive yourself nor permit others to confuse you. You do believe in God and in His love, even though you do not completely understand His dealings with you. You are sure that your dear one lives on and that you will be reunited in God's good time. Live sincerely in the light of that faith.

WILL INSPECT CONDITIONS IN COAST REGION

The county planning commission in its session today at the court house determined to make a personal inspection trip along the coast of the county at its next meeting July 31, to become familiar with conditions along the beach of the county. The district to be visited runs from Corona del Mar to San Clemente.

The matter causing the decision to make the inspection trip was the presentation of another sub-division map located on the coast. Some six or seven sub-divisions along the beach have been presented to the commission for approval during the past few months and the commission is desirous of obtaining information on which some policy may be determined whereby the public interest in the beaches may be protected.

Other matters that occupied the attention of the commission today were sub-division regulations and general problems.

In connection with the commission's division of traffic and highways a report was submitted by Nat Neff, county superintendent of highways, showing that there had been a very great increase in the amount of traffic over main highways in the county during the past year. This information was discovered through a check kept on traffic.

MC FADDEN GROUP MEETS AT BEACH

At a political "get together" last night at Huntington Beach, Ralph J. McFadden, candidate for sheriff of Orange county, was introduced to the assemblage. The meeting was for the purpose of creating interest in the coming campaign. James Tuffree, chairman of the McFadden for Sheriff club, presided. The candidate was introduced by Tom A. Talbert, who presented a short resume of McFadden's qualifications for the post he is seeking.

Among the other speakers on the program were W. T. Newlin, an old times of Huntington Beach; Harry A. Lake, Garden Grove; W. P. Osborn, secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce; and Judge C. D. Patten, also of Huntington Beach. The next club meeting will be held Wednesday evening, July 23 at Buena Park and the following week at the Santa Ana cafe.

WOTTA LIFE!

POMEROY, O., July 17.—What is worse than a nagging wife? Nothing. That is the belief of Dale L. Wright, who recently asked for a divorce from his mate, Hazel Wright. He told the court that she nagged and scolded so much that he got no peace and that she even carried her nagging to bed and kept him awake nights. They were married in 1918 and he endured the naggaing for 10 years before he rebelled.

MORNING CLUB MEMBERS HEAR TALK BY DANZ

With hearty laughter to start their day aright, Santa Ana Breakfast club members this morning found their interest in ham and eggs purely secondary to a program at St. Ann's inn featuring one of the cleverest speakers ever appearing before the club, and music of an unusually high order.

The speaker, Louis J. Danz, Anaheim business man, composer and traveler, was introduced by Sheriff Sam Jernigan, and proceeded to give a travel talk that was quite different from the usual items of interest about buildings, art galleries and natives.

Not that he failed to discuss these features, but he did it in such a manner as to present an entirely different picture—and to start the brain cells to working on entirely new concepts.

For instance that imaginary line dividing one small European country from another, was spoken of in graphic terms, making the hearers see that it was a spiritual affair rather than a physical one, and that it formed as sharp a line of demarcation as though actually outlined with stone walls and sentry boxes.

Danz stressed the fact that America's background and history lies in the east, hence European conditions are of vital interest to us of the United States.

Citing Aristotle, Leonardo De Vinci and Goethe as outstanding men of knowledge in their individual eras, he told of his meeting with a German scientist in Berlin who deserved an equal place with them, according to his opinions, and explained that this man declared that each individual country of Europe consisted of a blood related people at the end of 20 generations, so intermarried would its population become by that time. Danz placed his own humorous interpretation on this, by declaring that it gave peculiar interest to European warfare, "It is exactly like a family quarrel," he declared.

Not all his talk was humorous, but all of it was marked by originality and a freshness of view point.

Supplementing his witty and interesting talk, were enjoyable musical numbers by "Stormy" Gordon's Elks' orchestra, and a charming whistling solo, "Invitation Waltz Song," by Miss Florence Campbell, of Orange.

Miss Sue Verberg, American Legion candidate in the Register-Fox popularity contest, was present as a guest of Hunter Leach, who presented her to the Breakfast clubbers, asking their votes for her.

Among business matters considered by the clubmen under the direction of the president, B. Z. McKinney, was that of inviting all political candidates in the approaching fall election, to be special guests at a non-political breakfast on August 7. Dr. Massey was accepted as a new member, and Dr. A. K. Loerch, Jr., Roy Lyon and George Boyd were named as program committee for next Thursday.

EXPLAINS NEW SAFEGUARD ON LOAN BUSINESS

P. G. Beissel, president of the Home Mutual Building and Loan association, Santa Ana, today stated that additional safeguards had been thrown around state building and loan investments by the state commissioner of building and loan associations. An excerpt from Beissel's statement reads:

"It is now required by the state commissioner that all building and loan associations be audited by an approved firm of certified public accountants in addition to the regular state examination which is conducted each year. Many advantages will be gained through the independent audit, such as the verification of customers' accounts through a system of letters, the detailed examination of all association accounts and examination of investments. Such details hot being covered as comprehensively by the regular examination due to the large number of associations in the state and the limited amount of time available for the inspection of each. In fact the new ruling is just another link in the large chain of safety requirements used in making building and loan one of the nation's safest forms of investment," he said.

Beissel further stated that he considered the future of building and loan associations in California exceptionally bright. He said that he considered this phase of business one of the most important factors in the development of the nation, as well as community. As an encourager of home ownership, it loans liberal amounts for building improvements and permits the borrower to repay this loan in small monthly payments, he pointed out.

W. H. Eadie, certified public accountant, is making a thorough audit of the books of the Home Mutual Building and Loan association. The pioneer company was organized in 1893 and at the present time has assets well over $300,000.

U. S. EMPLOYES 'KEPT IN' FOR 'NAUGHTINESS'

WASHINGTON, July 17.—All employes in the superintendent of documents office at the government printing office are being "kept in" an extra hour because a few of their number have been "naughty."

More than 200 men and women, all of whom have clerical rating under the Civil Service commission, are being punished with an extra sixty minutes of duty because some of them violated the rule forbidding the carrying of newspapers into the building.

Adoption of "schoolmaster tactics" in the federal service has caused a feeling of unrest to pervade in all departments of the government's printing plant which has thousands on its payroll.

George H. Carter, the public printer, sole boss of the huge plant, made the order barring newspapers. It was issued last year when Carter initiated an independent crusade against betting on horse races and on the daily figures of the New York Clearing House and the Treasury Balance, known as the "Numbers game."

He is opposed to gambling in all its forms, and has charged the police have made little effort to curb the practice.

He believes he can stop gambling among his employes by refusing them the privilege to glance at newspapers during working hours.

When he noticed papers were being carried into the office and were seen lying opened at the sporting pages at the desks of few of the employes, he ruled all in this particular department must report at 8 a. m., instead of 9, and work through to the usual time of 4:30 p. m.

He also moved back the start of the luncheon period from noon to 1 o'clock.

The employes feel Carter should have found and punished the guilty workers instead of making the "whole class" do extra work. Carter has been told of their atitude but has declined to discuss his action.

Divorce Follows Golden Wedding

PROVO, Utah, July 17.—(INS)—After celebration of their golden wedding anniversary on June 1, Mrs. Francis M. Barney filed suit for divorce from her husband just 13 days later, on Friday, June 13.

Mrs. Barney, mother of 14 children, all married, in her complaint, charged cruelty. She alleges her husband came home drunk a few days after their fiftieth anniversary, choked her, and threatened to kill her.

She demands that the court grant her $30 a month for alimony and order her husband to leave their home.

MISS BROADWAY OF 1930

There's a broken heart for almost every pretty girl on Broadway, and here's the reason—the prettiest, according to certain judges, of them all. In a contest, which invited the competition of all New York's musical show pulchritude, Miss Violet Carson, as you see her here, smiled her way to the title of "Miss Broadway of 1930." The prize was a ticket to Europe, a round-trip one, of course, so Violet won't forget to come home.

PROGRAM FOR OPENING SANTA ANA BOULEVARD APPROVED BY DIRECTORS OF BOOSTER BODY

The program to be followed here on Saturday, June 26, in celebration of the opening of Santa Ana boulevard, new entrance to Santa Ana from the north, was approved at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday at noon in the guest house of the Dana Point syndicate at Dana Point.

The official opening of the new artery will take place at 11 o'clock, and will be followed by a brief program of addresses at Birch park, with B. B. Meek, director of state public works as the principal speaker. Meek will reveal in his address the state's program for Orange county highways under the bi-ennium budget to be approved by the next legislature.

According to a statement by George Raymer, secretary of the chamber, at least 12 organizations along the route of Manchester boulevard will participate in the automobile parade, as Santa Ana boulevard is destined to become a part of the broad highway extending from Playa Del Rey to Santa Ana. Virtually every incorporated city in Orange county will send good delegations, the secretary announced.

The parade will form on the west side of the state highway just north of the point where the new highway connects with the state road. Ribbons at the north line will be broken by Meek and by Sam Dudlext, president of the Manchester Boulevard association, at the south end. The secretary was directed to secure, if possible, a fleet of planes to fly over the route as the procession wends its way south along the beautiful piece of highway.

The advisability of having marching and horse groups was discussed, and decision was made to eliminate them from consideration because their participation would have the effect of slowing down the procession.

There will be no attempt at the spectacular, but it is anticipated many of the cars in line will be decorated.

The business session took place in the parlor of the guest house, amid surroundings that were restful and invigorating. Following the brief session the directors were guests of S. H. Woodruff, head of the Dana Point syndicate, at a luncheon served in the patio, the menu carrying only Orange county products—avocados, string beans, squash, lima beans, potatoes and a raspberry ice.

During the lunch hour and prior to the lunch Woodruff discussed with the Santa Ana group plans the Dana Point syndicate has for making that community one of the most attractive along the Pacific coast.

Members of the directorate and Woodruff commented with emphasis on the investments Los Angeles capitalists have made along the south Orange county shore line in the purchase of properties and their development, and prediction was made that these interests would be effective in making the Orange county coast one of the greatest recreational points on the Pacific coast.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Woodruff were W. C. Jerome, president of the chamber, Raymer, Otto Haan, Carl Mock, O. H. Barr, Allison Honer, Alex Brownridge, B. E. Morthland, Walter Vandermast, Harry Hanson, C. E. Hutledge and Horace Fine.

John Lyle, general manager, and L. J. Burrud, publicity director for Dana Point, assisted Woodruff in entertaining the Santa Ana boosters.

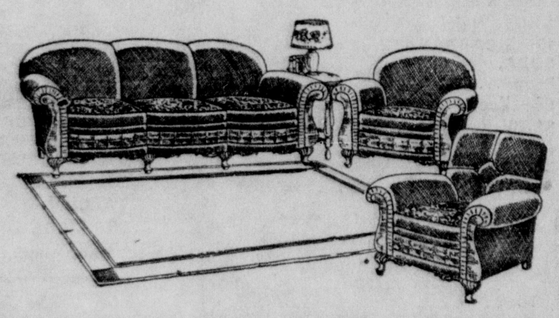

SLIGHT LOSS IN REFINERY BLAZE

Flames rising to a height of 150 feet attracted hundreds of automobiles last night to the Pech Refinery at Dalaware and Seventeenth streets in Huntington Beach but quick action by the Huntington Beach fire department prevented extensive damage and the flames were put out within half an hour.

According to reports a gas line near the refinery, which processes waste oil from the nearby wells, blew out and became ignited. The flames burned up the seepage oil on the ground and spread to a galvanized iron pumphouse but the total damage was not over $1000, fire authorities stated today. The loss was partly insured.

A Florida Tribute to the California Fruit Growers Exchange

THE following statement was made recently by the Florida Citrus Exchange in the "Florida Grower", mouthpiece of the Florida citrus industry:

"California has unified marketing in that the growers' cooperative organization controls approximately 75 per cent of the citrus output...Florida has lacked unification in marketing, her growers' cooperative handling only about 33 per cent of the citrus crop, and nearly 150 outside concerns competing with each other in selling the other 67 per cent.

"During the 1928-29 season, California shipped 88,010 carloads of citrus, sold f. o. b. for $118,874,102. Florida shipped 62,877 cars, sold f.o.b. for $54,844,805. FORTY PER CENT MORE FRUIT RETURNED CALIFORNIA GROWERS 116 PER CENT MORE MONEY.

"Unified citrus marketing will do relatively as much for Florida as it has for California. That is why the Federal Farm Board recommends it, why leading grower-shipper groups have merged into the Florida Citrus Exchange to help bring it about and why bankers, doctors, lawyers, manufacturers, merchants and tradesmen are asked to assist growers in arranging their affairs so they may join the Exchange."

A striking testimonial to the efficiency and effectiveness of the California Fruit Growers Exchange in a year of bumper production by both states! Yet not surprising when we stop to realize the tremendous difference between orderly, systematic marketing, conducted by one capable agency having every vital piece of market information in hand...and the comparatively less well organized Florida industry.

The facts are to be expected...that Exchange members consistently average higher returns and operate at lower selling cost than any other citrus sales agency. And these benefits can be still more greatly increased as more California growers come into the Exchange.

Florida growers are coming to the same conclusion that the 12,000 California Fruit Growers Exchange members have already reached, and as more California growers are doing every year. For complete information about the California Fruit Growers Exchange, talk to the manager of your nearest District Exchange or Exchange Association. Or for further information, write now to Growers Service Bureau, California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C", Los Angeles.

WHAT THE EXCHANGE IS: The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a non-profit organization of more than 12,000 California citrus fruit growers, producing over 75% of the California citrus crop, operated by and for them on a cooperative basis. Its object is to develop the national and international market for California Oranges, Lemons and Grapefruit, and to provide a marketing organization that will sell the fruit of its members most advantageously and at least expense. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers. Applications are received through all the Exchange's 210 local packing associations, 23 District Exchanges, or at the central office in Los Angeles.

Asking personal damages in the amount of $50,000, suit was brought today in superior court against the Fullerton Implement company et al, by Ora P. Brougher, 16, through his father, Oliver P. M. Brougher. The father also is a party to the suit and asks an additional $500 for expenses in connection with the accident.

The crash which resulted in the court action took place on May 1 at the intersection of Magnolia avenue and Lincoln boulevard, when according to the complaint, the defendant's car, which was driven by Jesse T. Kimber, crashed into a car driven by Ralph Brougher in which Ora was a passenger.

Injuries which it is alleged were sustained by the boy include a concussion of the brain, fractures of the jaw and right hip, severe lacerations and bruises and shock.

ASSEMBLY TO END MEETING NEXT SUNDAY

With study course and conferences occupying the attention of delegates and large audiences attracted to the afternoon and evening worship services, the summer assembly of the Evangelical churches of Southern California which is being held in the assembly grounds west of Santa Ana today is progressing toward its close next Sunday.

Following the morning watch service each day which is led by the Rev. Paul O. Steps, of San Bernardino, and the Bible hour directed by Bishop L. H. Seager, of Le Mars, Iowa, the sessions continue with class and study periods. The classes are in four divisions, (1) old testament, under the direction of the Rev. G. G. Schmidt, of Torrance; (2) the message and program of the Christian religion, with the Rev. E. Burgi, of Anaheim, as teacher; (3) new testament, led by the Rev. G. J. Degenkold, of the Hollenbeck Heights church, Los Angeles; (4) adolescent worship, taught by the Rev. L. M. Light, Long Beach. The noon day meditation periods are under the direction of the Rev. F. A. Zeller, of Los Angeles.

Following the assembly this afternoon, which featured the Women's Missionary society gold medal contest, a baseball game was scheduled between the pastors and delegates in attendance at the convention.

A camp fire program with songs and stunts is to be the feature tonight following the vesper service at 6:45 p. m. under the leadership of the Rev. F. Schrader, of Los Angeles, and the regular evening worship at 7:15 p. m. conducted by Bishop Seager.

The conferences yesterday afternoon were directed by the Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Boelter, Mrs. Boelter having charge of the missionary conference and the Rev. Mr. Boelterm, who is state superintendent, directing the one on religious education. The topic presented at the noonday meditation period yesterday by the Rev. Mr. Zeller was "Pentecost in the Light of Our Experiences and our Experiences in the Light of Pentecost." The Rev. Mr. Schrader's topic at the vesper service last evening was "Lessons from the Mountain." Bishop Seager based his sermon at the evening period yesterday, "Thou art—Thou Shalt Be" on John 1:42. Dr. H. J. Kirkhoefer preached at the afternoon assembly from the text found in II Corinthians, 3:18.

The regular venire was exhausted before the jury was completed and a stipulation was made to try the case with 11 jurors rather than delay while a new venire was drawn.

The plaintiff is seeking a total of $10,915 as a result of injuries he is alleged to have sustained in an auto crash near Brea early last December, when the car in which he was riding was in a collision with a truck of the oil company as it was making a left turn into the oil fields. Injuries include loss of one finger and fracture of the right knee.

BODY OF RIP TIDE VICTIM IS SOUGHT

Baffled by the apparent drowning of a bather at Newport Beach yesterday afternoon off Fifteenth street, the Newport Beach Fire department was making every effort today to find any clues which might lead to the identity of the supposedly drowned person.

According to F. W. Crocker, chief of the fire department and head of the life saving crew, three persons on the beach reported that they saw the arms of the bather go down. A bad rip tide caused by a cross current was running at the time and the life guards were of the opinion that the body had been drawn away from the beach.

A large crowd collected on the sand while life guards searched the water for a trace of the victim. The names of the persons who saw the tragedy were not reported.

LOCAL VOUCHER RESCUED FROM BURNED PLANE

A remnant of an airplane crash in which part of the cargo of mail was destroyed by fire, was received at the office of County Auditor W. C. Jerome this morning, in the shape of charred remains of a county voucher. The crash and resulting fire occurred near Goshen, Ind., on July 2. Enough of the warrant was salvaged to make identification possible.

The warrant had been issued to the H. R. Hunting company, of Springfield, Mass., a bookselling and publishing house, in payment for supplies for the county library. The auditor's number, 19775, and that of the county clerk, J. M. Backs, 7793, the amount, $24.20, the signature of the county librarian, Margaret Livingston, and the name and address of the Massachusetts firm could be read on the charred fragments that were sent to the auditor.

The paper evidently was in transit through a bank clearing, as it had been sent east by regular mail, and the Huntting company said in the letter that it had been advised of the matter by its bank.

Jerome said that his office had received damaged warrants in the past that had been salvaged from mangles, washing mchines and sewers, but that this is the first one that had returned from an airplane disaster. The duplicate check is being issued today.

Central Lemon Association Returns Are $171,266.26

MEMBERS SENT CHECKS TODAY FROM LEMONS

ORANGE, July 17.—With the payment for the June shipment of lemons totaling $77,823.06, reurns for growers of the Central Lemon association for the year have now reached the sum of $171,266.26, according to Roy Runnells, secretary and manager of the association. The payment was made today.

The June shipment included 102 cars of fruit and the total number of cars packed this year is 260. At the present time about four cars a day are being shipped and until recently five cars was the daily output.

Picking for the balance of the year will be above normal, says Runnells, and at the present time market conditions are fair. While hot weather in the middle west has added to the consumption of lemons in that portion of the country, the large consuming centers as yet have been free from excessive heat, Runells said.

The Central Lemon association which is located at Villa Park is the largest association of lemon growers in the world.

REV. McAULEY GIVES SPEECH BEFORE CORPS

ORANGE, July 17.—That differences of opinion should be settled in a friendly way was the thought stressed in a talk given by the Rev. Robert Burns McAuley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, in a talk given at the regular meeting of the Woman's Relief corps yesterday afternoon.

The Rev. Mr. McAuley gave several noteworthy illustrations of the effect which acts of friendship have in promoting a feeling of good will between nations. One of the most remarkable of results of friendliness was achieved in Japan he stated, when after the earthquake of several years ago, the feeling toward Americans, which had been in some instances quite bitter, was changed almost overnight. The change of feeling came as the sympathy of the American people was expressed in a practical manner by the donation of $10,000,000 to the sufferers of the catastrophe, the speaker said.

Japanese Grateful

Within three months after this time, the pastor declared, nothing derogatory to Americans was allowed to be spoken, so strong was the feeling of gratitude of the Japanese. The pastor said that he based his statements on the reports of seven friends who were missionaries in Japan at that time.

The part Lindbergh played in establishing friendly relations between France and America and Mexico and America, were told by the speaker.

Return German Tags

A recent friendly international act, the Rev. Mr. McAulay declared to be that of the return to Germany of 10,000 German identification tags which had been brought to this country by American soldiers as souvenirs at the close of the war. Doubt and uncertainty of the fate of these soldiers would be laid to rest by this act, the speaker said.

The history of the United States is written around its wars and wars are often caused by misunderstanding, said the speaker as he related incidents of the Civil war.

Solving Race Problem

The work being done by a Chicago member of the Rothschild family in Chicago was told by the speaker, who said this wealthy man is donating $2,000,000 in an effort to solve the race problem. This man is big enough, wise enough, tactful enough and rich enough to accomplish great things, the speaker said. Money he is investing is represented by well equipped negro hospitals and negro colleges, it was said.

An interesting illustration of how difficulties may be settled when violent means would result disastrously, was given by the speaker. The pastor said that when sheet metal solidifies a bulge may form in the center and that this bulge may be removed by pounding gently at the edges of the metal toward the center.

Settle Disputes

By this gentle means the bulge is removed before the center is reached, said the speaker. "Don't hit the sore spot," advised the speaker.

Differences often arise between cities, said the speaker. They may arise between Anaheim and Orange or Santa Ana and Anaheim, or between Orange and Santa Ana. These differences may be settled in a friendly manner, the pastor said he believed.

Love and friendship play a larger part in the establishment of friendly relations than is generally believed, said the Rev. Mr. McAulay, in closing.

Mrs. Fred Baier was in charge of the meeting and an entertaining program included violin and piano duets by Mrs. Winifred Sutton and Daisy Baylor, and a humorous history of California was read by Mrs. C. W. Coffey.

MRS. CASSIDY PASSES

ORANGE, July 17.—Sarah A. Cassidy, 80, South Lemon street, passed away in a Los Angeles hospital yesterday. She has been ill for a number of years. Her surviving relatives all live in the East. She was a member of the Presbyterian church of Orange and also of the local Ruby Rebekah lodge.

THREE CIVIL WAR VETERANS PLAN TRIP TO CINCINNATI FOR NATIONAL CONVENTION

ORANGE, July 17.—Three old soldiers of this city who were enlisted in the ranks of the blue during the Civil war, will soon pack up their knapsacks and start on their way east to answer the roll call of the remaining soldiers of the great conflict when they meet at Cincinnati, Ohio, August 24, at the national convention of the G. A. R.

These men are J. W. Edwards, John McKibben and George Washinton Hall, members of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The three comrades are anticipating the event with more than usual pleasure for they have been present at a number of the national conventions where old battles will be refought and where famous generals will live again, as wartimes are recalled.

Many old friends are to be greeted and the Orange men keep up a correspondence with many of the comrades of their companies disbanded at the close of the war.

McKibben marched with Sherman to the sea and previous to enlisting heard Lincoln and Douglas debate. The soldier relates how at one time surgeons were about to remove his leg, having placed him on the operating table, when another surgeon decided to try to save the limb which had been piercer by a bullet. "The only pain killer I had was a silk handkerchief which I stuffed in my mouth," McKibben relates.

Hall's grandfather fought in the Revolutionary war and was unwounded in three years of action.

The Orange post had 11 members, the oldest of which is Henry O. Reel, now of Colton, who is 98 years of age. The youngest member of the post is Eugene Mattison, who is said to be about 80 years of age. Other members are L. E. Taubee, Henry C. Plotner, J. W. Edwards, Samuel Armor, D. T. Moore and Solomon Lintz.

Hall also looks like a man in the late sixties, can name the state for which each star on the flag stands and give the date of the admission of the state into the union.

VILLA PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pryor of San Juan Capistrano, entertained the following guests at Sunday dinner, the occasion being their little daughter, Carmen Jean's first birthday: Mr. and Mrs. R. F. The Villa Park Ladies' aid held its regular meeting at the church Tuesday afternoon, spending most of the time in piecing a quilt which when finished will be sold. There were seven ladies present.

Friends of the Rev. W. I. Newman of Hemet will be glad to know that he is recovering nicely from an appendicitis operation performed last week at Long Beach.

Guests of William Bathgate sr. on Monday were Mrs. Guy Williams, Mrs. Robert Scott and her mother, Mrs. Little, and Mrs. William Bathgate jr., of San Juan Capistrano.

Mrs. March and Mrs. Jessup visited in El Modena on Sunday.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ADDED TO RELIEF CORPS

ORANGE, July 17.—Three new members, Mrs. Clarence Higgins, Mrs. Ruth Huston and Mrs. Nellie Tannehill, were initiated at the meeting of the Women's Relief Corps here yesterday afternoon.

Other business to be transacted by the organization was the perfection of plans for two social events. The first of these will be a card party to be given Saturday evening in the A. R. Smith hall in the Smith and Grote building. The affair will open at 8 o'clock and both bridge and five hundred will be played with attractive prizes for both. Mrs. Gladys MacDonald and Mrs. George Merriman will have charge of the party. The other event will be an afternoon card party in the home of Mrs. A. P. Sides, 118 East Palm street. Mrs. Hart Pennington will be co-hostess with Mrs. Sides.

Letters of appreciation from the three war veterans adopted by the corps were read and it was reported that Mrs. George Niles, a member of the organization, who has been ill is somewhat better.

Announcement was made of the Federation meeting which is to be held at Costa Mesa July 28.

Miss Isabel Allobach, director of the home service department, of the Southern Counties Gas company gave an interesting talk after the covered dish luncheon which was served at noon. Miss Allobach explained methods of cooking and the use of gas appliances

CHANGE DATE

WESTMINSTER, July 17.—A change in the meeting place for the next gathering of the Happy Workers society which is to be held Wednesday, July 23, is announced. The pot-luck dinner, which was to have been held at Recreation Park, Long Beach, has been postponed and the regular meeting will be held at the same date, Wednesday, July 23, at the Westminster church hall. The change of plans was thought preferable on account of the infantile paralisis epidemic.

It is an old Japanese belief that the world was enclosed in an egg before creation, which egg was broken by a bull.

Great Fun

The Best Yet In Gliders

The PLAYBOY FOLDING GLIDER is shot straight up 100 or 150 feet by a special rubber. This is possible because in the folded position it goes up like an arrow. The air holds the wings folded until the glider reaches the pinnacle, when they open. It will then make one loop and gradually circle and glide to the ground.

Provides Hours of Fun

As the PLAYBOY GLIDER does not depend upon a small propeller and lightness to lift it into the air, it is made very sturdy. The wooden nose protects it if shot head on into a wall. If a wing hits any obstruction, it simply folds back and after freeing itself the wing opens and continues its flight.

BERKEY IS TO SING TODAY ON KREG PROGRAM

Stanley Berkey, baritone, will present selections from the "Student Prince" over KREG today from 6 to 6:15 p. m. Berkey will sing over the Santa Ana station again on Saturday from 6:45 to 7 p. m.

On the children's hour, with Inez Moore, Dolores Bell will sing popular songs as one of the outstanding features of the program, which will be on the air from 4 to 5 p. m. It will be followed by the Shoppers' Guide, with music, from 5 to 5:45 p. m. and reading of news of the day from 5:45 to 6 p. m.

Following the program by Berkey, the Scheffer sisters, vocal duo, will entertain from 6:15 to 7 p. m. The 4-H club program will be on the air from 7 to 7:15 p. m., after which the Union Mutual Life program will be heard from 7:15 to 7:30 p. m.

Elizabeth Reeves Hubbard, with piano and song selections, will entertain from 7:30 to 8 p. m. Kansas Kal's Old Timers will be on the air from 8 to 9 p. m. and Jack Tapscott, with guitar and song selections, will entertain from 9 to 9:30 p. m. The American dance marathon contest at Huntington Beach will come to listeners by remote control from 9:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Artist To Take Her Listeners On Radio Tour

Elizabeth Reeves Hubbard, who will present piano and song numbers over KREG from 7:30 to 8 p. m. today, will take her listeners on a "tour to her home town."

"We go from sunny California to scenic Mexico for sight seeing, then back to Arizona and from there into Texas," said the singer in explaining the program. "Then we go into Louisiana and on up the Mississippi on an excursion to that 'darky thoroughfare' on Beale street in Memphis, Tenn. Last of all will be the visit to my old home town in Kentucky."

Property Owners Sign Road Deeds

BOLSA, July 17.—Property owners of this district have received blank deeds which they are asked to sign giving ten foot right-of-way on either side of the Bolsa boulevard that the road may be made 80 feet in width. The matter now being taken up here corresponds with that already seen to on the west portion of the road, from Midway City, west, when the several miles on to the ocean was mostly deeded for this purpose.

As the boulevard on First street now lacks but one mile of reaching the Garden Grove boulevard, east of Bolsa it is expected that the widening of the road here will be a matter of but a short time.

Property owners are responding quite freely to the proposal and a majority sending the deeds back signed.

LAGUNA BEACH ORCHESTRA TO PLAY ON RADIO

Using "The Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert as the "big" number of the program, the Laguna Beach Little Symphony orchestra will be heard Friday from 8 to 9 p. m. over KREG, by remote control from the First Congregational church.

The orchestra will broadcast from the Congregational church because the 33 members of the organization would be too crowded in the regular quarters of KREG.

Anna Priscilla Risher, director and founder of the Little Symphony orchestra, announced that she will use the same program which the Laguna Beach organization played the evening of July 15 in the Redlands bowl. The program follows:

1.—Overture—"Merry Wives of Windsor"—Nicholai.

2.—Waltz from the Ballet, Dornraschen-Tschaikowsky.

4—Trio for Piano, Cello and Violin—Cadman. (Orchestration by Anna Priscilla Risher.)

The soloist will be Gretchen Kuenhy, cellist. She will play "Romanza," by Risher, and "Scherzo," by von Goens. Miss Risher will be at the piano. Miss Kuenhy, one of the youngest of the concert cellists, has been a soloist with the Laguna Beach orchestra.

Anna Priscilla Risher, the director, has brought into being an organization of musicians who have begun to attract attention in this part of California. The Redlands bowl invitational program is but one of the honors this Little Symphony orchestra has received. Miss Risher, in an interview, said:

"I have built from the inside out and not from the outside in. I am no believer in trying to make an orchestra of distinction by the use of money and influence. A real Little Symphony orchestra must be made from the material and talent available in our own town."

WILL BROADCAST FARM PROGRAMS

Beginning each day at noon and continuing 10 minutes, talks of interest to farmers, growers and producers will be given during the week beginning July 21, under the auspices of the agricultural extension service, co-operating with KFI, as follows:

July 21—"Water Injury of Avocado Trees," an article by Parker and Horner, of the citrus experiment station; July 22—"Truck Crop Question Box," by F. H. Ernst, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county; July 23—"Natural Enemies of Scale Insects in Santa Barbara County," by E. S. Kellogg, agricultural commissioner, Santa Barbara county; July 24—"California Tree Friends," by Woodbridge Metcalf, extension specialist in Forestry, University of California; July 25—"College of Agriculture News," by W. H. Williams, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county, and July 26—"4-H Club Program."

There's a new and easy way to gain in energy, vigor, ambition and health.

And at the same time lose the fat you don't need and don't want.

Take a generous half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts every morning in a glass of hot water—don't miss a morning, but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

A jar that will last you a month costs but 85c at Mateer's Drug Co., Givens and Cannon or any drug store anywhere in the world.

When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost—after that you'll tell your friends that Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat man's money.

After you have had your daily supply of Kruschen every morning for a couple of weeks you'll get what is known in Great Britain as "that Kruschen feeling."

The urge for activity will fill your entire being—you'll not be content to sit in the old arm chair after your day's work is done.

You'll feel the spirit of youth within you—what a joyous feeling—you'll want to take long walks, play games and your work will cease to be a hardship—it will become a pleasure.

Your old time ambition will return—you'll arise early filled with the joy of living—no grumbling at the breakfast table—your keen appetite will cause you to relish everything that's put before you.

For Kruschen Salts—not one salt—mind you—but the six vital salts that Nature says your body must have if your life is to be a happy, healthy one.

Kruschen Salts will help you to lose fat—it keeps your kidneys, liver and stomach in such good shape that they perform their functions properly, keeping the system free from poisonous waste. Its tonic influence reaches every organ, gland and fibre in the body, bringing good health to all who put their faith in it.—Adv.

Grand Old Man of the Trotters

Walter Cox has been training and driving harness horses for over 45 years, and has probably brought in more winners than any man since the days of "Pop" Ed Geers

Though more than 60 years of age . . . Cox drives his own horses in all important races . . . not because he feels he is the best driver in the world . . . but because he feels he knows his horses best.

By BERT NEVINS

THERE'S a certain man toddling about the Good Time Racing Stables at Goshen, New York, these days, staring intently at horses' hoofs, mumbling imperatively to helpers, and waiting impatiently for reports.

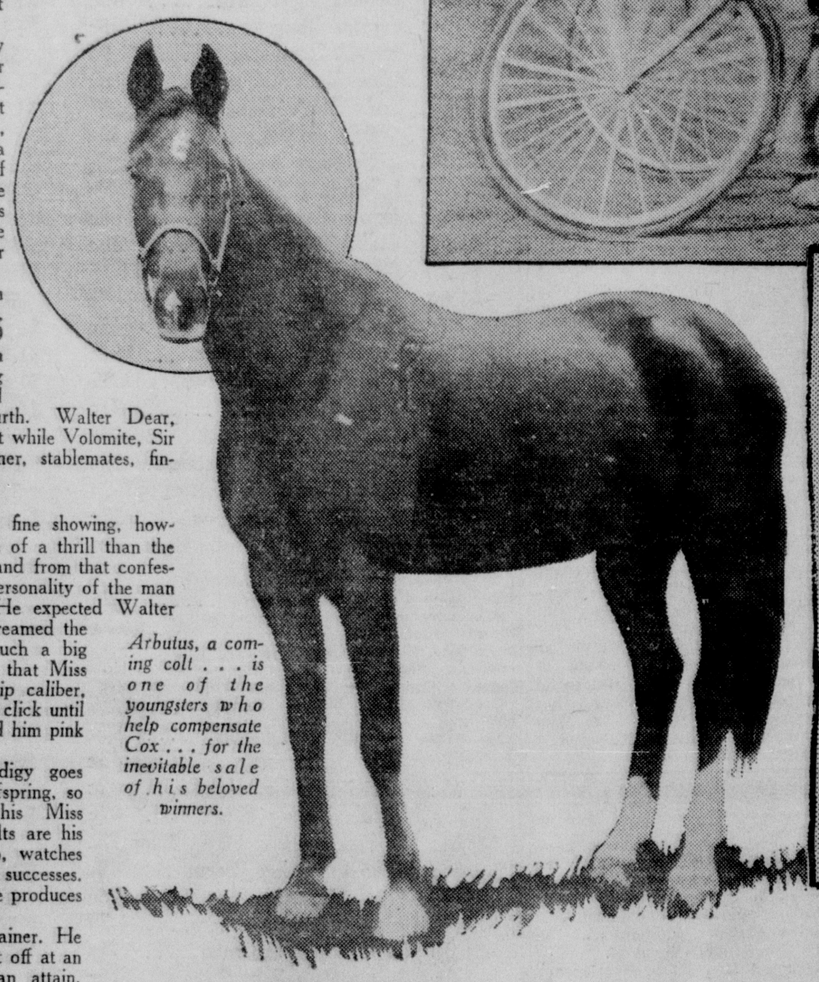

He is Walter Cox, the greatest of all trainers of trotting horses, and his actions are the same each year at this time as he prepares for another light harness turf season.

Watching Cox work, he seems to be no more than 50 years old. Speaking to him, he sounds over 100. In reality, he is 61 years of age, 45 years of which he has spent in the trotting game.

During his long career, in which he has been both a trainer and a driver, Cox has raised and driven more money horses than anybody in the world. Just how many winners he has had he can't say. But his friends insist that he has brought home at least 500 winners.

Last year, he not only trained three-year-old Walter Dear, the outstanding trotter, but also piloted the colt in all of his winning races, gaining for his stable, as a result, the grand total of $57,000 on the one horse and, together with earnings on the others, became the greatest money-winning driver of the season.

In the Hambletonian Stakes at Lexington, Ky., October last, with $60,000 in prizes—the richest purse in the world for trotters—being offered, Cox's colts placed first, second, third and fourth. Walter Dear, driven by Cox, won the event while Volomite, Sir Guy Mac and Miss Woerner, stablemates, finished in the order named.

Arbutus, a coming colt . . . is one of the youngsters who help compensate Cox . . . for the inevitable sale of his beloved winners.

IT WAS Miss Woerner's fine showing, however, that gave Cox more of a thrill than the victory of Walter Dear, and from that confession can be determined the personality of the man and his secret of success. He expected Walter Dear to win, but he never dreamed the other colt would place in such a big race. To be sure, he knew that Miss Woerner was of championship caliber, but he didn't think she would click until this season. And so, it tickled him pink to see the colt come through.

As the father of a prodigy goes around bragging about his offspring, so did Walter Cox praise his Miss Woerner. To him all the colts are his children. He brings them up, watches them grow and glories in their successes. Is it any wonder, then, that he produces so many winners each year?

In looks, Cox is a typical trainer. He always wears a slouch hat, set off at an angle only turf followers can attain. When he talks, his eyes glare at you through horn-rimmed glasses and seem to reflect a certain amount of shrewdness. In a seven-card stud poker game his face takes on the appearance of an experienced gambler.

EVEN in conversation, Cox radiates his environment. Habitually he uses the word "damn" for emphasis. He'll tell you that he's too "damn" old to get out of the game now, and that he has made a "damn" good living at it. Confidentially, he'll reveal out of the side of his mouth that he couldn't quit the trotting game if he tried, for "it gets into your blood and sticks there."

But, it's when he takes you to one of the stalls and starts recounting the deeds of the animal occupying it with paternal pride that you feel you have uncovered the real personality of the man. You see, he and his wife, Emma, have never had any children. All his life he has raised colts and they are almost like a family to him now.

Because he holds such an affection for horses, Cox has never been much attracted to any other animal. He has a dog, named "Bob," but he doesn't feel any extraordinary fondness for him. Should he run away, Cox insists that he'll never bother chasing after him. Not one of the 30 or 40 cats who scamper around the stables is his friend, either. He just has them there to keep the mice away from his colts.

That he cares little for animals, other than horses, is further evinced by the fact that watching cockfights is his hobby. Since it's against the law in some places to stage such combats, he has to rely upon cards to furnish his diversion.

THE warm-heartedness he feels for horses doesn't burn only when victory comes their way. Witness the time old Dick McMann was driving Cox's horse, Jerry B., in a race. It must have been at least 20 years ago. The colt had won two heats and so had the opponent, making the next the deciding heat. As it so happened, Jerry B. lost the race.

But Cox felt it wasn't the animal's fault but McMann's poor handling and, therefore, tried to console the horse the best way he could. He gave the colt special attention the next three or four days in order to impress him that he wasn't angry over the showing.

It is because of the incident, too, that Cox drives in races today. He wants to help his colts as much as possible and doesn't want any of them to lose out because of bad driving. Don't get the idea, though, that he's egotistical and that he thinks he's the best driver in the world. He merely knows the tendency of his own horses and can determine what handling must be given them.

Offhand, he can't say which one of his horses he'll drive in the Grand Circuit races this season. Maybe he'll try out each one of the top-notchers. Walter Dear is gone, you know, William H. Cane, the owner and Cox's boss, having sold the colt for $25,000 to a German stable last winter. The price paid was the largest of the year for a trotter and was accompanied by the sale of Hazleton, another one of Cox's horses, who for $15,000 was also traded to Germany.

Miss Woerner is still with him and some of the other good trotters are Guy Day, Arbutus, Athelonia Guy and Brother Guy. As he is always bringing new ones to the front, it wouldn't be surprising to see a colt, other than those named, win the leading stakes this summer and fall under his colors.

COX has no special training method, except that he, personally, looks after the welfare of every horse in the stable and tries not to have more interest in one than another. Four boys, Carl Dill, Ted Horan, Bert Yaton and Stanley White, help him out with the check-up daily and drive for him occasionally in races.

After trial heats, Cox can always be found in his office, studying charts, but, usually, he is on the outside.

Not always does he treat the colts kindly, although he has never beaten one in his life. As fathers sometimes get angry at their little ones and spank them gently, Cox, too, when displeased, growls at his colts. If he is trying to get them to stand up straight—for a picture, for instance—and they move about, one word from him and they stand still.

The only regret he has is that he so often loses his horses after raising them. "That's the trouble with trotting today," Cox argues. "When a trotter wins a few large purses, according to the rules of the game, he can only race against other outstanding stake-winners. You see, competition is held by classes and there's never enough horses for the high-winner division. So owners send them abroad."

Walter Dear and Hazleton are the more recent of the hundreds of horses Cox has had taken away from him and because he has so many he lets you think he doesn't mind it very much. Still, it hurts him severely to lose a colt he has raised.

ON THE whole, he is pleased with the game today and assures you that it is very much different than when he first started at the age of 16. At that time Ed "Pop" Gears was the champion trotting racer and, like all kids interested in horse racing, Cox idolized him. Then, after serving a short apprenticeship as stableboy and helper, Cox started training horses in New Hampshire at 18.

His first and only big thrill came when he won the Grand Circuit race at Empire City track in 1903. Prince of Orange was the name of his horse and $1000 the amount of money gained. It was not only an unexpected victory, but one attained from a last-minute rally, and, boy, those are the kind that are long remembered.

Cox even goes further back than that, though, to show you the changes trotting has undergone in the many years he has been a part of it. Today there are four organizations which rule the sport, namely, the National Trotting Association, the American Trotting Association, the Harness Horse Association and the Canadian Trotting Association, wielding power in different territories. If you approached a club 35 years ago and told them that their races weren't being held in accordance with the national rules, they would have thought you crazy. And they wouldn't hesitate to tell you so.

And that's exactly what happened to Cox in one case. A horse of his had lost a race in a county fair at Pittsfield, New Hampshire, and, knowing that it wasn't the colt's fault, Cox fought for him. It seems the winner should never have started against Cox's horse, as she wasn't eligible under the national rules of the big associations.

Thirty or forty cats around the stables . . . are tolerated because they keep mice away from the horses. . . . . Portrait sketch of Walter Cox by Sports Artist Laufer

COX went to the officials and told them so. "We are running races here," shouted the head judge, "under the Suncook Valley Fair Association rules and not the national ones."

Such a thing would never occur in trotting today for, according to Cox, the associations are much stronger because there is a better class of people interested in the game. Every season Cox sees the same friendly faces back at the track. His wife is always a spectator at races and travels around the circuit with him.

Trotting conditions may have been revised considerably but Cox thinks that the driving ability of the stars of today equal the prowess of those of yesterday. Gus Macy, Dick McMann, Tom Murphy, M. E. McHenry and Jack and Gill Currie were all great drivers in the good old days but Ben White, Fred Eagen, Harry Stokes, Milly Lease, Doc Parshall and Nat Ray, who grace the tracks at present, appear to be just as good. And Cox ought to know, for he has raced against them all.

It is the opinion of Cox that no comparison can be made between trotting horse races and running horse races. "The former is a marvelous sport," claims the veteran trotting figure, "while the latter is merely a gambling game."

Of course, Cox doesn't deny that considerable betting is done at trotting tracks, but the environment is different. He believes that there is no better class of people in the world than trotting horse owners, who enter the game not to get rich quick, but for the pleasure they derive out of it. He has been with his present boss now for eight years and likes his association very much, as do the hundreds of riders and trainers with whom he comes in contact.

As far as he knows—and who would know more—trotting is strictly on the level. "If anything crooked is around, I don't see it," says Cox, who admits, though, that there used to be plenty of framing years ago.

Cox has no superstitions on or off the track, and "takes things as they come." He is, however, very careful about his health. Should you, by chance, see him scratch his finger, you will also see him immediately apply an antiseptic to it. Too, on rainy days he always wears rubbers.

SUCH precautions he also takes with his horses, which, more than anything else, depicts the fatherly interest he has for them. Stableboys say that he actually worries himself sick when a horse of his falls ill and he isn't relieved until assured that the colt is well again.

Despite this sort of painstaking care, tragedy has come into even the stable of Walter Cox, as into all others. One such occasion was the sudden illness and death of Fireglow, a colt who set a new world record in the running of the Kentucky Futurity in 1927, covering the mile in the remarkable time of 2:04.

Cox himself drove the winner in that race, which veterans say has no equal for sheer thrills from start to record-breaking finish. Fireglow wasn't rated up to his competition, because his sire had been San Francisco, mere "common folks" in the trotting world.

But the little red chestnut colt was a fighter! Spencer, a fine colt, was pushed ahead purposely at the start, his driver knowing that Scotland, his nearest rival, hated to trail. Cox played safe, keeping Fireglow in third position, right behind Scotland. A hum of excitement swept the stands, for the spectators could see that a record-breaking pace was being set and followed.

Just beyond the three-quarter pole, Spencer sagged, and let Fireglow come up to fight it out with Scotland for the last 150 yards. The gallant soul of Fireglow brought him through in a whirlwind finish to beat Scotland by nearly a length. It was this gallant little colt which died suddenly just before a big race at the North Randall track in Cleveland—the sort of thing which comes near to tragedy to a dyed-in-the-wool lover of horses like Walter Cox.

Piles Go Quick

Piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why external remedies and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID, succeeds, because it relieves this congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has such a wonderful record for quick, safe and lasting relief even in chronic and stubborn case, that Schramm-Johnson says try HEM-ROID at my expense. Your Pile suffering must end or money back. —Adv.

Radox Bring Foot Comfort To America

Nothing Like It Ever Sold by Druggists Before

Corns—Callouses—Burning Feet

Now you can buy Radox in America at any up to date drug store. Mateer's Drug Store is selling dozens of packages a day.

Three or 4 baths according to directions and your corns and callouses are gone, your tired, burning, aching feet are changed to strong vigorous ones and bear this in mind—

If Radox doesn't do as advertised—money back.

Getting a corn out needs only a few Radox footbaths. In the last few years millions of packets of Radox have been sold to corn sufferers. Here is a typical letter:—

"My wife had a very bad corn for several years on the ball of the foot, and four smaller ones on the toes, also hard skin which was very painful. After a few soakings in a Radox footbath the hard skin began to peel off, and the corns came right out after a week. It is a pleasure for her to walk now." E. S.

1st November, 1929.

Radox contains four different Salts. One banishes odor, one is antiseptic, one softens the water, and one releases oxygen which carries the softening salts right to the roots of corns which are thus loosened so that they can be lifted out bodily. Only Radox contains this fourfold combination. —Adv.

"My trip impressed me much with the place the southwestern part of the nation is taking in the progress of these United States. And California is the leader among this group of states. The next ten years will find that population, business and economic increase of this section, hurried in some parts by the Boulder dam will show the Great Southwest the home of America's greatest growth."

Vice President Talks

This was the text of a speech made to the summer session of the Southern District Executive Board of the State Federation by Miss Josephine Seaman, state vice president from La Jolla, at San Clemente yesterday afternoon as the feature of the two-day session of the organization. The morning session and part of the afternoon session was taken up with program work for the coming year. A dinner was held at A. Travaglini's cafe in the evening, after which the members sojourned to the golf club where a musical and social session was enjoyed with San Clemente women as hostesses.

Mrs. Marcus W. Robbins of San Diego, president of the southern district, presided. About 100 women from various Southern California counties attended the first day's session. It was announced that January 16 would be Federation Day and all clubs were urged to arrange appropriate programs for that day.

Mrs. H. Stroh, Los Angeles, state chairman of the program committee, will be today's principal speaker.

NIGHT LEAGUERS BEGIN TITLE DRIVE

Favor Macias Over Allen In Match Tonight

Nothing is more obnoxious to a newspaper reader than wading through a ream of red tape in hot weather.

Short, snappy stuff hits the spot when the thermometer gets up around 90.

Yet I am going to burden the clients with a lot of intricate stuff today.

In view of the uncertainty of fandom concerning the rules of the night baseball games they attend through the summer, I believe a recitation of the chief regulations is worth while—and timely, even if it is warm.

I have obtained these from the hustling, hard-working president of the National Night circuit—George Washington Peterkin.

For the most part, regular, hardball rules apply to the night game. Those which follow are some of the exceptions:

Base Runners: Must not leave base while pitcher is legally in box with ball, or after pitch until ball is hit or has passed batter. Penalty is automatically out.

If with less than two outs and with first and second, or first, second and third occupied, the force play occurs and fielding team successfully makes its play, only to find that umpire at previous base nullifies its work by declaring runner at some previous base out for leaving such base too soon, then the umpire shall consider it as a forced play and allow both outs.

Ground Rules: Umpire-in-chief shall write down ground rules as agreed on by two managers and have each manager sign them before game starts. If managers are unable to agree, umpire-in-chief will make ground rules:

Players' Conduct: Players who conduct themselves in a manner to discredit league must be put out of game. In out of the ordinary cases umpires must notify president.

Interference: Unless fielder is actually in act of catching ball on base line, runner is entitled to path. Umpire must use his judgment as to whether fielder was compelled to obstruct runner. The run-up is not to be confused with fielding.

Diamonds: Baselines are 45 feet. Pitching distance is 35 feet. Bases must be anchored and base lines, coaching lines and batters' box laid out.

Ball: 14-inch innerseam—8¾ to 9¼ ounces. Home team must furnish two new balls.

Bat: Any but of hardwood through that is not more than 2¾ inches in diameter, nor more than 34 inches in length is legal. Bats may be tapend for a distance of 10 inches from the end of the handle.

Pitcher's Box: To be level with diamond. On dirt or turf fields a shall have official baseball rubber.

Pitcher's Delivery: Shall be an underhand toss with arm held parallel to the body. Windup and delivery shall be a continuous motion with no snap or sidearm movement. Must have both feet on rubber during windup and may advance one step during delivery. Umpire shall call one ball on batter if pitcher makes illegal delivery. Pitcher not allowed to slide foot off rubber into hole during delivery.

Fouls: Balls hitting foul and rolling fair are foul balls. Home plate is fair territory. Balls striking overhead lights and bounding

MORENO PICKED OVER GABUCCO IN SEMI-FINAL

Rated as a sharpshooter with either hand as well as a strong, smart defensive fighter, Jack Allen, Cuban welterweight champion, is conceded a chance to whip the rough, tough and rugged but wide open "Wild Man" Macias at the Orange County Athletic club here tonight.

Macias, however, is as game as they make 'em and it calls for a pretty good fighter, probably a better one than Allen, to take his measure.

Scaling 150 pounds, the welterweights are scheduled to step 10 rounds, two more than many of the recent southside windups.

This will be the second Macias-Allen set-to. The first, waged July 1 at Las Vegas, Nev., terminated in a draw although ringsiders claimed six of the ten rounds for the Los Alamitos Mexican and said Macias got all the worst of the verdict.

First Match Was Warm

All seemed agreed that the match was one of the hottest in Las Vegas fistic history, however, and that Promoter Henry T. Foust was fortunate in signing the principals for a return engagement. Allen's invasion of Southern California made this possible.

The main event is well supported and the action epidemic should extend through most of the preliminaries. In fact, the ..semi-final between Tony Moreno of Placentia and Jess Gabucco, Hollywood Filipino, ough to steal the whole show.

Gabucco stopped Moreno in one round a year or so ago but the odds will be with Tony tonight. Gabucco has gone back in the past year whereas Moreno, a great prospect if properly handled, has improved amazingly. Moreno should win by a knockout, unless his timing is bad because of his extended absence from action.

Thomas vs. Koshell

Mickey Koshell and Mickey Thomas, welters, will do the six-round special. Thomas is a Seal Beach boy who has usually given a good account of himself here. Koshell is one of those fellows with all of the natural qualifications but little else. He frequently disappoints but looks better than the light-hitting Thomas at that.

Cliff Burrier, popular Santa Ana lightweight, is paired with Frankie Hirsch in one of the four-round spots. Cliff is tabbed to win by a knockout.

Promoter Foust introduced a couple of novice middleweights in the eye-opener. "Bud" Austin of Los Alamitos meets Ben Stinson of Placentia. There is no way of knowing which is the better.

Enchantress Is Honolulu Race Victor

HONOLULU, T. H., July 17.—The yacht Enchantress, owned by Morgan Adams, arrived here last night, winner of the trans-Pacific race from Los Angeles to Honolulu.

The trim vessel docked at 10:22 p. m. after a journey of 12 days, 12 hours and 52 minutes.

Originally picked by yachtsmen as the probable winner on account of its superior size, the Enchantress lived up to expectations by out-distancing its rivals from almost the start of the race.

The Contender, reported second in the long race, was not expected to arrive here until a later hour today.

YANKEE TENNIS TEAM OPPOSES ITALY FRIDAY

NEW YORK, July 17.—America's youthful Davis cup team prepared today to meet Italy in the 1930 inter-zone finals without the aid of three tennis' brilliant internationalists—William T. Tilden II, William Johnston and Francis T. Hunter—who played in major roles in the U. S. Davis cup record of the past decade.

Tilden, who teamed with Johnston to retain the international supremacy for seven years, will be present when the matches open tomorrow at Roland Garros stadium, Auteuil, France, but only in the role of coach and advisor. Hunter, veteran of three Davis cup campaigns, and Johnston have retired from international play.

With the famous triumvirate off the squad, America's hopes were centered on Wilmer Allison, John Van Ryn, George Lott and Johnny Doeg. Allison, Van Ryn and Lott saw action in the Davis cup challenge round last year and Lott played in the inter-zone competition in 1928, but Doeg will be making his first appearance in European Davis cup play.

The American team is regarded as an almost certain winner over Italy and the matches held interest chiefly as a test of the United States' prospects in the challenge round with France.

ALLISON, DE STEFANI TO CLASH IN OPENER

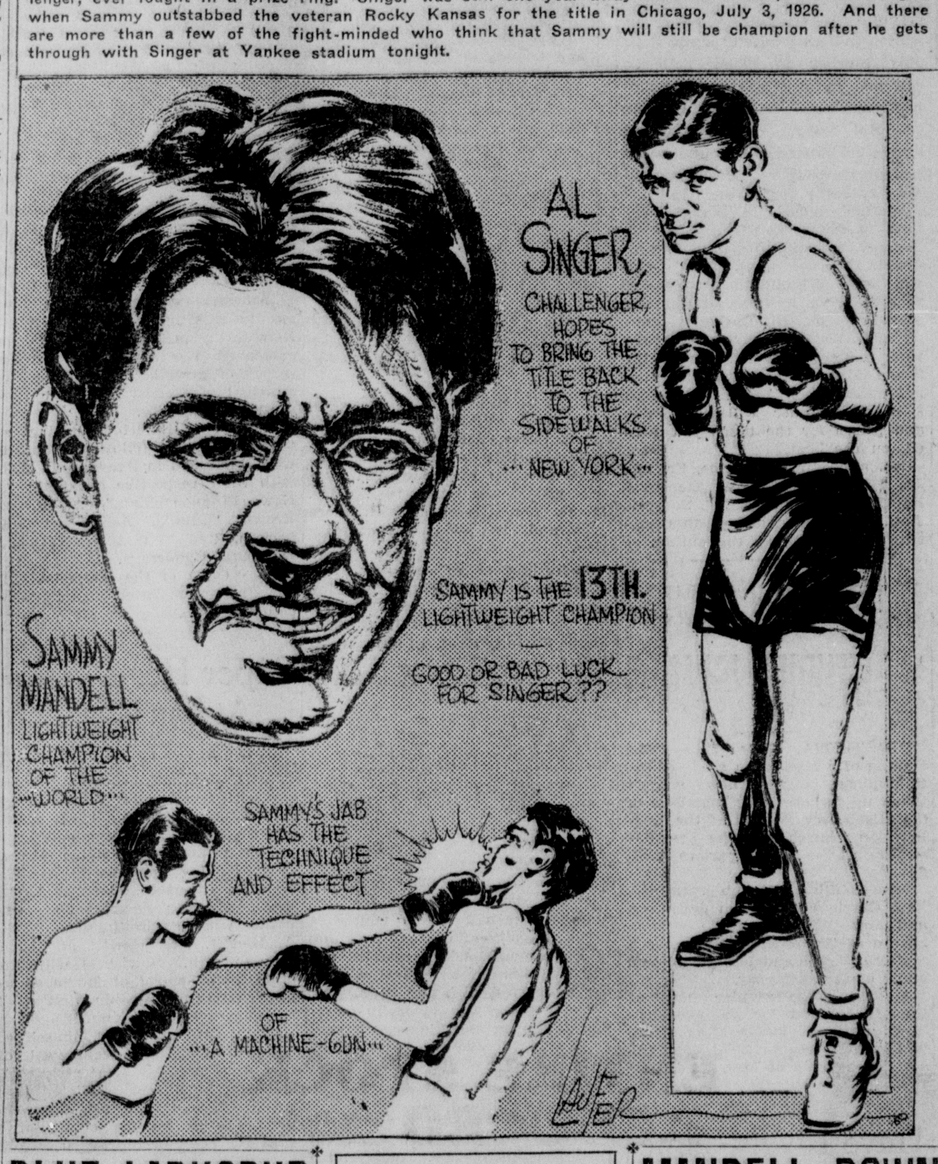

PARIS, July 17.—Singles drawings for the inter-zone Davis cup finals between the United States and Italy were held at noon today.

MANDELL PREPARED FOR DEFENSE OF TITLE

Old Man Samuel Ricardo Mandello was lightweight champion of the world before Al Singer, challenger, ever fought in a prize ring. Singer was still one year away from his first professional fight, when Sammy outstabbed the veteran Rocky Kansas for the title in Chicago, July 3, 1926. And there are more than a few of the fight-minded who think that Sammy will still be champion after he gets through with Singer at Yankee stadium tonight.

BLUE LARKSPUR PICKED TO WIN ARLINGTON CUP

CHICAGO, July 17.—Odds on Blue Larkspur to win the Arlington park $35,000 cup race Saturday lengthened today with the withdrawal of Gallant Fox, king of the 1930 three-year-olds, because of sulkiness.

Indications that Blue Larkspur, junior champion of last year, would be the favorite at post time were seen after the animal negotiated a mile-and-a-quarter trial heat in 2:05 3-5, faster than many races of that distance are run. Rumors also were heard that Misstep might be withdrawn.

Victory for Gallant Fox in the Arlington Cup race would have established him as a claimant to the all-age championship.

Gallant Fox has won nearly $300,000 this year and the $35,000 Arlington Cup purse would have made him the leading money winner of all time.

Jockey Earl Sande, who rode Gallant Fox to his major victories, including the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes, may ride Victorian, winner of the $10,000 Agua Caliente Handicap, in the cup race, it was reported today.

GALLANT FOX WILL RUN IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, July 17.—Gallant Fox will be shipped to England.

Immediately after the running of the Gold cup at Belmont park, the mighty son or Sir Gallahad-Marguerite will be placed aboard an Atlantic liner.

This is to allow the sensational performing colt to become fully acclimated before being asked to start on British soil.

Gallant Fox will race in as many stakes as he may prove eligible. The Ascot Gold cup is the main objective of his trip abroad.

Gallant Fox is to be raced a full season in England. Following this foreign campaign he will return to the United States for stud.

M'Larnin Refuses $20,000 for Bout

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Jimmy McLarnin wants nothing to do with any bouts offered him in Los Angeles, even if his exclusiveness costs him $20,000.

The fighter was on his way back to Vancouver today after rejecting a match with the winner of the Billy Townsend-Joey Medill rematch here Monday night.

Night Baseball Game Goes To 19 Innings

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 17.—(INS).—The Oklahoma City and St. Joe baseball teams of the Western league today held what is believed to be the record for long night baseball games.

The two clubs battled here last night for 19 innings before Oklahoma City pushed over the run which gave it a 4-3 win, neither team scored from the fourth to the nineteenth inning.

Jones of Oklahoma City and Tutweiler of St. Joe each pitched the entire route and each yielded nine hits.

PHYSICAL TEST TO DETERMINE ALEX'S FUTURE

DALLAS, Texas, July 17.—Grover Alexander, who for two decades has seen his name written high in the records of baseball, faced a possibility of permanent retirement today.

Bob Tarleton, vice-president of the Dallas Texas league club, announced "Alex" would be given a physical examination which would determine the pitcher's future with the club.

Meanwhile, Alexander is under suspension and waivers have been sent out. The waiver price is $1500 and no other club has indicated willingness to meet the price.

Tarleton said his decision was reached when Alexander failed to appear at the ball park Tuesday when he was scheduled to pitch. It was the second successive day Alexander did not show.

"Such action isn't fair to our patrons," Tarleton commented, in making the announcement.

Wykoff To Rest; Withdraws From Pittsburgh Meet

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Frank Wykoff, U. S. C. sprint king and holder of the world's 100-yard dash record, was definitely withdrawn today from the National A. A. U. championship meet at Pittsburgh next month.

The young speedster gave up plans to race Eddie Tolan, George Simpson and other stars at the Eastern meet on advice of his coach, Dean Cromwell, and his family physician.

MANDELL DOWN TO 134: FACES SINGER TONIGHT

NEW YORK, July 17.—Sammy Mandell weighed 134 1-2 pounds and Al Singer 133 1-2, when they were examined today for tonight's 15-round bout at Yankee stadium for the lightweight title.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 17.—Sammy Mandell, who started life with the mein and grace of a ballroom dancer and finished with the lightweight championship of the world, must dance as never before tonight or pay the piper's usurious toll.

He will meet Al Singer, brash with the confidence of the young, in a 15-round fight for the championship and those sparkling feet must match, with guile, the speed and daring and vigor of the other or they will halt abruptly to dance no more. The eyes is quicker than the hand but Mandell is gambling tonight, as always, that the feet are quicker than both and it is not to be said that the records play him false, yet, if the will of the majority is served, he will finish the evening bereft of the title that has been his for five years.

There is always an air of breathless drama about a fight in which the champion is expected to expire. It gets down into the corpuscles and makes the blood race. It lends the thing a fictive glory. It fools you and makes you like it very much. So upward of $175,000 will come through the gates tonight to see the new champion crowned. I think it very possible that it will stay to see the old champion win.

The boys have managed to become highly unimpressed with Mandell as he comes forward to make this, his second actual defense of the title. They don't like his legs. They say his 10 years in the ring number 2 too many.

The weight, they add, is getting him and, finally, that he never was a great fighter. As to that, if anyone will show me a great

Anapauma to Play Champs Here Sunday

D. Eyman Huff's crack Ana-Pauma Rancho baseball team will play a post-season game at the Orange County Fair grounds Sunday with Encinitas, champion of the Inter-County league, an organization comprising four clubs from Orange county and four from San Diego county.

Preceding the skirmish, a silver championship trophy will be awarded the Encinitas squad. There also will be a program of Spanish music, singing and dancing. Ceremonies will begin at 2 o'clock.

The Anapaumas have been playing high grade ball of late and are rated an even choice against the high-powered Southerners who barely nosed out the U. S. Marines of San Diego for first place in the league race.

PRINTERS PLAY BUILDERS FOR TITLE TONIGHT

A little thing like a championship will be the spoils over which the Dennis Printers and the Orange County Builders' exchange quarrel in the bowl tonight.

Meeting in the second half of a double-header, at 8:15, the Printers and Builders will decide the first half title of the Santa Ana City night baseball league—if the Printers win. If the Builders get the verdict, however, the teams will be tied and something or other will have to be done about it by the lunar loop's commission.

The first part of the twin bill pairs the Excelsior creamery and the Eastern Oil company at 6:45. They are playing the last game of the first week of the second half of the schedule.

Colors of the American Legion and the Richfield Oil company were raised after last night's double-header.

The Legionnaires routed the Courthouse, 14 to 7, while the Richfields were taming the Auto Club of Orange county, 4 to 2.

Both Earl Jones and Les Boyle were hit hard in the Legion-Courthouse affair, but the Legion made its blasts count for more than the Parliamentarians.

The other set-to was a mound duel between Ed Perry for the Clubmen and Fred Miller of the Richfields. Miller limited the Club to two hits.

JACKSON STOPS WRIGHT

FINAL QUARTER OF GREAT RACE OPENS FRIDAY

Ten National Night league baseball teams begin their stretch run tomorrow night. The championship will give itself up inside of the next month.

The fourth and final quarter of the greatest season in the history of after-dinner ball gets under way with games in Santa Ana, Anaheim, Whittier, Huntington Beach and Orange.

Olive, ever a stumbling block in the Stars' path, plays in the Santa Ana Bowl. The Packers hold two decisions over Herb Salveson's men already this summer.

As the "big shots" turn into the straightaway, Santa Ana holds what virtually amounts to a full two-game lead over its dangerous adversaries. Despite the transfer of one of its most brilliant players, Orville Schuchardt, to the fold of one of the Stars' warmest rivals, the Salveson entry looks strong enough to hold its lead to the wire.

Stars Have The Edge

Playing smart, inspired, de termined baseball, the Santa Anans won seven of their eight games since the second half of the split schedule began. They may not do as well through the fourth quarter but they have this advantage over the others—they don't have to in order to win. The pressure will be on the others more than the Stars. Anaheim, La Habra, Whittier and Long Beach simply can't afford to lose another game. Santa Ana can. That is why the Stars' chances look good.

Anaheim probably is in better shape than any of the other contenders.

George Pace has a fine pair of pitchers in All Bushman and Joe Ochoa, a very good defensive organization and a highly improved offense with Schuchardt and "Cy" Mann in the lineup.

After making a show of the field through the first half of the season, Whittier faltered badly. "String" McDonnell is not going as well as expected so Lloyd Johnson will have to bear the brunt of the pitching. The Quakers are absolutely out of the race if they lose another game and it is doubtful whether they can win nine in a row.

Acorns May Help S. A.

Long Beach is greatly improved but hardly strong enough to survive the strenuous two-a-week campaign. The Acorns will be troublesome, however, and by spilling some of the leaders are likely to make Santa Ana's lot easier. The Stars don't have to play them again until the last night of the season.

La Habra has the pitching and may slip through. Its chances appear to be better than any of the Stars' pursuers except Anaheim.

Garden Grove, a good hitting team, and Olive, always dangerous, will just be trouble-makers. They don't have much chance of getting the flag.

Huntington Beach has slumped along with Howard Morning. Orange and Fullerton have been disappointments.

July 18.—Olive at Santa Ana; Garden Grove at Anaheim; Fullerton at Whittier; Long Beach at Huntington Beach; La Habra at Orange.

July 22—Santa Ana at Fullerton; Anaheim at Olive; Orange at Garden Grove; Huntington Beach at La Habra; Whittier at La Habra.

July 25—Santa Ana at Anaheim; Garden Grove at Olive Long Beach at Fullerton; La Habra at Whittier; Huntington Beach at Orange.

July 29—Garden Grove at Santa Ana; Anaheim at Long Beach; Olive at Orange; Whittier at Huntington Beach; Fullerton at La Habra.

August 1—Santa Ana at Huntington Beach Long Beach at La Habra; Fullerton at Olive; Orange at Anaheim; Whittier at Garden Grove.

August 5—Santa Ana at Orange; Anaheim at Whittier; Garden Grove at Long Beach; Olive at La Habra; Huntington Beach at Fullerton.

August 8—La Habra at Santa Ana; Anaheim at Huntington Beach; Garden Grove at Fullerton; Olive at Whittier; Orange at Long Beach.

August 12—Whittier at Santa Ana; Fullerton at Orange; La Habra at Anaheim; Huntington Beach at Garden Grove; Long Beach at Olive.

August 15—Santa Ana at Long Beach; Orange at Whittier; Anaheim at Fullerton; Garden Grove at La Habra; Olive at Huntington Beach.

HOOKS and SLIDES

DOES A LOW BLOW HURT?

Interesting testimony comes from the Rhineland where the French army of occupation has just evacuated and Maxie Schmeling has moved in. Herr Doktors have examined the Hamburg Hammerer and discover he is suffering a varicocele as a result of that low blow of Sharkey's.

This comes on the heels of assertions by some of the country's most expert boxing writers to the effect that a low blow does not hurt a man and that he can go on with a bout after a short rest. And it is most interesting in view of he recent decision of the New York boxing commission to abolish the foul as a cause for stopping a fight.

IT HAD TO BE DONE

I do not believe the protector has been invented that absolutely protects a fighter from injury by a low blow. It is true, of course, that many boxers claim fouls who are not hurt at all. They leave the ring on their own power a few minutes after they claim foul. It was with the idea of protecting the public against this type of unsatisfactory carding to a bout that the commission legislated so sternly against all fouls. It was a long step but something had to be done.

In this regard I asked Paul Swiderski, the sad-eyed Pole of Syracuse, the other day if he had been struck low in many of his fights and how it felt. Paul is a light-heavyweight, but he has been battling heavies for some time and his rousing knock down and drag out at Louisville the night before the Kentucky Derby was a spectacle I'll never forget.

MICK HANDED HIM ONE

"Sure low blows hurt," said Paul, "and I still carry the effects of one that Mickey Walker handed me in Louisville.

"The fight, as you remember, was conducted without very many rules to speak of. Once the police were in the ring, once Kearns and Lenny (Harry Lenny, the Pole's manager) started trading socks right in the ring. Each of us bounced off the floor a number of times. I had Walker out on his feet early in the bout, and he was fighting in there by instinct most of the time.

"Well, just as the bell rang ending the third round, Mickey let a wild one go and it took me right in the groin. I went over on my face and felt very sick to my stomach, but they pulled me over to my corner and after they had spilled a little water on my head, I felt all right again.

CARRIES THE MARK

"But I'm still carrying the mark of that punch, and it was a pretty good stock, too, because Walker can jolt you when he lets one go. My injury and Schmeling's are about alike. But I don't think one low punch will stop a fighter, if he has the right kind of a protector. And the right kind of heart."

I think the Sad-Eyed Pole's last sentence speaks volumes. It was largely because boxers have shown consistently the wrong kind of hearts that the ruling against foul blows was enacted.

The heart, I think, is even more essential than the protecttor.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

When Washington held a joe Judge day recently in honor of the veteran's 15 years of service, Uncle Frank Navin of the Tigers and Foxy Clark Griffith of the Senators waived all intake at the gate over 9000 admissions in favor of Joe . . . The attendance was around 18,000 and Joe got a nice check for $7442.75 . . . which is better than flowers and speeches. . . . "Bucky" Harris, looking ahead, is giving Jimmy Shevlin, first baseman from Holy Cross, a taste of the big league sauce. . . . Gene DeSautels, the new Tiger catcher, also is a Holy Cross boy. "Muddy" Ruel says the kid will be a great catcher. . . . Roger Bresnehan, coach of the Tigers, has been giving Gene a few tricks he learned when he was catching Matty, Sallee, Marquard and a few of the other Giant hurlers. . . . Uncle Frank Navin seems to have the inside track at Holy Cross.

ghter today, I'll guarantee to show m an alligator with sunburn. Anyhow, they even have been ttling darkly about the fight elf, which only goes to show ow even a great mind will spoil it is left out in the sun too ng.

Mandell hasn't as much as a emish to show for his 10 years action. He is not the man to spattered all over the first ree rows by some humpty-umpty from Council Bluffs and, ough he has been hit by ex-rts, he has seldom forsaken the rpendicular. He has done 35 unds, for example, against Jimmy cLarnin in the last two years ithout being seriously inconveni-ced or abashed. McLarnin hit m, of course. So did Tommy Gro-n, Tony Canzoneri and Billy Pet-lle.

I think, in fact, that if there any significance to be taken om this, it is that he is being t with greater frequency as the ars go on. However, if Mandell ill was the man who defended e title here against McLarnin years ago, there wouldn't be argument and, after the sixth und, there probably wouldn't be ny fight. It is the fact that andell is presumed to have slip-ed that gives Singer his great hance tonight.

Otherwise, it seems reasonable to xpect that the champion, having ade weight only twice in five ars and being abstemious almost eyond reason, will come up to this ght with at least some of the eed and stamina that once were is. He also will summon the eat trinity that will be his al-ays—experience, smartness, brav-ry.

He can't be a bad bet, particu-rly as a short-money choice. aybe he has lost a split-second the speed in his head and eye nd hand. Maybe the weight, 135 ounds at 2 o'clock, will take more ut of him than he ever can put ack. Maybe he is just a fighter ho has held the title long enough. If so, it will need all of these hings to make Singer win. The tter is a good boxer and a fair uncher. He has made some good ights and some bad ones. His ands are fragile. He fights at his est against undersized men, of hich Mandell is not one. He robably is a year away, meaning hat his development is still to ome.

But he has youth and maybe ill will be enough. I, for one, am illing to be convinced.

BOUT BOARD UPHELD IN DENYING LICENSE

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—The state athletic commission's right to absolute discretion in issuing promoters' licenses was upheld in a decision on file today in Superior Judge Walter Guerin's court.

Fred Young jr., seeking a wrestling permit, testified the board denied it on the grounds that Lou Daro, another promoter, had lost money here in starting a wrestling arena and that he should be protected.

Young said he had $100,000 to start promoting and asked the court for a mandamus writ compelling the commission to act.

Judge Guerin ruled the state legislature gave the board full authority in permit matters and he had no right to interfere.

In the final singles matches Sunday, the pairings will be reversed, Lott playing De Stefani and Allison meeting Demorpurgo.

Drawings for the doubles match Saturday will be made 24 hours before the game.

WEST TO ENTER DOGS IN SANTA BARBARA SHOW

Four Scotch terriers from the Malibu kennels of Z. B. West, Orange county district attorney, will be entered in the dog show at Santa Barbara Saturday, it was learned today. West's dogs, which include some famous champions, are well known in kennels and have won numerous prizes at shows.

Entrants at the meet Saturday are "Heather Ambassador," a new dog the district attorney has just obtained, and which is one of the best bred dogs in America, the son of two English champions, and has been shown in just one other show in America, where he won the prize; "Lady Bug of the Malibu," winner at the Ambassador dog show held recently in Los Angeles; "Miracle of the Malibu," who placed second at the Ambassador show; and "Peterkin of the Malibu," who won the prize at the last Pasadena show.

The show is to be held on the pole field at Santa Barbara and is known as the Santa Barbara Kennel club show.

GUARD UNIT IS PREPARING FOR TRAINING CAMP

At its last session, the Santa Ana city council voted a donation of $200 to the mess fund of the local National Guard units, which will leave here Friday night for Camp San Luis Obispo, where they will enter upon a two week field training course.

Both Company L and Headquarters Company, 3rd Battalion, 185th Infantry, including a personnel of five officers and 81 men, will be tendered a farewell dinner just prior to their departure, by the American Legion Post No. 131. Among the units included in the Third Battalion are the headquarters and rifle companies, Santa Ana; rifle companies, Orange and Riverside; and the machine gun company, San Bernardino. The headquarters and machine gun companies are the most recently acquired units and this year marks their first time in camp. Families and friends are urged to partici pate in the official sendoff.

In Los Angeles the local companies will join with the other two battalions of the 185th infantry. Included in the entourage will be the first battalion, with headquarters company; machine gun company, Pasadena; and rifle company, Pomona, Mourania and Ontario.

The officer personnel of the three Santa Ana companies has changed since the last encampment. Major Donald L. Kinans, who last year commanded the rifle company, is now head of the battalion. Captain Chester J. Cain, prominent in American Legion circles, recently was appointed commandant of Company L. The headquarters company is under the command of First Lieut. James B. Pettit, who last year went to camp with Company L as second lieutenant. There are also numerous changes in the Orange units.

The donations being solicited for the mess fund have more than surpassed previous expectations. This assures the men of such delicacies as ice vcream, pie, candy, etc., not found in the usual government rations.

Smileys Return From South Fork

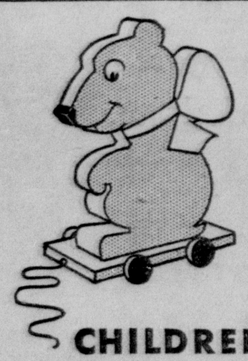

Returning yesterday from a brief vacation at their cabin at South Fork, in the San Bernardino mountains, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley today were making plans for attending a meeting of a special group of representatives of Farm bureaus to be held at Huntington Lake Friday and Saturday.

The conference is to be composed of executives and heads of departments of Farm bureaus and their wives. According to Smiley, discussion of the fundamentals of agriculture will feature the meeting.

Court Notes

Asking that a contract for purchase of property be rescinded, that the money paid be returned and deeds exchanged, Burton J. Merrill and Gladys H. Merrill have brought suit in superior court against Beulah W. Howland, et al. It is alleged that the house sold by the defendant to the plaintiffs, which is located in Fullerton, was in bad condition from dry rot at the time of the sale, whereas it was represented as being in good condition. The complaint asks judgment cancelling a note and trust deed in the amount of $2890; accounting by the defendant for money received as cash payment; and return of title to property in Massachusetts which was part of the transaction, as well as asking that the contract be rescinded.

Petition for probate of the will of Anna Lundin was filed yesterday with County Clerk J. M. Backs by Fred Backs. The value of the estate is set us as approximately $10,000.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H Fletcher's signature.

The Chance of a Lifetime to get plus value in Tires

The majority of people who read this advertisement are going to need tires this season; the time to buy them is right now.

Crude rubber is cheap; as a result tire prices are the lowest in history.

You can actually buy at this time the world's best tires for no more money than you used to pay for inferior or unknown tires.

You can buy Goodyear Tires on an extreme low-cost-mileage basis, and that is exactly what smart buyers are doing.

The special advantages to be enjoyed from Goodyear Tires are due to definite Goodyear superiorities in both tread and carcass, the two main parts of a tire.

The Goodyear All-Weather Tread is superior in traction, and everybody wants sure-footedness underwheel.

The Goodyear Supertwist Carcass is superior in vitality and long life, and this means economy and freedom from trouble.

These superiorities are not imaginary; they are real.

Any Goodyear Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the facts.

And the facts unmistakably are: Goodyear Tires do give greater value.

That's why impartial investigation shows a nation-wide preference two-and-a-half to thirty times as great for Goodyears as for any other tire.

That's why Goodyear builds annually millions more tires than any other manufacturer in the world.

That's why more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!

Now is the time to get YOURS

The dominance enjoyed by Goodyear Tires is not temporary or new—it has flourished for fifteen years strictly on a basis of superior quality.

If you want Goodyear value at bed-rock prices: now is the time to get yours!

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book, "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 170 Varick St., New York, N. Y.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875. —Adv.

STRUGGLES OF INDIA RELATED BY MISSIONARY

India is full of interest for the entire world in these days of progress and modernism. That she is struggling through a period of history living is evidenced daily in press reports from the Far East. Much of the information readers here receive is twisted and distorted, according to statements made today by Miss Doris I. Welles, prominent leader in the Calcutta Hindustani work.

Sent through the Methodist Episcopal church of Santa Ana, of which the Rev. George A. Warmer is pastor, Miss Welles is an active representative of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, Bengal conference, on the mission fields in India. After serving six years, the young Santa Ana woman returned to this city for a year's furlough and the inspiration of her work was felt here by all religious societies before which she lectured. She returned to the foreign field late last fall.

Despite the sensational exaggerations of certain journalistic reports, Miss Welles declares in a letter that all over that land business is becoming more or less paralyzed. Picketting, boycott, civil disobedience, strikes, unrest of all kinds and discontent with the present order of things, are among the problems enumerated by the missionary that must be faced in the commercial and industrial world there. Difficulties are caused largely by lack of unity between the Hindus and Mohammedans, between high castes and low castes.

"How can a country so torn asunder within herself rule herself if she should get 'swaraj'?"

This question is asked and answered by the missionary, who asserts that there is no such thing as non-violent disobedience to the law of the land. Whereas Ghandi makes much of this, Miss Welles insists it is only anarchy by another name. "And if the youth and children are taught this sort of thing while they are growing up India will find herself in a sad way to rule herself when she gets the chance. Her leaders have been sowing the wind and they cannot escape reaping the whirlwind,

RULING OPENS WAY FOR PARK PROJECT HERE

The supreme court decision returned yesterday opens the way for the state park program that has been inaugurated and removes legal barriers that were delaying progress in connection with the purchase and creation of a state park on the beach in Orange county. The question of whether or not a county could purchase land and transfer it to the state had been brought up in Los Angeles county and the matter was taken to the supreme court for a ruling.

The court ruling yesterday declared that there was both statutory and constitutional sanction for a transfer of the county owned land to the state for public park purposes, as provided in the state park bond act under which the proceedings are being had.

The special appraisal committee, appointed some time ago by the board of supervisors to place a valuation on the land along the beach between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach, which is the proposed state park site in Orange county, held its final meeting yesterday at the court house and agreed on a figure that would be reported to the board of supervisors. The report was filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs, who is clerk of the board, and it is anticipated will be opened at the next session of the board.

No figure would be mentioned by members of the appraisal committee in advance of the report being opened by the supervisors, but indications were that a much lower price had been set on the tract than originally mentioned when the matter was brought before the attention of the supervisors this spring by a group interested in the project, which was headed by Tom Talbert, former chairman of the board of supervisors.

At the meeting of the committee yesterday, a representative of the appraisal committee which has been retained by the state park board to set a value on the tract, was present and an effort, it is understood, was made to agree on a price that could be recommended to both bodies. There is a possibility that there may be a slight variation in these figures when they are announced, however.

The tract under consideration is approximately 10 miles in length and includes some exceptionally fine beach frontage. The site is regarded as being ideal for a state park, with transportation facilities being provided by the state highway and the Pacific Electric line. It has been reported previously that the state would spend large sums in putting the tract into shape and in maintaining it as a park.

It has been proposed that a bond election be held to provide funds for the county's share of the purchase price, the state and county paying for the tract on a 50-50 basis. Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, stated today that the board probably would open the report Tuesday, but that he had no idea what action would be taken or what the attitude of the board was on the matter. In commenting on the possibility of a bond election in connection with the project Chairman Smith said that the move would have to come from the people of the county.

SOVIET 'YOUTH' ORDER NOT PRESENT IN ORANGE COUNTY

Check up with leaders in work among the youth of Santa Ana and Orange county, following the announcement yesterday that the movement known as "Pioneers of America," which has been organized widely throughout the east, is connected with the Soviet government in Russia, revealed that the organization is not found here, although there is reported to be a branch in Los Angeles.

The organization, ostensibly a patriotic order organized along lines similar to scouting, really is an under cover activity of agents from Russia and is attempting to subvert the principles of American government through training of youth by the Soviet leaders. Discovery of its ramifications and connection with Russia was announced in New York yesterday.

County Boy Scout headquarters and Y. M. C. A. officials, who are closely in touch with organizations among the young people of Santa Ana and Orange county, reported that the "pioneers of America" has not invaded the county.

BOYS SEEK ENDURANCE FAME ON WATER WINGS, FLAG POLES AND TEETER TOTTERS TODAY

BY UNITED PRESS

The nation's youth has gone marathon crazy.

Boys and girls today sat in trees, atop flag-poles and light standards, teeter-tottered toward doubtful fame, pedaled bicycles in seemingly endless circles, danced far past the exhaustion point and to cap the climax the juvenile population of Huntington, W. Va., planned an endurance water-wing contest.

The craze started a week ago today in Racine, Wis., when the "pioneer" tree-sitter, Jimmie Clemmons, mounted a bough and announced he would sit there indefinitely. He lasted 36 hours but his example has spread the length and breadth of the land until almost every city has its quota of "air minded" youth.

Not to be outdone by the tree sitters, the bicycle riders pedaled into action, four youths announced a backwards automobile trip across the continent, Chicago dance marathoners passed the 2,000-hour mark, flag-pole sitters, their fame challenged, extended their hours and two girls see-sawed in Evansville, Ill., to a world's record, if there is any such thing.

The title of "World's premier tree sitter" rested today with 10-year-old Billy Kearney, of Kansas City, but his fame was threatened in a dozen cities. Only last night the "champion tree sitter," Jack Richards of Kansas City, decided his record was unbeatable and made a "three point landing." His honor was fleeting, however, for Billy remained aloft and soon passed the 156 hours Jack had set.

In El Paso, Tex., Dorothy Dykes, 9, climbed into a tree early yesterday to show that "women are just as good as men are." Dorothy, who wants to be an actress when she grows up, is still sitting, surrounded by many lesser satelites, in the same position.

Other forms of marathons have a vogue too, as five people, if they still can talk, in Chicago will testify. The five, lone survivors of a dancing contest, have worn out many orchestras in 2,300 hours of "dancing" and are still going.

A see-saw contest among children in Evanston, Ill., that had progressed for many long hours, was stopped when anxious mothers missed hungry children for dinner.

In Chicago Frank Ward, 19, climbed a telephone post and announced to the world he was staying there until he got a job. No employment has been offered yet during Frank's first day of "work."

Fourteen year old Nick Getty resumed his tree sitting today—without a hitch—in a tree transplanted to his own backyard in Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Nick went up at 4:12 p. m. Monday in a tree that starts in the backyard of Vincent Cherry's home. The branches on which Nick sat, extends over the Getty backyard. Cherry is ill. Mrs. Cherry threatened to have Nick evicted because of the noise of the refueling crew.

Thirty friends went to the woods today, chopped down a tree, and Nick transferred to the chopped tree. The friends carried it several hundred feet away to a tree that would not infringe on the property rights of the Cherry family.

Ralph D'Agostino, who slid from his perch in his backyard at Brockton, Mass., last night, claimed the title of world's champion flagpole sitter today with a record of 819 1-2 hours. It was "something for shipwreck Kelly to shoot at." D'Agostino, who said he could have remained up "indefinitely," will go aloft again if Kelly beats his mark. It represents 34 days and 3 1-2 hours.

Alvin "Shipwreck" Kelly, pioneer in the flagpole sitting ranks, began his 26th day before large crowds peering upward from the board walk at Atlantic City, N. J., and said he anticipated no trouble recapturing his championship title from Ralph D'Agostino of Brockton, Mass.

Bicycle endurance contests went ahead relentlessly in Newark, New Brunswick, Jersey City and Hackensack, with riders from the latter city in the lead.

Although Jimmy Dooley, head of the Hackensack team, was hit by an enemy baseball, he managed to keep his mount in progress until relieved. The Jersey City aggregation plans to keep going until September if their machines last that long.

Disgruntled Joseph Donnelly, 15, held a three-hour local record for tree sitting endurance at Stamford, Conn., and pondered on the "unreasonableness" of the law which barred him from the fame of the Hunters and the Shipwreck Kelleys.

Cheered by several enthusiastic fellow sophomores of Stamford high school, Joe ascended a tall maple tree yesterday, bent on achieving a tree sitting record comparable to those established by midwestern youngsters. Well into his third hour, however, he was ordered down by police with his only claim to fame—"Stamford champion."

Lured by offers of free food and subsidies of money, many youthful aspirants for tree-setting honors wandered about Camden, N. J., looking for strategic trees.

One boy started the parade when he selected a perch in front of a meat store. The proprietor offered him 25 cents a day for the first four days of his "sit" and a dollar a day thereafter.

Two other boys, hearing about this, contracted with the proprietor of a grocery store to supply them with 25 cents a day and all the food they can eat for sitting in a tree in his backyard.

Meanwhile, Vincent Morrisey, 13, and Anthony Scott, 14, the pioneer record sitters, completed 63 hours at 10 a. m. today. They were reported to have made seven dollars so far, selling newspapers.

FINALS STAGED IN HORSESHOE CONTEST HERE

The horseshoe season on the playgrounds was finished yesterday afternoon, as far as the junior high school boys are concerned, when the champions of the various playgrounds met at Edison playground for the city finals.

In the singles division, Joe Koral, of Edison playground, won the city championship. Other playgrounds finished in the following order: Roderick Dresser, Lincoln, second; Bruce Harnois, Roosevelt, third; Richard Clem, Franklin, fourth, and Dave Strying, Lathrop, fifth.

In the doubles contest Robert Schwarm and Alvin Cass, representing Lincoln playground, won the city championship. Lowell playground was second, represented by Jack Conner and Ralph Lambert. John Birt and Felix Duenas, from Edison, came in third. Fourth place was taken by Harris Warne and Dale Smith for Roosevelt playground. Lathrop playgrounds champions, Elton Broakes and Gene Miller, ended in fifth place, and Lawrence Velarde and Walter Hendrie, who held the championship at Franklin playground, came in sixth in the city contest.

This afternoon the champions at the various playgrounds in the elementary division met at Lathrop playground to determine the best horseshoe pitcher in this class for the city. Results of this tournament will be announced tomorrow.

Twenty-six states and three provinces of Canada were covered on a 9000-mile trip just completed by Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Calhoun, 3105 West Fifth street.. Plenty of mountain trout were found in Canadian streams, they reported.

The travelers went to their old home in Boston, Mass., and through Maine into Canada. They marveled at the beauty of the scenery on St. John river, the St. Lawrence river and the Great Lakes on their vacation trip.

FORMER RESIDENT OF CITY PASSES

Word has been received here of the death of Henry P. Weick, 44, well known in railroad circles, who died suddenly at 2 a. m. Sunday at his home in Yermo. Funeral services were held yesterday at San Bernardino.

Weick was a former resident of Santa Ana, living here as a boy more than 23 years ago. He had many friends in this vicinity and made frequent visits here. He was employed by the Union Pacific railroad as a car inspector at Yermo and it was after returning home from work Sunday that he became ill and passed away. Death was attributed to a hemorrhage of the brain.

Weick is survived by his widow Mrs. Velma Weick; one son, Patrick; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Weick, of San Bernardino; two sisters, Mrs. May Bellamy, San Bernardino, and Mrs. R. E. Stone, Tustin; four brothers, Ernest and Louis Weick, San Bernardino, William Weick, Rialto, and Bert Weick, of Olinda.

The Stage Coach Breaks a Record

Twenty days across the continent! In October, 1858, in the midst of the wildest excitement, the first mail was brought into Los Angeles by the Butterfield Overland Coach. The successful arrival of this coach in the west called forth a telegram of congratulation from President Buchanan. From then on, service was improved, until but an average of 18 days was needed to travel from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts by stage coach.

Sketched from a photograph of one of Rio Grande's "cracking" units.

YES—IT "CRACKS" ...LITERALLY

Rio Grande overlooks no opportunity to employ the most modern refinery processes to insure maximum and consistent quality in its trademarked products. The most up-to-the-minute Rio Grande equipment is the "cracking" process, utilizing intense heat and pressure to tear asunder the molecules of crude oil that form a gasoline high in anti-knock quality.

No ordinary pieces of machinery are these monstrous steel giants, which through delicate instruments maintain even quality in their output. The control room, deep in the heart of this giant and hundreds of feet from the "cracking" towers, guards the exacting specifications that mean motoring satisfaction to you. Thus, Rio Grande can truthfully be said to be—"Tuned to Modern Motors."

Young Couple Were Honored at Jolly League Party

Bidden to a treasure hunt Friday evening, as members of the Young People's League of the First Congregational church, Miss Dorothy Haynes and Norman Hicks, whose marriage is to be an August event, little suspected that they were the incentives for the gala affair. Nor was it disclosed to them until the merry guests, about 30 in all, were completing their round of various homes where they were served courses of their progressive supper, and were established in the Frederick Eley home on West Fifth street for the dessert course of ice cream and cake.

The jolly party gathered first at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivon MacFarlane, on East Walnut street, where a mysterious map with hidden clews, led to the home of Misses Carol and Geraldine Smith, 437 South Broadway. There the fruit cocktail course of the evening meal was served, buffet style. Journeying on to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Russick, on South Flower street, the league members were surprised to find a single cracker apiece awaiting each of them. With their appetites now fully in readiness for a complete meal, they journeyed to the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Friend at Costa Mesa, where they enjoyed the main course of the supper. It was during their next stop at the Frederick Eley home that the coung couple were surprised, and Miss Haynes and Norman Hicks were presented a code, a map and a key, leading to the hiding place which was sheltering a handsome electric clock for their future home. This was the gift of the league. Both Miss Haynes and Mr. Hicks have been active members of the organization, Miss Haynes having been their president the past year.

Santa Anans Will Leave For Tour

The quest for knowledge leads to many things, and often to the most pleasant of life's holdings. And when Miss Helen Woodward, of the County Public Health bureau begins her course at Columbia university in the fall, she will have most delightful memories of the trip to her destination. The latter part of this month she will begin her journey, and will be accompanied by Mrs. E. F. Museus, of 610 East Walnut street.

Miss Woodward and Mrs. Museus will leave here by train, and will visit Washington, D. C., St. Paul, Minn., New Bruswick, and Boston, Mass. From there they will continue their outing by boat, stopping at St. Johns. Miss Woodward will study at Columbia university for one year, and Mrs. Museus will return here in about two months.

Bridge Group Meets For Enjoyable Afternoon

Carrying out the informality which is especially delightful during the summer months, Mrs. S. E. Blancher entertained members of a little bridge club yesterday afternoon in her home at 327 East Washington avenue. Sheafs of gladioluses in a variety of pastel tones lent attractiveness to the setting.

When the results of the afternoon's card games were noted, Mrs. J. F. Richards, the guest of the day, was presented with a lovely etched plate of the frosted ware now so popular, as the award for holding high score, and Mrs. R. M. Silkwood was consoled with a daintily embroidered towel. Refreshments were served in the afternoon.

Those present other than the hostess, Mrs. Blancher, and one guest, Mrs. J. F. Richards, were Mesdames C. O. Romsdal, George Mills, F. A. Hall, C. E. Jasper, R. M. Silkwood, and Miss Eleanor Guyer.

In line with the informality of all summer affairs, Royal Neighbors will give their attention to a mid-summer picnic, according to plans discussed at a meeting of representatives of the six county lodges, held Tuesday afternoon in the Dunlap home, 2143 North Main street.

These six lodges include those of Laguna Beach, Orange, Fullerton, Anaheim, Huntington Beach and Santa Ana, and they will join in an Orange county picnic to be held in August in Irvine park, according to plans made by the lodge representatives. In line with the picnic plans of the county lodges, will be a more ambitious picnic in which all Southern California Royal Neighbors will join, and plans for which will be completed in Los Angeles tonight. Mrs. Dunlap and Miss Irene Johnson will attend this meeting.

Ebell Day Nursery Needs Refrigerator

According to a report given out by Mrs. C. A. Bach, president of the Day Nursery board of Ebell society, the Day Nursery is in much need of an ice box, especially now during the summer months, as the ice box now in their possession is not efficient. Anyone, who has a refrigerator not in use, and who is willing to donate it, is asked to phone Mrs. Bach at 2815-W.

Today there were 21 children in the nursery, which is sponsored entirely by the Ebell club members. For the past three years, the nursery has been self supporting, with funds made from the serving of dinners, bazaars, and other means, and has not even had to draw from the treasury of the general board.

Guests Enjoy Musical Program at Tea In Spencer Home

A cool and delightful haven was offered yesterday to members and friends of Torosa Rebekah lodge, in the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer on North Park boulevard, where Miss Muriel Kuhl, new head of Torosa Rebekahs, entertained at a tea musicale as a benefit for the chapter.

Quantities of flowers, culled from the lovely gardens of the home, were used in decoration, the blossoms and their foliage stressing the Rebekah colors of pink and green. Especially attractive were the dining room appointments, where Mrs. William Kesemann and Mrs. Edna Kinsella presided at the tea table. The table was spread with a priceless lace cloth laid over a pink foundation cloth, and centered with delicate pink flowers flanked by slender green tapers. Refreshments carried the color theme as well, including tempting little pink and green mints with the ices and refreshing tea.

Musical numbers included violin and piano selections by the popular young Mustol sisters, the Misses Nathalie and Evelyn, violins, and Virginia, piano. Their program included the Sextet from "Lucia di Lammarmoor," Schuber's "Serenade," and "Serenade in A Major." The Misses Betty Ellen Mitchell, Helen Newbold, Gwendolyn Griffin and Lois Newbold, pupils of Miss Gertrude Stebbins of the Santa Ana School of Dance and Expression, added entertaining readings to the pleasant afternoon.

Bridge Club Members Join in Shower for Recent Bride

Although all the meetings of an informal little bridge club of which Miss Mary Hilyard is a member, are especially enjoyable, that at which Miss Hilyard herself presided last night in her home at 1328 Durant street had spesial features that set it apart from other meetings of the summer.

These delightful features all had as their center of interest, the club bride, Mrs. Joseph Catherina, who prior to her early July marriage in Yuma, was Miss Myrtle Meyer. The first hint that Mrs. Catherina received of the special courtesies to be extended her, came when prizes were distributed at the close of the evening's game. Miss Lula Ott received first prize and Mrs. James W. Murray, consolation. Then the hostess announced that there was a special prize which Mrs. Catherina had won, and presented her with an assortment of kitchen utensils, all in the blue tones she has chosen for her home. These were gifts from the hostess and individual members, and Mrs. Catherina thoroughly enjoyed opening the attractively wrapped and tied packages.

When Miss Hilyard called her guests to the dining room for the late supper hour, the bride again found herself the center of interest, for everything on the table suggested romance. A cunning wee bride and groom centered the shining damask, while slender pink candles flickered at each corner of the table. The pink and white motif was stressed in the rosebud-decked nut cups and in the dainty refreshment course served.

As the final surprise event of the evening, Mrs. Catherina was presented with the gift of the bridge club as a whole, the plates and sherbet cups in etched topaz to add to the crystal set which she is assembling.

Sharing the enjoyable affair with hostess and honoree, Miss Hilyard and Mrs. Catherina, were Mrs. James Murray, Miss Justine Whitney, Miss Helen Gallagher, Miss Elizabeth Perkins, Miss Elizabeth Campbell, Miss Lula Ott, Miss Harriet Whidden, Mrs. Emma Van Deusen and Mrs. . E. Mayhill. Only one member of the club was absent, Miss Lorraine French, who is enjoying an Alaskan tour.

Autumn Style Trend Is Shown at Review

While just at present, Santa Ana women, like their sisters throughout the Southland, find that their chief interest in dress lies in selecting the coolest possible garments for informal beach and mountain wear, yet the feminine mind persists in turning questioningly to what is promised for more formal autumn and winter wear.

Therefore the New York style show just presented by the Garment Retailers of America, will be of interest to woman readers of the Register and will give them an idea of what may be expected in the style trend of the coming season.

The feminine knee, for instance, has been an object of lively interest to fashion arbiters. And according to this style show held in the eastern metropolis, it will remain modestly covered—at least until spring. While all skirt lengths will cover the knee, it was indicated that dresses for sports wear would clear the floor by a good 14 inches. Other hemlines, however, will vary to the ankle or lower for extremely formal wear.

The October bride, according to the styles shown by graceful models, will hark back to the "gay nineties" to borrow several ideas from mother's wedding gown. She will wear a full-blown bouffant costume in satin embroidered in pearls.

The Grecian influence will dominate the new dress silhouette, although the more lively Russian aspect will also be prominent. The natural waistline will be observed, more clearly defined by belts or pinched-in effects. Coats will have the bloused effect and both coats and dresses will be cut close to the hips.

That once simple garment, the pajama appear in all the glory of 1930 dress-making at the show in a wine-colored creation of transparent velvet, with a train. Styles varied widely.

The latest garb for the aviatrix was revealed as white gaberdine, with belt, ankle and wrist band of galons elastiques.

Four new words were added to the color vocabulary. They were "Love Pink," "L'Inossance," "Minuet" and 'Vert Deau."

Other fashion trends were indicated as follows:

Black and white will be particularly prominent. Other leading colors will include copper, wine red, dark green, brown and bisque tan. Blues, pinks and off-whites will predominate in evening gowns. Metallic cloths will feature formal afternoon and evening wear, as well as Lyons and transparent velvets. Cloth dresses will be fashioned from lacy tweeds and wool crepes.

Ermine and sable will be the choice for evening wraps and red fox, fitch, galapin, Persian lamb, mink and natural lynx for other garments.

Dresses will depend for embellishment chiefly on fringes, embroideries, belts, and in formal evening attire, rhinestones.

Miss Joplin Presents Informal Luncheon In "Our Village"

In keeping with the gay informality of summer entertaining, was the swimming and luncheon with which Miss Boyd Joplin yesterday complimented Miss Mary Parker of Los Angeles, who, like Miss Joplin, is vacationing at Laguna Beach.

Miss Joplin's friends spent the morning hours on the beach and in the surf, and at mid-day, she assembled them in the Mad Hatter, attractive little modernistic cafe reminiscent of Alice in Wonderland. Its gay orange and green appointments — orange marigolds and linens and pale green table service—were most inviting, and the luncheon menu was an enjoyable one.

Asked to share the pleasant affair with Miss Joplin and Miss Parker, were the former's mother and sister, Mrs. Marjorie Joplin and Miss Rebecca Joplin, Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson and her sister, Miss Juanita Snyder, who are among the summer residents of Our Village; Miss Kate Benton of La Crescenta, Mrs. Frank Hess of Los Angeles; Mrs. Edmund West, Mrs. Russell Wilson and Miss Enid Twist of this city.

Surprise Shower Was Feature of Party

Mrs. A. K. Chamberlain of West Walnut street was the incentive for a surprise shower, yesterday afternoon, when members of a little club who met in her home for a few hours of bridge took the opportunity to present her with a number of delightful gifts.

When the scores had been added it was found that Mrs. Earl Leper held high, and was awarded a lovely bath towel, while Mrs. J. E. Echols was consoled with an ice box dish. During the refreshment hour, the card table covers were removed, and in their place the hostess spread green cloths which added their cooling note to the atmosphere.

A special guest of the day was Mrs. J. E. Echols. Members present other than the hostess, Mrs. Chamberlain, were Mesdames J. F. Jacoby, M. V. Enos, J. P. Cozard, J. A. Wright, L. F. Bittle, A. B. Tayes, E R. Leper, L. White and M. E. McKay.

Santa Anans Enjoy Travels In Orient

Among Santa Anans to whom the lure of far places was quite irresistible this summer, were Mr. and Mrs. John A. Swanner of 201 East Sixteenth street, and their many friends have been interested in lively accounts of their wanderings through the Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanner sailed in the early summer on the Dollar liner, the President Lincoln, stopping at Honolulu, Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai and Hongkong, reaching Manila in June. Latest word from the travelers was from Manila, and they were starting back to Japan where they were to spend a week or two in sight-seeing.

According to their travel itinerary they were to sail from Japan on July 8 for Hawaii where they would spend two weeks or more and will reach home on August 10. Both Mr. and Mrs. Swanner were enthusiastic in their praise of the courtesies extended them on the trip, and the service accorded by the steamship company.

A quality you would want if you knew all of the facts

fact no. 15

Coffee flavor is the most sensitive thing that enters your kitchen — easy to go wrong. Try to make cheap coffee and good coffee on successive mornings — week after week. How good will your good coffee be? And it is far more difficult in blending and roasting coffee. There is only one place where only good coffee is made—the Schilling roasting rooms. No cheap blends — no 2nd or 3rd grades are ever found there. The finest things usually come from those who make fine things only.

Curtains For Nothing

This week, tiring of the stodgy curtains in my study, I decided to splurge on some new ones, but on counting the cost my one-tenth of one per cent canny Scotch blood counseled holding off on spending money just for a whim. On the other hand, my overwhelming artistic Irish side sat up and loudly demanded NEW CURTAINS, and hang the expense! So-o-o-o, to satisfy both sides of me, I compromised by using some theatrical gauze in natural shade which had seen much duty and needed cleaning.

I put it through a bath, tinted it a lovely shade of apricot yellow with soap dyes, dug up some chintz on which colorful bouquets ran riot, and with my trusty scissors I cut out the bouquets and posed them on the bottoms of the curtains, building one long spray up into a spike three feet tall, with lesser ones at the sides. These bouquets I glued onto the gauze (you see, I do not expect this job to last forever and glue is cheap if they come off).

The curtains are full length in case you want to know, so the flowers just peep over the window sill very coyly. Oh yes, when I washed the curtains, the hemmed edges didn't iron out too well, so I just ripped them out, pressed in a narrow edge and blanket stitched it with apple green wool, and they are lovely, if I did make them for nothing—maybe that's why I like them so well—that drop of Scotch blood will have its way at all costs!

TODAY'S RECIPE

Ginger Bread Sandwiches

1-2 cup sugar
1-2 cup butter
1 teaspoon each ginger and cinnamon
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 cup black molasses
1 1-2 teaspoons soda dissolved in 1 cup boiling water
2 1-4 cups sifted pastry flour
2 eggs, well beaten

Filling For Sandwiches

1 cream cheese mashed with mayonnaise to soft paste
1-4 cup chopped pecans

Cream, butter and sugar, add spices and salt, then molasses, and alternately the hot soda water and flour, whipped to a smooth batter. The well beaten eggs are added last and well whipped in; the cake is baked in a loaf cake tin in a medium slow oven.

It is not used until cold enough to slice if sliced the long way and again built up, but can be used immediately, and hot, if cut across the grain in thin slices and the slices put together as sandwiches with a filling of the cheese and nut mixture.

Served with a fruit salad, nothing is better for the dessert-salad course for a Sunday night supper or for an informal evening occasion, when you want something good to eat and not too hard to cook.

One of the smaller sandwiches has a calory value of close to 200 energy making units.

Ann's Cook Book, Leaflet V, Vegetables, is offered for the current leaflet. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for this fine collection of vegetable recipes and add them to the cook book I hope you are making.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyon Are Made Honor Guests At Dinner Dance

Cooled by its effortless sweep across untold miles of the blue Pacific, last night's ocean breeze made the Virginia hotel, Long Beach, a cool and delightful setting for the formal dinner dance with which Mr. and Mrs. Theo A. Wingibler, 207 East Main street, welcomed the return of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyon from their honeymoon wanderings through Canada and the north.

Rainbow colorings were chosen by the hostess for her dinner appointments, and the one long table reserved for the party, offered a charming study in delicate-hued with these in two large baskets with their orchid, yellow, pink and pale blue petals, and coquetting with those in two large beskets at either end of the linen draped table. Candelabra filled with tapers in complementary hues and sparkling colored crystal added to the attractive scene, and the filmy chiffons and soft silks of the dinner gowns worn by women of the party, added the final fairy touch touch of beauty.

Mrs. Winbigler greeted her guests in a formal dinner gown of pale yellow satin crepe, while Mrs. Lyon's poise and beauty were emphasized by her costume of chiffon in varied hues in harmony with the priceless amber beads which Mr. Lyon had so recently brought from the Orient. Mrs. Lyon was formerly Mrs. Grace Zaiser of this city.

A unique feature of the dinner hour was the harp-violin program, for the musicians had learned in some manner, that the dinner was complimenting a recent bride and groom, so played a varied selection of exquisite love songs and bridal airs, including Lohengrin's Wedding March as members of the party sought the ballroom.

Asked to enjoy the hospitality for which Mr. and Mrs. Winbigler are famed, and greet Mr. and Mrs. Lyon, whose wedding was a quiet event of June 3, were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Leibig, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Yarnell, Mr. and Mrs. Z. Bertrand West, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Metzgar, Mr. and Mrs. George Guenther, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hatzfeld, Lieut.-Com. and Mrs. Irwin F. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Zaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Winbigler, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Morris, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul, Mrs. Frances Scott, Mrs. J. B. Roberts, and Messrs. George Shattuck, Donald Zaiser and Leonard Baker.

C. E. Members Enjoy Supper on Beach

Members of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church, held an enjoyable beach party and supper on the sands of Corona del Mar Tuesday evening, when they sought relief from the heat of the day in the foamy ocean breakers. The earlier part of the evening was spent in swimming, followed by a delicious picnic supper, which was welcomed with great enthusiasm by hearty appetites. A feature of the supper were the kabobs, a unique method of broiling meat on sticks., and a specialty of George Walker. The repast was concluded with slices of watermelon.

Following the supper hour, singing and games occupied the evening, while several merrymakers returned to the ocean for a swim. The affair was declared a huge success, with 48 present

Committees were in charge of Miss Jean Nicholson, general chairman, while transportation was in charge of Miss Betty Hawk and Ray Archer, and supper in charge of George Walker, boy scout executive. Forest Home Dwellers Return to City

Temporarily forsaking the joys of summer life in the mountains, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gowen yesterday returned to their home at 928 Spurgeon street, after an extended stay in their delightful cabin at Forest Home.

During the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Gowen had the pleasure of entertaining two interesting guests from Seattle, Miss Lillie Johnson and Miss Minnie Johnson, who are teachers in the Seattle schools and now enjoying a vacation tour of the Southland. The two travelers have started on their return journey northward, and are now at Santa Barbara. They were old friends of Mrs. Gowen in Illinois, where all three were teachers together. Although bearing the same surname and making their home together, the visitors are no blood relation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gowen will remain in Santa Ana for a week or two before returning to Forest Home, where they had the unique pleasure of a heavy rainfall on Monday afternoon. While they are down this time, they have placed their cabin at the disposal of Mrs. daughter, Mrs. Elsie Spruance and William E. Otis, who, with her little Miss Eloise Spruance, and the latter's young friend, Norma Jean Daly, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Wingood Daley, will enjoy a week's stay among the pines.

Native Daughters

That the installation of officers for Native Daughters of the West, who were elected at the first of the June meetings, is to be an event of Monday evening, July 28, at 8:30 o'clock in the Knights of Columbus hall, with a cordial invitation extended to the public to attend, was the decision made at the meeting of the parlor Monday evening. The regular business matters were concluded and then several other matters were brought up for consideration.

Among other decisions made, which was an exceptionally popular one with all of those present, was that the Native Sons and Daughters should hold a joint barbecue at Hewes park, July 27. Further details are to be given out later, but it is thought that at least 300 will be in attendance.

'WESTERN FRONT' ANTI-WAR DRAMA

Many war pictures have been shown in Santa Ana in the past 10 years. Many have been good, many bad, but it remains for Universal to produce the greatest of all stories concerning the late war, and its film "All Quiet On The Western Front," is just that.

The picture is great because it is like the war. There is none of the glamour and glory in the film, nothing but the mire, the scum and the horrors of war, yet it will leave an impression on the average audience that will be remembered for a long time, for "All Quiet On The Western Front" is a big argument against war.

The battle scenes are remarkable. The tenderness that creeps into the picture is remarkable, and the effect the war has on 'Paul," played by Lewis Ayers, the star, as he battles from year to year in the front line trenches, watching one comrade after the other get killed, is even more than remarkable.

The story concerns a youth who, with his class enlists at the outbreak of the war. How he goes through various stages of the war, meeting death day by day and how he accustoms himself to it all, make up the highlights of the performance.

Louis Wolheim and Slim Summerville have the other two important parts in the production. Both are excellent in their parts.

A Fox Movietone newsreel, together with an all-talking comedy also are shown.

DOUBLE BILL TO CLOSE AT WALKER

A double feature program that offers romance, adventure, mystery and thrills, closes tonight at Walker's State theater.

"Prince of Diamonds," the Columbia all-talking drama, is crammed full of stirring action and the climax is thrilling enough to satisfy those who crave strong melodrama. Aileen Pringle and Ian Keith play the leads.

The locale shifts from London to the haunts of society's outcasts in the hell holes of the Far East.

"The Viking" is beautiful pageantry of a poetic era of by-gone days. Like a lost tribe, a race of Viking men are brought back to life in a most fascinating panorama.

Containing all the elements of a corking good photoplay, and directed by Technicolor's master, R. William Neill, this picture was adapted to the screen by Jack Cunningham from the novel by Ottilie A. Liljencrantz, a story o fViking days. It depicts authentic history and has more than the usual amount of romance and adventure.

WESTMINSTER

Mrs. Ray E. Finley and Miss Francis Finley motored to Los Angeles spending a day, recently.

Boy Scouts held a meeting Friday evening but the meeting was made short owing to the absence of the scoutmaster, Hollis Fittz, who is attending summer school in Los Angeles four days each week.

Frank Johnson is off on a vacation from the oil fields and on Monday Mr. and Mrs. Johnson accompanied by Mrs. Ethel Buck, left for San Juan Hot Springs to spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson had as guests Sunday, Mr. Anderson's niece and Husband, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Wartenbe of Los Angeles, who came for their son, Robert Wartenbe, who has been spending a week in his uncle's home, taking him home with them. Mrs. C. Phillips of Santa Ana, mother of Mrs. Anderson, was also their guest for the day.

'ROMANCE' ENDS RUN HERE TODAY

"Romance," starring Greta Garbo, one of the three leading actresses of the screen, which has been playing at the Fox Broadway theater for the past several days, ends its Santa Ana run today.

The picture, different from any in which the famous actress has appeared before, makes its initial appearance in Santa Ana, the film having not started in Los Angeles yet.

In "Romance" a new Greta Garbo is seen. Instead of the sophisticated woman of affairs, whose heart is of ice and whose ability to make men love her is well known, we find a demure little actress, a woman with a past, who falls deeply in love with a young clergyman, after she herself had gained fame and her place in the world.

How the man affects her, and how, because of her great love for him, she is willing to sacrifice her love, makes the picture one of the most interesting that has been brought here in the past several months. Santa Anans who have viewed the picture declare that the new type of Garbo is even more alluring than the Garbo of other roles recently seen here

Gavin Gordon has the principal male part in the play, while Lewis Stone plays the other principal part.

A Fox Movietone newsreel, and an all-talking comedy also are shown.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The city wall had one large gate and through it you could look right straight across the queer old houses that were on a row of hills. "To Persians this may all be swell, but I am glad we do not dwell inside the wall," said Scouty. "Though one sight of it brings thrills.

"The place we slept the other night was nice and cozy and all right, but, after all, 'twas not like home. Let's look around—then go." "Oh, no!" replied the Travel Man. "'Course you can leave us. Sure you can. But you'd be wiser if you stayed. This spot is quite a show."

"Oh, well, that's different," Scouty cried. "So I will stay right by your side. Please tell me, where do we go first? I'll even lead the way. Is there a place where we can eat? I hope we pick out one that's neat and has some very tasty food. I'm nearly starved today."

The Travel Man just grinned and then they all were on their way again. They shortly found an eat shop where they loafed an hour or so. "And now," the Travel Man remarked, "Let's move. I think that we have parked in this spot plenty long enough. Right through the town we'll go."

They loafed along and here and there saw sights that really were quite rare. Some houses were made out of mud and some were just a tent. From doorways Persian people peered and shortly all the Tinies feared that they might not be welcome. Still, along their way they went.

Then came a woman with a child strapped to her back. She stopped and smiled. The Travel Man gave her a coin and then she went away. He then explained just what she was. "They call her gypsy, boys, because she has no home, but travels 'round the country, day by day."

Missing Letter Links

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE--TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

STRUGGLES OF INDIA RELATED BY MISSIONARY

While expressing her complete sympathy with India's grievances, the missionary also expresses her fear that the method now being employed by that country to change conditions is such as to greatly retard its progress. In championing England's attitude, Miss Welles contends that the British have problems to deal with in India which are not encountered in any other country in the world: problems of caste, untouchability and the systems of religion.

"India can teach people of the west many things," Miss Welles believes. "But India needs us. She needs our help to free her from herself, which is what she requires before she will be able to govern herself successfully. Above all she needs Jesus Christ. It is only Christ who has made the west progressive, when the East has Him its people can be trusted, too, to work out their own salvation, educationally, socially, economically, religiously."

The Santa Ana woman concluded her remarks with the prophecy that missionaries in India will suffer hard times and face many unpleasant situations during the next year. However, she emphasized her sincere joy at being in that far country "where I can have some small part in forming character which will help make India stronger."

EXHIBITS CHICK WITH FOUR LEGS

RED BLUFF, July 17.—(INS)—Edward Patrick O'Brien, Tehama county's poetical poultryman, had four-legged chicken on exhibit at his ranch.

The chicken is three weeks old and despite the handicap of two additional legs, is the liveliest of the flock and enjoys perfect health.

When the chick was first hatched the extra legs dragged on the ground and were a great hindrance to the owner, but as the chicken increased in size, the extra legs stood out straight behind.

The legs are attached to an extra pair of hips which grow out of the chicken's back.

Several years ago O'Brien had a chicken with two bodies and one head, or two chickens with one head, whichever you prefer. It did not live long.

O'Brien is a familiar figure in Red Bluff. He has written a book of verse, which he peddles on the streets, and he is also a close student of insect life, and bases monthly weather forecasts on the actions of bees and ants and worms.

EVENING SALUTATION

Wine has drowned more than the sea.—Publius Syrus.

ABLE CANDIDATES

The interest is becoming more and more intense in the gubernatorial fight. There is some change in predictions, and many declare that a defeat of the interests represented by both Governor Young and Mr. Fitts seem to be jeopardized by a division of the vote.

It is difficult to tell at this time—in fact, it is extremely difficult to tell at any time until after the votes are in. But certain it is that scores of thousands of people, who are for either Governor Young or District Attorney Fitts, will be deeply disappointed at the conclusion of the contest if one or the other of those candidates is not nominated. Men of equal mental acumen and conscience, we are confident, are supporting each of these candidates, and each declares with every evidence of sincerity and confidence that his candidate will receive the major portion of the votes that are cast by the "dry" forces.

In spite of this declaration, the Anti-Saloon League, through its state board, advised the people to vote for Governor Young. Scores of ministers in Los Angeles have taken identically the same position. On the other hand, many individual ministers and groups of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union have come out equally as pronouncedly for Mr. Fitts.

We believe if all of these people could be gotten together, at least one thing would stand out very prominently. That is there are two tremendously important offices to fill, and these offices are now occupied respectively by Governor Young and District Attorney Fitts, and every argument that could be raised on behalf of either man for the governorship could be raised to keep the man in the particular position which he now holds.

It is extremely unfortunate that the groups are so divided. We cannot help believing that those whose animosity is aroused against Governor Young, who are strong for a candidate who normally stands for prohibition and the enforcement of the law, have in many cases little or no underlying foundation of fact. Those who have known Governor Young for many years maintain that he is genuine clear through. The character of administration which he has given the state certainly should appeal to those who are interested from humanitarian and business standpoints in the conduct of a state office.

We cannot help believing that taking it north and south, a vastly larger number of people will support Governor Young than Mr. Fitts. For this reason we believe the chances of his nomination are greater than those of Mr. Fitts, and from that standpoint we believe that the friends of the things for which both Fitts and Young stand should waive whatever objections they have and support Governor Young, and give Mr. Fitts an opportunity to continue his work as district attorney, in the expectation later of giving him larger opportunity and rewarding him for service faithfully performed.

Aviation head reads, "Flies over U. S." Gosh, yes. Over it, on it and in it. And the screens don't seem to keep them out.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

The country is to be congratulated on the thoroughness with which the committee of the senate investigating campaign expenses is doing its job. There does not seem to be any partisan or factional politics in their undertaking. It has been brought out that more than one-third of a million dollars was paid for the nomination for the United States senate which Mrs. McCormick recived.

Her opponent, J. Hamilton Lewis, has referred to a million dollars as the amount expended. Certainly he cannot claim that she expended anything like this amount, though he declares himself willing to appear before the committee and give testimony. In any case, he is an opponent, and what he says should be read with considerable care.

In spite of this, we believe in the direct primary. We do not agree with ex-President Coolidge in his statement of a few days ago. While, as a matter of fact, the amount of money passing in a campaign for the nomination would not appear, nevertheless it is well known that a few men in various conventions before the time of the direct primary held the power of nomination in their hands, and with all too great frequency they received rewards for the nomination going in certain directions.

The manner in which legislatures were bought up by high-powered, monied men for their election to the United States senate became such a national scandal before the change was made to a direct election by the people, that there was no alternative left for the folks than taking it away from the legislatures and retaining the power themselves. To be sure, big interests can handle the situation better when there are only a few to deal with, and a certain class of men representing special interests will consider an office if they think the men proposing it to them have it in their power to handle the situation, who will not consider it if they have to go out and appeal to the voters themselves. With the concentration of money and business as it is today severalfold greater than it was before the change in the constitution calling for the election of the United States senators by the people was provided for, the reason for leaving it as it is is even greater today than it was then.

The difficulties in such cases as those of Mrs. McCormick, Newberry and Vare, are brought out now. They would be unknown under the other conditions. You cannot corrupt or buy all the people, and if an attempt is made in any wholesale manner under the present conditions, it becomes public property, and affords the authorities like the United States senate an opportunity to correct it.

THE TOURNAMENT OF LIGHTS

Newport Beach is one of the real enterprising cities of Orange county. It is not large numerically, is working under many handicaps, yet when it does things it does them clear out of proportion to the size of the city.

We have been led many times to record the activities of Newport Beach, but few activities receive more praise than their annual enterprise of the Tournament of Lights. This year it was bigger and better than ever. The city and bay were wonderfully lighted; the parade was interesting and distinctive, and the whole evening's performance was carried out in a manner with credit to the city.

The chairman of the committee, and the one under whose direction the Tournament of Lights was conducted this year was Mr. H. L. Sherman. He undoubtedly was well supported by the various committees which assisted him. At the same time when an enterprise is conducted in such a fine manner, one knows that behind it is a directing mind. Mr. Sherman is in the habit of doing the things that he undertakes and doing them well. He is public-spirited and unselfish. He is a big asset to Newport Beach. He is to be congratulated on the fine success of last Saturday evening.

"Student let out of jail to take examination." Headline. Then to return to take a cross-examination

Have you seen "All Quiet on the Western Front"? We believe there is no moving picture that is making a more profound impression upon the minds of the people than is this one.

We read the story when it was first published, and read the reviews on it by those who knew, who declared it to be most faithful to the general facts. Certainly the picture is faithful to the story.

It is on tonight and tomorrow night. We make no apologies for urging those who can afford to do so, to see this picture.

Incidentally, we are privileged now to see some great undertakings depicted on the screen. The picture of Byrd's trip to the South Pole was one of them. We hope to see that returned.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" will be counted upon as one of the great factors in giving the populace a realization of exactly what war is.

What's the difference whether kids go to a circus and have a picnic, or go to a picnic and have a circus?

THE PUGNACIOUS INSTINCT

Dr. Walter F. Dexter of Whittier, addressing the annual convention of the Lions club in Denver yesterday announced that during the past ten years "some of the best minds of the country have come to the conclusion that there is no fighting or pugnacious instinct in the human race."

One would like to know more about this new line of thought. What, then, is the thing that we have called pugnacious instinct in the past? If we must accept some new explanation for the evidence as plain today as when the "pugnacious" instinct was worthy its name we would like to know about it. Dr. Dexter suggests in his address that the tendency to fight is merely a legal, social and spiritual custom.

Smashing the World's Mountain Top Record

San Francisco Chronicle

Climbing the Jonsong Peak in the Himalaya the Kanchenjunga expedition has broken the world's record which had resisted all assaults for 23 years. The former record was set in 1907, when Dr. T. G. Longstaff reached the summit of Trisul in the Garhwal Himalaya, 23,406 feet high.

The Jonsong Peak, just north of Kanchenjunga, is 24,340 feet above the sea. Six men in two parties reached the top. Though men have reached higher elevations on Mount Everest, the Jonsong is now the loftiest peak that men have ever topped.

On the borders of India, Tibet and China are more than 600 peaks of 25,000 feet and upward. Yet not one of them has ever been climbed. Among so many it would seem that some must be easier than others. But none has yet been found easy enough. This fact, more than anything else, brings home the enormous difficulties peaks of this size present to the climber.

How to Raise Children

Riverside Daily Press

Our psychologists have been very busy of late telling us how we should raise our children. The job ought to be done scientifically, they insist: most of us have not the knowledge to be good parents, and botch the job fearfully.

Now, however, comes Miss Joanna C. Colcord of the Russell Sage Foundation to laugh these pretensions to scorn.

Miss Colcord tells the National Conference on Social Work, meeting in New York, that the old-fashioned, unscientific way of raising children is after all the best way there is.

"The most stable children," she say, "seem to be reared by parents who are too busy at useful tasks to interfere unnecessarily in the development of the children."

That sounds like common sense. The psychologists are prone to take in a little too much ground in their claims.

Now Is the Time

The San Diego Union

Almost every old-timer in San Diego, when he reads of the sale of an important piece of real estate at an important price, finds himself looking back and remembering when he might have bought that same parcel at a ridiculously low figure. If he is given to such uncomfortable dreamings, he will muse over what his fortune would be if he had seized opportunities when he saw them. Old-timers and newcomers alike still have opportunities in their grasp today. Real estate today is offered in a buyers' market. Yet ahead of us all there is a future prospect brighter than the city has ever enjoyed in the past. The city is bound to go ahead.

Courage, initiative and economy today may still lay the foundations for tomorrow's fortune.

The Fly In The Ointment!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A LIGHT IN THE DARKNESS

No more in the White House cabinets,
The visitor may see
Those little crystal drinking sets
That were not meant for tea.
Though every pantry one may pass
And ever seek in vain
To find a single flaring glass
Designed to hold champagne.

The beakers built for Rhenish wine
Have vanished from the view,
And not a seidel nor a stein
Is found the mansion through.
No toby's, ranged along a rail,
Attract the questing gaze
And waken thoughts of foaming ale
That flowed in earlier days.

The sad conclusion one might draw,
Who moves from room to room,
Regarding Mr. Volstead's law
Might steep his soul in gloom.
Why store these lovely things away
If at some later date,
The drouth that makes them vain today
May possibly abate?

But though the shelves are no more lined
With bright and glittering glass,
A tiny ray of hope I find
In what has come to pass,
These crystal cups which long ago
Adorned a gracious board
Where amber nectar used to flow
Were stored, but not destroyed!

NO WONDER

The City of New York was unable to dispose of a lion, which is not surprising in view of the fact that it has never been able to get rid of a Tiger.

FARSEEING, IN FACT

Incidentally, the Tammany Tiger is not exactly a blind tiger.

"The Power of Thine Hand"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

An employer is not, ex-officio, hard-hearted. Firing the help is not his ordinary rainy-day substitute for a round of golf. On the contrary, firing the help hurts him just as much as—

But why bring up unhappy memories?

The fact is, employers are eager to see their workers prosper and hold their jobs. No one is more willing than they to obey the Biblical injunction: "Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it."

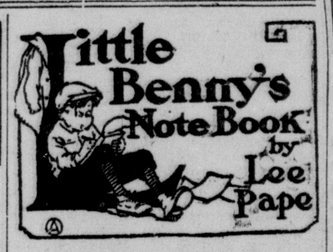

Employers know that much good, due and overdue, is sometimes withheld from the men they employ. What many of them don't know is just what is in the power of their hands. But they are finding out. They are finding out from employers who believe that it is in the power of their hands to do a good deal, and who have gone ahead and done it. From President Loree, for example, of The Delaware and Hudson Railroad.

In the last eight years, by means of the "elastic work-day," The Delaware and Hudson has avoided discharging any of its employees during slack periods. It has let the sunlight of Intelligent Planning into the haunted house of Seasonal and Cyclical Unemployment, and freed the minds of over 10,000 workers from the depressing "fear of the job."

Under the "elastic work-day" plan, the hours of workers are longer when work is heavy, shorter when work falls off; but none of the workers themselves are forced to fall off.

The merits of that plan, as compared with others, we are not discussing. The point is that there ARE ways—and ways that are good business—of making jobs steadier on their feet. Almost any employer can use at least one of these plans. It is well within the power of his hand.

After supper ma sed, O deer I haff to attend a meeting of the Dawters of Cleopattera tomorrow and I havent a single thing to wear that the other ladies havent seen on me at leest a duzzen times. O deer I just bleeve Ill make up some trifling excuse and not attend the meeting.

By gollies I wouldent blush to wear a pair of pants with a red patch on the seet as long as I payed my taxes and dident owe a cent to any man except perhaps my doctor and one or 2 other slite exceptions, he sed.

O yes, no doubt youre grate, ma sed, and I sed, well G, pop, would you wear one black shoe and one brown one? Do you think peeple would laff? I sed.

Let them, pop sed, if I knew both shoes were my personal property, Id snap my fingers at publick opinion with the grace of a Spanish dancer snapping her castanets, he sed, and I sed, Well then G, pop, maybe youll have a chance to. I been meening to tell you. The other day Sid Hunt and me had a private message sistem, and I was pulling on one of your old brown shoes up and down on a string out the 2nd floor window to take the private message up and down, and the string broke and Sids dog got hold of the shoe and went and hid with it, and by the time we found him G wizz he had one side of it all chewed useless. I been meening to tell you, I sed.

Yee gods the ony comfortable shoes I own, pop sed, and ma sed, Now Willyum, those old things were terrible, youve had them since the beginning of the Ark and I been intending to throw them out for years, hee hee, and besides now youve got your grate chance to laff at public opinion just the way you were bragging about, hee hee.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE BANKRUPTCY OF COURAGE

Courage is the cornerstone of civilization.

The capacity to face adventure and duty unafraid is the mark of a healthy mind.

The modern mind prides itself upon the fact that it has emancipated itself from many of the fears that obsessed earlier and less exacting eras.

There is nothing but good to be said for the modern determination to look life in the face and to see it for what it is.

It has never paid to traffic with self-delusion.

And the debunker, whether he be social critic or psychoanalyst, is a man society can afford to pay well.

But even a good thing can be used to bad ends, and, it has been said, the corruption of the best is the worst corruption.

And I suspect that the modern passion for analysis or self and of society is a passion which, indulged in too freely, may bring us to the point where we are more interested in analysis than in action.

The only really disturbing thing I note about the young men and young women leaving our colleges and universities year after year is the predominance in them of the critical mood of the spectator rather than the creative mood of the participant in the life of our time.

Debunking can devitalize us.

The scientific spirit and modern freedom, misused, can make us a generation that broods too much.

Henri-Frederic Amiel was a man who spent his life analyzing himself, as witness his Journal.

"What a strange creature I am!" he once wrote. "If I were charged with the education of some one, I should seek what was best everywhere and in everything. But for myself I no longer have the taste to reprimand and direct. I merely examine myself and state my preference. Psychology has replaced morality. That is the effect of this flaccid existence that dispenses with adventures and duties, with work and purpose. I no longer know courage save by name, and hope save by hearsay."

The current situation in American life, economic and spiritual, calls for men in whim courage is not bankrupt.

We do not want to fool ourselves about ourselves and our society as some generations have done, but we don not want to allow the laudable venture of debunking to keep us on the sidelines of the life of our time.

Our place is in the arena.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

GROWING UP

We make it hard for children to grow up. It is very pleasant to care for a baby. Even the fatigue of constant attendance cannot rob us of the joy of ministering to something so precious, so sweetly dependent upon us.

We do like to have children dependent upon us. It is with a pang that we realize they can do without us. Mothers like to feed their children. Long after the child ought to be feeding himself mother hangs over him watching each mouthful, her hands twitching to take the wobbly spoon in her hands.

Day by day the children grow farther and farther from us. Soon they can dress themselves, go to school alone, express opinions of their own, choose their way in the world. That is as it ought to be—and isn't. We refuse to let the children grow as smoothly as that. We want to hold on to them because—well because we like the feeling of usefulness that gives us. They are an excuse for our living—if we are not very careful, they become our only excuse.

But nature is stronger than any bond we can forge and the children escape. If not one way, another. If we could gather wisdom sufficient to the evil day we would be happier when they definitely break with the home, for break they must if they are to grow up. And who wants a child who does not grow up?

We cannot expect a child to grow up overnight. It isn't done. Self guidance is a matter of slow growth gained by first hand experience and first hand experiences are precisely what we refuse children. We want them to take ours and when they don't we are grieved. When they do, they don't grow up.

Try to understand that children are lent to you for the period of their physical dependency. That your hold on them will be strengthened by loosening it as early as possible and making no effort to possess in any way, the spirit of the child.

During the years of dependency, legitimate dependency, you do all the teaching you can. Set the background for healthy mental attitudes, do what you can to lay the basis of health of body, hold the child in affection always, and hope for the best. Whatever you do, don't try to own him.

When adolescence comes, the child ought to grow up definitely. It is no longer possible for you to tell him what to do, what to think, how to live. He must do that for himself. He is a person. It may be that you do not like the person he is but that cannot be helped by mandate. You have seen that person grow in your home for years and anything possible to do you have done. Let suggestion and kind counsel do their work. But remember, no force.

Responsibility is the best incentive for growth. Begin early to allow the child to carry his own share of the load. He will grow up faster and he will grow with less pain to himself and to you if he has the comfort of knowing he is helping himself.

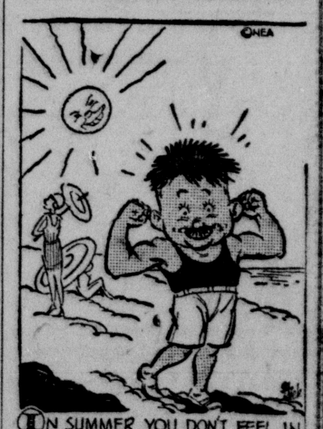

ASTOR'S BIRTH

On July 17, 1864, John Jacob Astor, American capitalist, inventor and soldier, was born at Rhinebeck, N. Y.

Following his graduation from Harvard in 1888 Astor traveled extensively and afterward devoted his time in the managing of the Astor estates. In 1897 he built the Astoria Hotel, New York, adjoining the Waldorf Hotel, which was built by William Waldorf Astor, his cousin, the two forming one building under the name Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, at the date of completion one of the largest and most costly hotels in the world. The structure was recently razed to make way for a modern skyscraper.

During the Spanish-American war Astor served as staff officer in the Santiago campaign and presented to the government a fully equipped mountain battery, which did effective work in the campaign before Manila.

Astor became known as an inventor of several useful devices, such as the bicycle brake and a turbine engine. He was drowned at sea when the Titanic sank in 1912.

12 MINERS KILLED IN GAS BLAST

OPPONENTS ACCUSED OF FILIBUSTER

Majority Leader Threatens To Silence Antagonist With Cloture Rule

TO MEET SATURDAY

California Solon Says He Asks No Quarter and Will Fight to Finish

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(UP)—Majority Leader Watson today charged the London treaty opposition with filibustering and demanded on the floor of the senate that they agree to a time for voting or suffer forcible silencing by the cloture rule.

Watson then began to circulate a cloture petition on the floor of the senate. If the cloture petition with 16 signatures were offered today, the senate automatically would vote on the question of cloture one hour after meeting Saturday and, if adopted, cloture would be effective from that time. Cloture limits each senator to one hour's debate.

Asks No Quarter

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, dramatically rejected Watson's offer.

"I ask no quarter," Johnson shouted, "Lay on Macduff, and damned be he who first cries, hold, enough.'"

"Go on with your majority," Johnson continued. "The only time we ever have had cloture in this body is when we were acting on some foreign adventure or misadventure.

"Move on, sir, with your cloture on a treaty that deals with our national defense."

"If the senator from California will agree to limit debate beginning Tuesday at 11 a. m.," Watson said, "to 10 minutes for each senator on each reservation we will not attempt to apply the cloture.'"

Important Task

"The task upon which I am engaged,' Johnson replied, "far transcends the importance of the leadership of the senator from Indiana on this side of the house.

"I ask for no quarter. I know of no way to fight for my country except to die for it."

Watson replied there was no desire to shut off legitimate debate but "there is objection to talking for the express purpose of dissipating a quorum."

"If this is continued," Watson added, "we must have recourse to the only method open to us."

Watson said the senate would meet Saturday and Johnson asked why not on Sunday, too.

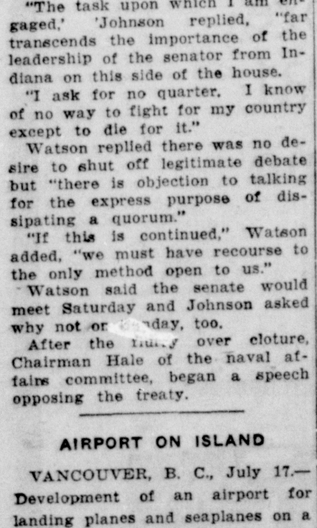

After the [illegible] over cloture, Chairman Hale of the naval affairs committee, began a speech opposing the treaty.

MURDERER OF MOTLEY FLINT ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Insanity Plea Also Entered Before Court

Superior Judge M'Comb Sets August 1 Trial Date On Killing Charge

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—(UP)—A double plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity was entered today by Frank D. Keaton, Inglewood real estate dealer, when he was arraigned for the murder of Motley H. Flint, prominent Los Angeles banker.

Date for Keaton's trial was set for August 1 by Superior Judge Marshall McComb.

Keaton appeared bewildered by the courtroom activity and he remained silent and kept close to his attorney, Public Defender William Neely.

When Keaton was returned from the courtroom to county jail he admitted for the first time that he had a copy of the Rev. R. P. Shuler's pamphlet, "Julian Thieves In Politics," in his pocket at the time he was arrested Monday in the courtroom when Flint was shot down.

The booklet criticized Flint and linked his name with the wreckers of the Julian Petroleum corporation.

Keaton previously had refused to answer questions regarding the booklet and the Rev. Mr. Shuler had indicated the book was planted on Keaton's person to cast discredit on Shuler.

MACDONALD ON WAY TO COAST WITH LAWYERS

Witness in Mooney Case Hopes to Gain Freedom For Two Radicals

NEW YORK, July 17.—(UP)—John MacDonald, the witness whose testimony in the preparedness day bombing trials in San Francisco was largely responsible for sending Tom Mooney and Warren Billings to prison, was enroute to California today with attorneys who believe they can obtain the prisoners' freedom.

In the brief cases of the attorneys as they sped westward on their train carrying MacDonald and the attorneys were the affidavits expected to clear the two men in California prisons.

One of the affidavits, which his lawyers would not discuss but which is regarded as of vital importance, was said to corroborate MacDonald's statement that while he was a witness in the trials he lived well on funds supplied by the district attorney.

The United Press was informed by apparently high authority that the document contained the statement of a woman, who sometimes went out with MacDonald at the time of the trial 16 years ago, that whenever he needed money he went to the district attorney's office and received it.

The woman, now married and living in Washington, D. C., denied, when questioned by the United Press, that she had signed any affidavit.

The new evidence, it was understood, was obtained when the woman motored to Baltimore after MacDonald's discovery there, and revealed her maiden name.

TWO INJURED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Two men were burned, one seriously, when heat generated from the sun's rays caused an explosion in a gas machine being used at the home of J. C. Gray, 609 East McFadden street, yesterday afternoon.

William Smith, of 715 East Chestnut street, employe of the United States Termite company of Pasadena, was severely burned at the back of the neck and hands and head. His condition is serious. Ray Johnson, of the same address, who was working with him at the time, was burned about the face, but did not need medical attention.

Smith was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where his condition today was reported as favorable.

The two men were working with the engine under the house, exterminating termites at the time of the accident. Johnson said he had known gas to explode from heat from an electric light bulb, but that he never heard of the day's heat being responsible for such an explosion.

Air Crash Victim Taken to New York

BENNINGTON, Vt., July 17.—(UP)—The body of Frank Goldsborough, outstanding young aviator, and victim of a flight mishap similar in many ways to that which resulted in the death of his father three years ago, was be taken to New York today.

Frank died at Putnam Memorial hospital here late yesterday, his 20th birthday, from a skull fracture suffered when the airplane he was flying crashed in a fog-hidden mountain forest beyond here Monday.

Caught in wreckage of the ship so that Donald Mockler, New York publicity agent whom he was flying, was unable to extricate him, Goldsborough lay almost 18 hours before being rescued. Arrived at the hospital, he had been without medical attention for almost a full day. During the night he had been exposed to temperatures below 50 degrees.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 17.—The world does not make real progress as fast as some expected. Like backward people with free constitutions reverting to revolution, the nations have made numerous agreements with each other the peace and then turned their attention to preparation for war. In spite of all the high resolutions, all the solemn treaties, all the carefully prepared organizations set up for the peacable adjustment of international disputes, the world is arming more heavily than before the war, and we hear too many distinct utterances of hostility. This is a disconcerting change from the spirit of the Paris peace conference. Then there was disagreement about reparations and allocation of territory but absolute accord by friend and foe alike on the principle of reduction and limitation of armaments and the maintenance of peace.

It was so nominated in the treaty of Versailles. Germany consented to disarm on the agreement of the other parties to the treaty to disarm. Yet only the United States has proposed and secured any practical agreements for limitation of armaments. It has not been possible to secure much real reduction. The war curbed for a time but has not greatly changed the spirit of the nations.

GRAHAM'S BODY IS LOCATED ON UTAH MOUNTAIN

Remains of Pilot Found in Canyon 20 Miles From Wrecked Plane

CEDAR CITY, Utah, July 17.—(UP)—A tiny funeral cortage wending its way through the mountain fastnesses surrounding Cedar City wrote the last sad chapter today to a saga of the air unparalleled for its courage and bravery.

Maury Graham, who gave his life that the airmail might go through, was on his way home.

The intrepid pilot's body, still encased in the heavy flying suit he wore on his last flight, was discovered in a secluded little dell late yesterday by a party of faithful friends and relatives who persevered in their quest even after a widespread search had been abandoned.

The discovery was made by Major Richard McDonald, who has been leading the search since Graham crashed in a blizzard last January 10, and Sheriff Leigh of Cedar City. McDonald, a Brother-in-law of Graham's wife, made the identification.

The spot in Zion canyon where the body was located was 32 miles from here and 20 miles from the

Octoroon Wife to Receive $3600 Annually—Drops All Litigation

LAS VEGAS, Nevada, July 17.—(UP)—Six years of litigation between Leonard Kip Rhinelander, member of a prominent New York family, and Alice Jones Rhinelander, the octoroon he married, ended here today when a property settlement was approved by Judge Edwards.

The agreement was sealed and therefore all the terms were not made known but it was stated that she received $31,500 outright and that she will be paid $3600 a year alimony.

The girl, daughter of a Negro hack driver, also was permitted to resume her maiden name, Alice Jones.

By the terms of the settlement she will drop a separate maintenance suit and an alienation of affections suit brought against Rhinelander's father, it was said.

She also will no longer oppose the Nevada divorce recently obtained by Rhinelander and will lift the receivership she placed on his property.

Harley Harmon, district attorney here, acted for Rhinelander in the brief court proceedings, and O. R. Jacobs and F. M. Gagliardi, acted for Alice Jones Rhinelander.

The Rhinelander case has been before the public since Rhinelander first sued for divorce in New York, stating that his wife had deceived him as to her parentage and that he discovered she had Negro blood. The divorce was denied.

MEMBERS FIGHT IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON, July 17.—(UP)—The house of commons was thrown into an uproar today, when Fenner Brockway and John Beckett, Labor members, got out of hand and Beckett tried to seize the speaker's mace and make off with it.

The trouble started when Brockway was suspended for repeatedly interrupting the speaker. Beckett, one of the four members who voted against Brockway's suspension, angrily seized the mace, raised it in both hands and shouted:

"It's a damned disgrace."

Beckett then tried to carry the mace into the lobby but the sargeant-at-arms intervened, seized the mace and replaced it on the table in front of the speaker.

The house then suspended Beckett.

OCCUPANTS OF SPEED BOAT HAVE NARROW ESCAPE WHEN MISS BALBOA CATCHES FIRE

Burning to the water's edge near the entrance of Newport Harbor, the Miss Balboa, 26-foot speedboat of the Balboa Water Taxi company, caught fire last night at 10:40 p. m. and forced the four occupants to don life preservers and jump overboard.

Although the Newport Beach fire department and life saving crew were notified and arrived shortly after the mishap, the boat was a total loss, estimated at $7000. As far as could be learned, there was no insurance on the boat. According to the owners, the Miss Los Angeles will replace the burned boat.

The Miss Balboa, one of the fastest boats on the bay, was occupied by four people at the time of the fire. Miss Elizabeth and Frances Gidden, A. K. Vandermark, the proprietor and Hartley Batey were the passengers. After leaping overboard, the party came ashore on the Balboa shore, chilled by the water but none the worse for the experience.

F. W. Crocker, chief of the fire department and life saving crew and three firemen, Clarence McCormack, J. Briscoe and Arthur Windrigger, responded to the rescue call in the Miss Newport. They used four extinguishers and put out life buoys. The passengers were taken home following the accident.

FOREST FIRE THREATENS TO WIPE OUT CALIFORNIA TOWN AS 100 MEN BATTLE BLAZE

REDDING, Calif., July 17.—(UP)—More than 100 men early today waged a furious battle with one of the most stubborn forest fires of the year that was seriously threatening the town of Hayfork, 40 miles west of here.

The fire, believed by forest rangers to be incendiary, started in the Trinity national forest and was fast eating its way through 250 acres of fine pine timber.

Volunteers and men drafted from every available town were attempting to stem the conflagration before it reached the narrow valley of Big Creek. It was feared if the flames passed there, Hayford would be destroyed.

The mountains west of here were completely hidden in dense clouds of smoke and the rapidity with which the flames were spreading led rangers to send out urgent appeals for more men.

The flames that appeared to have ignited the whole forest sprang up in several different spots, according to George Gowan, forest supervisor. He declared rangers after a hasty investigation, were of the opinion the blazes had been deliberately caused.

Hayfork was threatened by another forest fire less than a week ago and was only saved after a hard battle.

The lo wtemperatures and rising humidity of the past few days was believed to have given a false sense of security that led to a relaxation in carefulness.

EARLY CALIFORNIA TRAIL BLAZER DIES

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—(UP)—Mrs. Magdalena Wolfskill Sabichi, daughter of William Wolfskill, said to be the first American to blaze a trail to California, died today at her home here. A heart attack caused death.

Mrs. Sabichi was born in Los Angeles in 1846. Her mother was Magdalena Lugo, member of a prominent Spanish family of Santa Barbar, Calif.

Mrs. Sabichi's father came to California in 1828. He owned the first citrus grove in California, situated where the Southern Pacific station now stands, and also introduced the muscat grape.

Lutheran Conclave Closed This Noon

CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—(UP)—A devotional service at noon today was scheduled to close the 37th annual convention of the Lutheran International Walther league.

The final business session of the convention was scheduled for the morning during which judges were to announce the winners of the oratorical contest in which 24 youths from all parts of the United States and Canada competed. Lutherland, a Lutheran summer colony in eastern Pennsylvania, and St. Louis were expected to compete for next year's convention.

Delegates yesterday voted $64,000 to be spent for Lutheran medical missionary work in China and India. Of this sum, $30,000 is to be spent in India and $34,000 in China.

LOS ANGELES CITY ATTORNEY QUITS OFFICE

Resigns on Request of Mayor Porter After Battle With Shuler

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—(UP)—A sudden clash over evidence in the courtroom murder of Motley H. Flint, millionaire retired banker, resulted last night in the resignation of City Prosecutor Lloyd S. Nix on the eve of an arraignment of Flint's accused murdered.

Nix's resignation was requested by Mayor John C. Porter after the prosecutor engaged with the Rev. R. P. Shuler, militant pastor, in a heated radio controversy over the Flint case.

While Frank D. Keaton, the little real estate salesman who killed Flint in superior court here Monday, waited in his cell to enter a plea to a murder indictment, Nix took part last night in a session

HYDE DISAPPROVES NEW WHEAT IDEAS

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(UP)—Purchase of new wheat by the federal farm board as urged by western senators would merely dam up the flood of grain without permanent benefit, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde told the United Press in an interview today.

He doubted whether such action would be within the law. Hyde also said the debenture and equalization fee plans which some farm senators now want to revive, would not remedy the situation. Neither would an "eat more bread" campaign help much, he said.

In fact Hyde, after a trip through the wheat belt, saw no relief except for farmers to raise less wheat, and to organize more intensively for better marketing.

KINGSFORD-SMITH PLANS BIG FLIGHT

SANTA MARIA, Calif., July 17.—(UP)—An attempt to span the Atlantic ocean from Harbor Grace to Amsterdam will be made witnin the next two months by Commander Kingsford-Smith and the same crew which recently flew the Southern Cross on an east-west crossing of the Atlantic, it was said here today.

Captain J. Patrick Saul, navigator on the other Atlantic trip, confirmed the plan.

Kingsford-Smith and Saul left here today for Los Angeles where they will visit a week with G. Allen Hancock. They then will go to New York where a four motored Fokker monoplane now is being built for them, Saul said.

TEN OTHERS AVERT DEATH BY RUNNING

HALT RESCUE WORK

Masked Workers Unable to Revive Victims After Bodies Are Removed

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—(UP)—Twelve miners were reported killed early today in Mitchell tunnel 40 miles from here as the second subterranean blast within 30 days rocked the property of the municipal water system.

The explosion, believed to have been caused by the chance ignition of accumulated gas, occurred at a depth of 300 feet as the men were working near the center of the mile-long tunnel.

Ten other miners, at work near the west entrance, heard the muffled blast and ran outdoors to safety ahead of the onrush of gas.

The entire crew of 22 men were working in the tunnel at the time were believed accounted for.

From first reports, it was believed identical with the blast that took the lives of seven miners last month in the Alameda tunnel a few miles away.

No Warning Given

The blast occurred without warning a few minutes after the early morning shift had gone to work.

As masked rescue workers emerged from the tunnel's mouth with bodies, physicians and orderlies from the nearby town of Livermore worked feverishly at first aid application, but little hope was held that pulmotors would revive a spark of life in any of the dozen, as those who were not killed outright by the force of the explosion, it was feared ,succumbed to the poisonous fumes which came in its wake.

The known dead, six hours after the blast:

John McNichols, 42, 7306 Harvard Boulevard, Los Angeles.
J. C. Maybin, 21, Sonora.

Believed dead, bodies still in the tunnel:

E. R. Cavanaugh, 30, Seattle.
Tony Redka, 44, address unknown.
N. Yaworski, 34, Canada.
L. R. Crowley, 32, 2540 West 133rd street, Oakland, married.
A. W. De Folay, Tracy, married.
C. Urich, Loveland, Colo.
J. M. McMaster, Sonora, married.
G. Nations, 27, address unknown.
J. Colier, 18, Whittier, Cal.

Missing, not known for sure whether at work at the time:

Pat Gallagher, 43, Wellesley, Mass.

Halt Rescue Work

Rescue attempts were abandoned after workers had removed the bodies of McNichols and Maybin until ventilation shall have been restored. Any hope that the remaining miners would be found alive in the gas-choked recesses was virtually abandoned.

Attempts to restore sufficient ventilation to permit re-entry on the part of rescue crews were being supervised by officials of the state industrial accident commission, the U. S. Bureau of Mines and other agencies.

RENEW EFFORTS IN GRAPE CAMPAIGN

FRESNO, Calif., July 17.—(UP)—Workers for the signup campaign for the federal grape control plan concentrated their efforts today on the San Joaquin valley, where, it was reported, only a little less than two thirds of the total acreage has been contracted.

The valley is said to have [illegible] acres in grapes, and, at the official close of the campaign last Monday midnight there were [illegible] acres not contracted. This figure has been lowered during the unofficial campaign but the largest deficit is in this section, it was stated at campaign headquarters.

"One out of every three acres in the San Joaquin valley must be signed if this crisis is to be averted," Wylie M. Giffen, campaign chairman, said.

spot where Graham's wrecked mail plane and its $300,000 cargo of valuable mail was found by sheepherders three weeks ago. Although the plane was destroyed the mail was found intact and returned to addresses.

In death Graham left behind him the traces of a valiant but one-sided fight against the elements that brought his plane to disaster. Battling against the storm after a forced landing, Graham apparently headed on foot in the opposite direction from the civilization he sought. He was unhurt by the landing, it was believed, but the fury of the storm proved too great a handicap—twenty anguished miles were all he could accomplish before he sank in exhaustion to an icy death.

The country in which Graham crashed was extremely rugged, and grew more rough along the trail he followed. Where the group of searchers finally located his body the canyon was almost inaccessible except by foot.

Lost Six Months

More than six months elapsed between the time Graham was known to have crashed and the day his body was found. In that period scores of airplanes and hundreds of men were pressed into the search. An organized combing of the surrounding territory was conducted, and as it developed today, stopped only a few miles short of its goal.

The first great search was abandoned, only to be renewed when the plane was found. The second search was also given up by the main body of men and planes, but a little group of men refused to stop until they had satisfied themselves as to Graham's fate. They went over the ground again and pushed into new territory, finally stumbling upon the still form of the pilot.

And now Graham is on his way home.

Shoots Divorced Wife In Quarrel

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 17.—(UP)—Edith Vossos, 34, is near death after being shot by her ex-husband, Peter H. Vossos, 36, last night, who then turned the gun on himself, a bullet ending his life instantly.

A quarrel led up to the shooting, Mrs. Vosses said in a statement to police. The pair obtained a divorce two years ago and then Vosso hired his former wife to become his housekeeper at $1 a day, she declared.

MEXICANS HELD TO ANSWER ON STILL CHARGE

Charged with owning and operating a whiskey still, Jesus Galvan and Porfirio Diaz, Los Angeles Mexicans were held to answer to the superior court this morning from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court. Bail of $3000 each was demanded, which was not made.

The two men were arrested by Sheriff Sam Jernigan and several officers on a raid at a house in Los Alamitos several days ago. In the house the officers found six small whiskey stills, all operating full blast, they reported. A total of 1400 gallons of mash and 20 gallons of whiskey also were confiscated.

The stills were found in the same house at Los Alamitos in which deputy sheriffs found eight stills not more than two months ago, bringing the total stills captured from one house there to 14, within two months time. Deputy sheriffs were claiming this as a record of some kind.

The stills and the confiscated liquor were brought to the sheriff's office.

SPEAKER TELLS LIONS OF AIR DEVELOPMENTS

The Santa Ana Lions club was entertained today by Lieut. John Vanderveer Deuel, of Balboa, an aviator and author of "Speed Wings."

The speaker discussed in an entertaining and instructive way commercial and military aeronautics in the United States and abroad, emphasizing many features that have characterized the development of aviation.

Pointing out that he had traveled 14,000 air miles in South America, Lieut. Deuel said splendid progress had been made in commercial aviation in South America, particularly in Argentine and Bolivia.

He stressed the point that American-made planes, motors and movies are popular in those countries, with natives preferring the American-made products above similar products of other nations.

One of the reasons for the popularity of the American planes in Bolivia, in particular, he said, was due to the fact that two military officers of that country were sent here for a six months' training course. This resulted in their recommendation of planes made here for military as well as commercial use.

Air lines make it possible, he said, to travel in a few hours from point to point in mountainous territory that formerly required several days of tedious and tiresome transportation by rail or by team.

Miss Luisita Yorba offered the musical program and sang to the delight of her auditors a group of Spanish songs, being accompanied at the piano by Miss Dorothy Hurd.

Harry Hanson officiated as program chairman.

One hundred and fifty cowboys and fifty cowgirls will vie for $40,000 in prize money, while fair maids from 50 California cities will rope, ride and display pulchritude to win the coveted "Sweetheart of the Rodeo" title.

New count of the ballots in the big Fox West Coast-Register Popularity contest, completed today, show no changes among the leaders in the contest, but do show much strength for the first five or six runners in both the boy and girl divisions.

Luvina Layton Schade, who was leading last week again topped the list this week among the girls, increasing her lead over Sue Verberg. Miss Dorothy Loyd continued to show strength and large gains were made by Dorothy Reynolds, who moved into fourth place in the girl's division.

In the boy's division, Mario Mecurio continued to lead and is the first candidate to receive more than a half million votes. In Second place is Norman Paul, who was second last week. He showed a big gain over the last count.

The next best gains were made by Everett Conkright, who moved into third place after being far below last week.

An announcement of interest to candidates in the contest was today made by The Register, when it was made known that 1,000 extra votes would be awarded to any of the contestants who would bring in a new subscription to the paper with a letter they received today and tomorrow from the circulation department of the paper.

This is in addition to the regular amount of votes that are awarded for new subscriptions. For every three months subscription the contestant can receive 2,000 votes; for a six months subscription, 4,000 votes, for a nine month's subscription 6,000 votes and 8,000 votes for every new yearly subscription brought into the theater or to the paper.

Many of the candidates have taken this manner of obtaining votes and have obtained good results, according to Roscoe Conklin, Register circulation manager. Blanks can be obtained at the Register or at the two Fox West Coast theaters here.

DIRECTORS OF ORANGE COUNTY FAIR TO MEET

Declaring that the arrangements and advance reservations of space for the coming Orange county fair are a month ahead of any previous year, and asserting the annual exhibit will be the greatest in the history of the fair, Charles E. Lee, secretary, today announced that an important meeting of the directors of the Orange County Fair association would be held at the fair grounds Monday, at 3 p.m.

The secretary said that the premium list would be off the press and available within two weeks. According to his statement many inquiries for pens have come from livestock men as far away as Texas.

Pointing out that the operation period of September 30-October 5 is virtually a month later than the date of fairs of the past, Lee said that 60 per cent of the space in the machinery tent and 40 per cent of the space available in the industrial tent had been contracted, with all concession rights disposed of. Foley and Burke shows will be on the pike, contracts having already been completed. The shows will come here direct from the state fair at Sacramento.

Exhibits have been pledged in sufficient number to fill the feature tent, the secretary stated.

Departments of the fair have been assigned as follows: H. A. Lake, finance; V. D. Johnson, publicity; Lee, space in industrial, machinery and automobile tents; Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, premium lists, fashion show and women's department; S. J. Tuffree, pre-fair publicity and contacts with chambers of commerce and service clubs; George Kellogg, exhibits in main feature tent; W. J. Carmichael, pre-fair theater publicity, bands and program for opening night; John Osterman, livestock exhibits; Charles Van Wyk, junior fair displays; F. L. Purinton, rodeo; S. W. Stanley, managing director, concessions.

Harry Hanson will assist Lake in handling the finances, and will have direct charge of the tickets and gates. H. E. Dungan again will have charge of the guards and firemen.

Free tickets will be distributed to school children, 32,000 having been reserved for that purpose, and efforts will be made to have declaration of a half-holiday of the schools of the county so that the pupils may attend, according to the secretary.

YORBA LINDA

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wylie and children are expected back this week from a three months visit at Bloomington, Ind.

Mrs. Emile Boege and children are at Laguna Beach for their vacation.

Arraign Man On Assault Charge

T. A. Thomas, 39, who resides west of the Santa Ana river bridge on Fifth street, was arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning on a charge of assault and battery, after he is asserted to have beaten L. H. Cain, his neighbor.

Bail of $1000 was demanded, and he is to appear in court July 18 to answer to arraignment.

Thomas is said to have become angry with his neighbor when he heard that he had been reported to the county health department concerning a dead dog on his premises, it was said. Cain was badly beaten about the face.

at the city hall at which he described Shuler as the political boss of Los Angeles.

Speaks Over Radio

A pamphlet, "Julian Thieves," by Shuler, in which Flint's name was linked with those of Jacob Berman and S. C. Lewis in the $100,000,000 Julian Petroleum corporation collapse, was found in Keaton's pocket after the slaying. That same night Nix spoke over the radio and intimatad the pamphlet might have incited Keaton to his deed.

The next evening Shuler, over his own radio station, announced he was willing to submit the pamphlet to "any 12 men in the county for an opinion as to whether it contained any word that would turn a man to murder."

Shuler Explains

The thing that turned Keaton's mind to murder, Shuler said, was that "men were imprisoned for stealing bottles of milk while bankers and brokers who stole millions from Julian investors went free."

It was said at the district attorney's office the pamphlet will be used as evidence "for its entire worth," indicating it might be one of the state's points in attempting to establish Keaton's act as premeditated.

After his arrest Keaton told of losing $10,000 in the stock market and babbled that Flint was big enough to have stopped the collapse. He lost no money in the Julian failure but seemed to hold Flint responsible for the rest.

FOREIGN AIR TOUR

PARIS, July 17.—With a field of 101 entries already lined up, the International Reliability Race for airplanes, planned by the Aero Club of Germany, is ready to start off July 20. This race will start from Berlin and visit all the major countries of Europe. It ends August 7. Germany has 47 entries, Great Britain has 8; France, 16; Spain, 10; Poland, 16; Switzerland, 4.

The annual bill for creams, rouge and powders in the United States is about $69,000,000.

Attends Meeting Of Beach Group

County Superintendent of Highways Nat Neff attended the sessions of the meeting of the American Shore and Beach Preservation association at Long Beach yesterday. This organization is attempting to solve the serious and involved problem of preserving the beaches for the use of the public, and has a wonderful program that is of vital importance to California and Orange county, according to Neff.

A California commission is starting work along this line. Many prominent men from all parts of the seaboard of the nation were in attendance at the convention.

LUFTHANSA REPORTS

BERLIN, July 17.—Airline activities of Lufthansa, German airways operator, were reduced during 1929 as compared with 1928. The number of miles flown was decreased 14 per cent, and the number of passengers carried showed a loss of 21 per cent. The company's total receipts were more than $7,250,000.

RUDY GOETZ HELD TO ANSWER TODAY

Rudy Goetz, Santa Ana man, charged in the Orange justice court with resisting an officer was held to answer to the superior court here this morning. Bail of $1500 was demanded.

Goetz is asserted to have resisted arrest at Orana several days ago when Chief of Police Richards and Pete Winslow, Orana motor cop, attempted to arrest him on a charge of possession of liquor. He is said to have had a gallon of whiskey in his machine, but broke it before officers could seize it, they reported.

A fight followed and Goetz was subdued and taken to the Orange jail, later being transferred to the county jail.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is one of the ironies of life that lies revenge themselves on the liar.

The one who denies that he believes in God merely robs himself of the strength and the inspiration which he might have had if he would give rein to his faith and face the responsibilities it involves. The one who disclaims his conviction regarding a life beyond the grave filches from himself the comfort and the strength and the joyous hope which should enlighten and dignify his every endeavor.

Do not deceive yourself nor permit others to confuse you. You do believe in God and in His love, even though you do not completely understand His dealings with you. You are sure that your dear one lives on and that you will be reunited in God's good time. Live sincerely in the light of that faith.

WILL INSPECT CONDITIONS IN COAST REGION

The county planning commission in its session today at the court house determined to make a personal inspection trip along the coast of the county at its next meeting July 31, to become familiar with conditions along the beach of the county. The district to be visited runs from Corona del Mar to San Clemente.

The matter causing the decision to make the inspection trip was the presentation of another sub-division map located on the coast. Some six or seven sub-divisions along the beach have been presented to the commission for approval during the past few months and the commission is desirous of obtaining information on which some policy may be determined whereby the public interest in the beaches may be protected.

Other matters that occupied the attention of the commission today were sub-division regulations and general problems.

In connection with the commission's division of traffic and highways a report was submitted by Nat Neff, county superintendent of highways, showing that there had been a very great increase in the amount of traffic over main highways in the county during the past year. This information was discovered through a check kept on traffic.

MC FADDEN GROUP MEETS AT BEACH

At a political "get together" last night at Huntington Beach, Ralph J. McFadden, candidate for sheriff of Orange county, was introduced to the assemblage. The meeting was for the purpose of creating interest in the coming campaign. James Tuffree, chairman of the McFadden for Sheriff club, presided. The candidate was introduced by Tom A. Talbert, who presented a short resume of McFadden's qualifications for the post he is seeking.

Among the other speakers on the program were W. T. Newlin, an old times of Huntington Beach; Harry A. Lake, Garden Grove; W. P. Osborn, secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce; and Judge C. D. Patten, also of Huntington Beach. The next club meeting will be held Wednesday evening, July 23 at Buena Park and the following week at the Santa Ana cafe.

MORNING CLUB MEMBERS HEAR TALK BY DANZ

With hearty laughter to start their day aright, Santa Ana Breakfast club members this morning found their interest in ham and eggs purely secondary to a program at St. Ann's inn featuring one of the cleverest speakers ever appearing before the club, and music of an unusually high order.

The speaker, Louis J. Danz, Anaheim business man, composer and traveler, was introduced by Sheriff Sam Jernigan, and proceeded to give a travel talk that was quite different from the usual items of interest about buildings, art galleries and natives.

Not that he failed to discuss these features, but he did it in such a manner as to present an entirely different picture—and to start the brain cells to working on entirely new concepts.

For instance that imaginary line dividing one small European country from another, was spoken of in graphic terms, making the hearers see that it was a spiritual affair rather than a physical one, and that it formed as sharp a line of demarcation as though actually outlined with stone walls and sentry boxes.

Danz stressed the fact that America's background and history lies in the east, hence European conditions are of vital interest to us of the United States.

Citing Aristotle, Leonardo De Vinci and Goethe as outstanding men of knowledge in their individual eras, he told of his meeting with a German scientist in Berlin who deserved an equal place with them, according to his opinions, and explained that this man declared that each individual country of Europe consisted of a blood related people at the end of 20 generations, so intermarried would its population become by that time. Danz placed his own humorous interpretation on this, by declaring that it gave peculiar interest to European warfare, "It is exactly like a family quarrel," he declared.

Not all his talk was humorous, but all of it was marked by originality and a freshness of view point.

Supplementing his witty and interesting talk, were enjoyable musical numbers by "Stormy" Gordon's Elks' orchestra, and a charming whistling solo, "Invitation Waltz Song," by Miss Florence Campbell, of Orange.

Miss Sue Verberg, American Legion candidate in the Register-Fox popularity contest, was present as a guest of Hunter Leach, who presented her to the Breakfast clubbers, asking their votes for her.

Among business matters considered by the clubmen under the direction of the president, B. Z. McKinney, was that of inviting all political candidates in the approaching fall election, to be special guests at a non-political breakfast on August 7. Dr. Massey was accepted as a new member, and Dr. A. K. Loerch, Jr., Roy Lyon and George Boyd were named as program committee for next Thursday.

EXPLAINS NEW SAFEGUARD ON LOAN BUSINESS

P. G. Beissel, president of the Home Mutual Building and Loan association, Santa Ana, today stated that additional safeguards had been thrown around state building and loan investments by the state commissioner of building and loan associations. An excerpt from Beissel's statement reads:

"It is now required by the state commissioner that all building and loan associations be audited by an approved firm of certified public accountants in addition to the regular state examination which is conducted each year. Many advantages will be gained through the independent audit, such as the verification of customers' accounts through a system of letters, the detailed examination of all association accounts and examination of investments. Such details not being covered as comprehensively by the regular examination due to the large number of associations in the state and the limited amount of time available for the inspection of each. In fact the new ruling is just another link in the large chain of safety requirements used in making building and loan one of the nation's safest forms of investment," he said.

Beissel further stated that he considered the future of building and loan associations in California exceptionally bright. He said that he considered this phase of business one of the most important factors in the development of the nation, as well as community. As an encourager of home ownership, it loans liberal amounts for building improvements and permits the borrower to repay this loan in small monthly payments, he pointed out.

W. H. Eadie, certified public accountant, is making a thorough audit of the books of the Home Mutual Building and Loan association. The pioneer company was organized in 1893 and at the present time has assets well over $300,000.

U. S. EMPLOYES 'KEPT IN' FOR 'NAUGHTINESS'

WASHINGTON, July 17.—All employes in the superintendent of documents office at the government printing office are being "kept in" an extra hour because a few of their number have been "naughty."

More than 200 men and women, all of whom have clerical rating under the Civil Service commission, are being punished with an extra sixty minutes of duty because some of them violated the rule forbidding the carrying of newspapers into the building.

Adoption of "schoolmaster tactics" in the federal service has caused a feeling of unrest to pervade in all departments of the government's printing plant which has thousands on its payroll.

George H. Carter, the public printer, sole boss of the huge plant, made the order barring newspapers. It was issued last year when Carter initiated an independent crusade against betting on horse races and on the daily figures of the New York Clearing House and the Treasury Balance, known as the "Numbers game."

He is opposed to gambling in all its forms, and has charged the police have made little effort to curb the practice.

He believes he can stop gambling among his employes by refusing them the privilege to glance at newspapers during working hours.

When he noticed papers were being carried into the office and were seen lying opened at the sporting pages at the desks of few of the employes, he ruled all in this particular department must report at 8 a. m., instead of 9, and work through to the usual time of 4:30 p. m.

He also moved back the start of the luncheon period from noon to 1 o'clock.

The employes feel Carter should have found and punished the guilty workers instead of making the "whole class" do extra work. Carter has been told of their atitude but has declined to discuss his action.

PROVO, Utah, July 17.—(INS)—After celebration of their golden wedding anniversary on June 1, Mrs Francis M. Barney filed suit for divorce from her husband just 13 days later, on Friday, June 13.

Mrs. Barney, mother of 14 children, all married, in her complaint, charged cruelty. She alleges her husband came home drunk a few days after their fiftieth anniversary, choked her, and threatened to kill her.

She demands that the court grant her $30 a month for alimony and order her husband to leave their home.

Pimples Spread Over Face, Neck and Body. Cuticura Healed.

"The trouble began with pimples breaking out on my forehead, and spreading over my face, neck and body They were small and red and scaled over. The pimples itched and burned and caused much pain. I suffered with them about a year

"I tried other remedies but got no relief. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and could see that they were helping me. I continued the treatment and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and five boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." MISS BROADWAY OF 1930

There's a broken heart for almost every pretty girl on Broadway, and here's the reason—the prettiest, according to certain judges, of them all. In a contest, which invited the competition of all New York's musical show pulchritude, Miss Violet Carson, as you see her here, smiled her way to the title of "Miss Broadway of 1930." The prize was a ticket to Europe, a round-trip one, of course, so Violet won't forget to come home.

PROGRAM FOR OPENING SANTA ANA BOULEVARD APPROVED BY DIRECTORS OF BOOSTER BODY

The program to be followed here on Saturday, June 26, in celebration of the opening of Santa Ana boulevard, new entrance to Santa Ana from the north, was approved at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday at noon in the guest house of the Dana Point syndicate at Dana Point.

The official opening of the new artery will take place at 11 o'clock, and will be followed by a brief program of addresses at Birch park, with B. B. Meek, director of state public works as the principal speaker. Meek will reveal in his address the state's program for Orange county highways under the bi-ennium budget to be approved by the next legislature.

According to a statement by George Raymer, secretary of the chamber, at least 12 organizations along the route of Manchester boulevard will participate in the automobile parade, as Santa Ana boulevard is destined to become a part of the broad highway extending from Playa Del Rey to Santa Ana. Virtually every incorporated city in Orange county will send good delegations, the secretary announced.

The parade will form on the west side of the state highway just north of the point where the new highway connects with the state road. Ribbons at the north line will be broken by Meek and by Sam Dudlext, president of the Manchester Boulevard association, at the south end. The secretary was directed to secure, if possible, a fleet of planes to fly over the route as the procession wends its way south along the beautiful piece of highway.

The advisability of having marching and horse groups was discussed, and decision was made to eliminate them from consideration because their participation would have the effect of slowing down the procession.

There will be no attempt at the spectacular, but it is anticipated many of the cars in line will be decorated.

The business session took place in the parlor of the guest house, amid surroundings that were restful and invigorating. Following the brief session the directors were guests of S. H. Woodruff, head of the Dana Point syndicate, at a luncheon served in the patio, the menu carrying only Orange county products—avocados, string beans, squash, lima beans, potatoes and a raspberry ice.

During the lunch hour and prior to the lunch Woodruff discussed with the Santa Ana group plans the Dana Point syndicate has for making that community one of the most attractive along the Pacific coast.

Members of the directorate and Woodruff commented with emphasis on the investments Los Angeles capitalists have made along the south Orange county shore line in the purchase of properties and their development, and prediction was made that these interests would be effective in making the Orange county coast one of the greatest recreational points on the Pacific coast.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Woodruff were W. C. Jerome, president of the chamber, Raymer, Otto Haan, Carl Mock, O. H. Barr, Allison Honer, Alex Brownridge, B. E. Morthland, Walter Vandermast, Harry Hanson, C. E. Hutledge and Horace Fine.

John Lyle, general manager, and L. J. Burrud, publicity director for Dana Point, assisted Woodruff in entertaining the Santa Ana boosters.

SLIGHT LOSS IN REFINERY BLAZE

Flames rising to a height of 150 feet attracted hundreds of automobiles last night to the Pech Refinery at Dalaware and Seventeenth streets in Huntington Beach but quick action by the Huntington Beach fire department prevented extensive damage and the flames were put out within half an hour.

According to reports a gas line near the refinery, which processes waste oil from the nearby wells, blew out and became ignited. The flames burned up the seepage oil on the ground and spread to a galvanized iron pumphouse but the total damage was not over $1000, fire authorities stated today. The loss was partly insured.

A Florida Tribute to the California Fruit Growers Exchange

THE following statement was made recently by the Florida Citrus Exchange in the "Florida Grower", mouthpiece of the Florida citrus industry:

"California has unified marketing in that the growers' cooperative organization controls approximately 75 per cent of the citrus output...Florida has lacked unification in marketing, her growers' cooperative handling only about 33 per cent of the citrus crop, and nearly 150 outside concerns competing with each other in selling the other 67 per cent.

"During the 1928-29 season, California shipped 88,010 carloads of citrus, sold f. o. b. for $118,874,102. Florida shipped 62,877 cars, sold f.o.b. for $54,844,805. FORTY PER CENT MORE FRUIT RETURNED CALIFORNIA GROWERS 116 PER CENT MORE MONEY.

"Unified citrus marketing will do relatively as much for Florida as it has for California. That is why the Federal Farm Board recommends it, why leading grower-shipper groups have merged into the Florida Citrus Exchange to help bring it about and why bankers, doctors, lawyers, manufacturers, merchants and tradesmen are asked to assist growers in arranging their affairs so they may join the Exchange."

A striking testimonial to the efficiency and effectiveness of the California Fruit Growers Exchange in a year of bumper production by both states! Yet not surprising when we stop to realize the tremendous difference between orderly, systematic marketing, conducted by one capable agency having every vital piece of market information in hand...and the comparatively less well organized Florida industry.

The facts are to be expected...that Exchange members consistently average higher returns and operate at lower selling cost than any other citrus sales agency. And these benefits can be still more greatly increased as more California growers come into the Exchange.

Florida growers are coming to the same conclusion that the 12,000 California Fruit Growers Exchange members have already reached, and as more California growers are doing every year. For complete information about the California Fruit Growers Exchange, talk to the manager of your nearest District Exchange or Exchange Association. Or for further information, write now to Growers Service Bureau, California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C", Los Angeles.

WHAT THE EXCHANGE IS: The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a non-profit organization of more than 12,000 California citrus fruit growers, producing over 75% of the California citrus crop, operated by and for them on a cooperative basis. Its object is to develop the national and international market for California Oranges, Lemons and Grapefruit, and to provide a marketing organization that will sell the fruit of its members most advantageously and at least expense. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers. Applications are received through all the Exchange's 210 local packing associations, 23 District Exchanges, or at the central office in Los Angeles.

ASSEMBLY TO END MEETING NEXT SUNDAY

With study course and conferences occupying the attention of delegates and large audiences attracted to the afternoon and evening worship services, the summer assembly of the Evangelical churches of Southern California which is being held in the assembly grounds west of Santa Ana today is progressing toward its close next Sunday.

Following the morning watch service each day which is led by the Rev. Paul O. Steps, of San Bernardino, and the Bible hour directed by Bishop L. H. Seager, of Le Mars, Iowa, the sessions continue with class and study periods. The classes are in four divisions, (1) old testament, under the direction of the Rev. G. G. Schmidt, of Torrance; (2) the message and program of the Christian religion, with the Rev. E. Burgi, of Anaheim, as teacher; (3) new testament, led by the Rev. G. J. Degenkold, of the Hollenbeck Heights church, Los Angeles; (4) adolescent worship, taught by the Rev. L. M. Light, Long Beach. The noon day meditation periods are under the direction of the Rev. F. A. Zeller, of Los Angeles.

Following the assembly this afternoon, which featured the Women's Missionary society gold medal contest, a baseball game was scheduled between the pastors and delegates in attendance at the convention.

A camp fire program with songs and stunts is to be the feature tonight following the vesper service at 6:45 p. m. under the leadership of the Rev. F. Schrader, of Los Angeles, and the regular evening worship at 7:15 p. m. conducted by Bishop Seager.

The conferences yesterday afternoon were directed by the Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Boelter, Mrs. Boelter having charge of the missionary conference and the Rev. Mr. Boelterm, who is state superintendent, directing the one on religious education. The topic presented at the noonday meditation period yesterday by the Rev. Mr. Zeller was "Pentecost in the Light of Our Experiences and our Experiences in the Light of Pentecost." The Rev. Mr. Schrader's topic at the vesper service last evening was "Lessons from the Mountain." Bishop Seager based his sermon at the evening period yesterday, "Thou art—Thou Shalt Be" on John 1:42. Dr. H. J. Kirkhoefer preached at the afternoon assembly from the text found in II Corinthians, 3:18.

The regular venire was exhausted before the jury was completed and a stipulation was made to try the case with 11 jurors rather than delay while a new venire was drawn.

The plaintiff is seeking a total of $10,915 as a result of injuries he is alleged to have sustained in an auto crash near Brea early last December, when the car in which he was riding was in a collision with a truck of the oil company as it was making a left turn into the oil fields. Injuries include loss of one finger and fracture of the right knee.

Jurors hearing the evidence are L. J. Bushard, H. M. Peterson, George B. Crane, F. A. McFarren, Estella J. Webb, T. S. McCollom, J. L. Cardwell, J. B. Anthony, Maude Swarthwart, Ed H. Dierker and May Curtis.

BODY OF RIP TIDE VICTIM IS SOUGHT

Baffled by the apparent drowning of a bather at Newport Beach yesterday afternoon off Fifteenth street, the Newport Beach Fire department was making every effort today to find any clues which might lead to the identity of the supposedly drowned person.

According to F. W. Crocker, chief of the fire department and head of the life saving crew, three persons on the beach reported that they saw the arms of the bather go down. A bad rip tide caused by a cross current was running at the time and the life guards were of the opinion that the body had been drawn away from the beach.

A large crowd collected on the sand while life guards searched the water for a trace of the victim. The names of the persons who saw the tragedy were not reported.

LOCAL VOUCHER RESCUED FROM BURNED PLANE

A remnant of an airplane crash in which part of the cargo of mail was destroyed by fire, was received at the office of County Auditor W. C. Jerome this morning, in the shape of charred remains of a county voucher. The crash and resulting fire occurred near Goshen, Ind., on July 2. Enough of the warrant was salvaged to make identification possible.

The warrant had been issued to the H. R. Hunting company, of Springfield, Mass., a bookselling and publishing house, in payment for supplies for the county library. The auditor's number, 19775, and that of the county clerk, J. M. Backs, 7793, the amount, $24.20, the signature of the county librarian, Margaret Livingston, and the name and address of the Massachusetts firm could be read on the charred fragments that were sent to the auditor.

The paper evidently was in transit through a bank clearing, as it had been sent east by regular mail, and the Huntting company said in the letter that it had been advised of the matter by its bank.

Jerome said that his office had received damaged warrants in the past that had been salvaged from mangles, washing mchines and sewers, but that this is the first one that had returned from an airplane disaster. The duplicate check is being issued today.

Central Lemon Association Returns Are $171,266.26

MEMBERS SENT CHECKS TODAY FROM LEMONS

ORANGE, July 17.—With the payment for the June shipment of lemons totaling $77,823.06, reurns for growers of the Central Lemon association for the year have now reached the sum of $171,266.26, according to Roy Runnells, secretary and manager of the association. The payment was made today.

The June shipment included 102 cars of fruit and the total number of cars packed this year is 260. At the present time about four cars a day are being shipped and until recently five cars was the daily output.

Picking for the balance of the year will be above normal, says Runnells, and at the present time market conditions are fair. While hot weather in the middle west has added to the consumption of lemons in that portion of the country, the large consuming centers as yet have been free from excessive heat, Runells said.

The Central Lemon association which is located at Villa Park is the largest association of lemon growers in the world.

REV. McAULEY GIVES SPEECH BEFORE CORPS

ORANGE, July 17.—That differences of opinion should be settled in a friendly way was the thought stressed in a talk given by the Rev. Robert Burns McAuley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, in a talk given at the regular meeting of the Woman's Relief corps yesterday afternoon.

The Rev. Mr. McAuley gave several noteworthy illustrations of the effect which acts of friendship have in promoting a feeling of good will between nations. One of the most remarkable of results of friendliness was achieved in Japan he stated, when after the earthquake of several years ago, the feeling toward Americans, which had been in some instances quite bitter, was changed almost overnight. The change of feeling came as the sympathy of the American people was expressed in a practical manner by the donation of $10,000,000 to the sufferers of the catastrophe, the speaker said.

Japanese Grateful

Within three months after this time, the pastor declared, nothing derogatory to Americans was allowed to be spoken, so strong was the feeling of gratitude of the Japanese. The pastor said that he based his statements on the reports of seven friends who were missionaries in Japan at that time.

The part Lindbergh played in establishing friendly relations between France and America and Mexico and America, were told by the speaker.

Return German Tags

A recent friendly international act, the Rev. Mr. McAulay declared to be that of the return to Germany of 10,000 German identification tags which had been brought to this country by American soldiers as souvenirs at the close of the war. Doubt and uncertainty of the fate of these soldiers would be laid to rest by this act, the speaker said.

The history of the United States is written around its wars and wars are often caused by misunderstanding, said the speaker as he related incidents of the Civil war.

Solving Race Problem

The work being done by a Chicago member of the Rothschild family in Chicago was told by the speaker, who said this wealthy man is donating $2,000,000 in an effort to solve the race problem. This man is big enough, wise enough, tactful enough and rich enough to accomplish great things, the speaker said. Money he is investing is represented by well equipped negro hospitals and negro colleges, it was said.

An interesting illustration of how difficulties may be settled when violent means would result disastrously, was given by the speaker. The pastor said that when sheet metal solidifies a bulge may form in the center and that this bulge may be removed by pounding gently at the edges of the metal toward the center.

Settle Disputes

By this gentle means the bulge is removed before the center is reached, said the speaker. "Don't hit the sore spot," advised the speaker.

Differences often arise between cities, said the speaker. They may arise between Anaheim and Orange or Santa Ana and Anaheim, or between Orange and Santa Ana. These differences may be settled in a friendly manner, the pastor said he believed.

Love and friendship play a larger part in the establishment of friendly relations than is generally believed, said the Rev. Mr. McAulay, in closing.

Mrs. Fred Baier was in charge of the meeting and an entertaining program included violin and piano duets by Mrs. Winifred Sutton and Daisy Baylor, and a humorous history of California was read by Mrs. C. W. Coffey.

MRS. CASSIDY PASSES

ORANGE, July 17.—Sarah A. Cassidy, 80, South Lemon street, passed away in a Los Angeles hospital yesterday. She has been ill for a number of years. Her surviving relatives all live in the East. She was a member of the Presbyterian church of Orange and also of the local Ruby Rebekah lodge.

THREE CIVIL WAR VETERANS PLAN TRIP TO CINCINNATI FOR NATIONAL CONVENTION

ORANGE, July 17.—Three old soldiers of this city who were enlisted in the ranks of the blue during the Civil war, will soon pack up their knapsacks and start on their way east to answer the roll call of the remaining soldiers of the great conflict when they meet at Cincinnati, Ohio, August 24, at the national convention of the G. A. R.

These men are J. W. Edwards, John McKibben and George Washinton Hall, members of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The three comrades are anticipating the event with more than usual pleasure for they have been present at a number of the national conventions where old battles will be refought and where famous generals will live again, as wartimes are recalled.

Many old friends are to be greeted and the Orange men keep up a correspondence with many of the comrades of their companies disbanded at the close of the war.

McKibben marched with Sherman to the sea and previous to enlisting heard Lincoln and Douglas debate. The soldier relates how at one time surgeons were about to remove his leg, having placed him on the operating table, when another surgeon decided to try to save the limb which had been piercer by a bullet. "The only pain killer I had was a silk handkerchief which I stuffed in my mouth," McKibben relates.

Hall's grandfather fought in the Revolutionary war and was unwounded in three years of action.

The Orange post had 11 members, the oldest of which is Henry O. Reel, now of Colton, who is 98 years of age. The youngest member of the post is Eugene Mattison, who is said to be about 80 years of age. Other members are L. E. Taubee, Henry C. Plotner, J. W. Edwards, Samuel Armor, D. T. Moore and Solomon Lintz.

Hall also looks like a man in the late sixties, can name the state for which each star on the flag stands and give the date of the admission of the state into the union.

VILLA PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pryor of San Juan Capistrano, entertained the following guests at Sunday dinner, the occasion being their little daughter, Carmen Jean's first birthday: Mr. and Mrs. R. F. The Villa Park Ladies' aid held its regular meeting at the church Tuesday afternoon, spending most of the time in piecing a quilt which when finished will be sold. There were seven ladies present.

Friends of the Rev. W. I. Newman of Hemet will be glad to know that he is recovering nicely from an appendicitis operation performed last week at Long Beach.

Guests of William Bathgate sr. on Monday were Mrs. Guy Williams, Mrs. Robert Scott and her mother, Mrs. Little, and Mrs. William Bathgate jr., of San Juan Capistrano.

Mrs. March and Mrs. Jessup visited in El Modena on Sunday.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ADDED TO RELIEF CORPS

ORANGE, July 17.—Three new members, Mrs. Clarence Higgins, Mrs. Ruth Huston and Mrs. Nellie Tannehill, were initiated at the meeting of the Women's Relief Corps here yesterday afternoon.

Other business to be transacted by the organization was the perfection of plans for two social events. The first of these will be a card party to be given Saturday evening in the A. R. Smith hall in the Smith and Grote building. The affair will open at 8 o'clock and both bridge and five hundred will be played with attractive prizes for both. Mrs. Gladys MacDonald and Mrs. George Merriman will have charge of the party. The other event will be an afternoon card party in the home of Mrs. A. P. Sides, 118 East Palm street. Mrs. Hart Pennington will be co-hostess with Mrs. Sides.

Letters of appreciation from the three war veterans adopted by the corps were read and it was reported that Mrs. George Niles, a member of the organization, who has been ill is somewhat better.

Announcement was made of the Federation meeting which is to be held at Costa Mesa July 28.

Miss Isabel Allobach, director of the home service department, of the Southern Counties Gas company gave an interesting talk after the covered dish luncheon which was served at noon. Miss Allobach explained methods of cooking and the use of gas appliances

CHANGE DATE

WESTMINSTER, July 17.—A change in the meeting place for the next gathering of the Happy Workers society which is to be held Wednesday, July 23, is announced. The pot-luck dinner, which was to have been held at Recreation Park, Long Beach, has been postponed and the regular meeting will be held at the same date, Wednesday, July 23, at the Westminster church hall. The change of plans was thought preferable on account of the infantile paralisis epidemic.

It is an old Japanese belief that the world was enclosed in an egg before creation, which egg was broken by a bull.

Great Fun

The Best Yet In Gliders

The PLAYBOY FOLDING GLIDER is shot straight up 100 or 150 feet by a special rubber. This is possible because in the folded position it goes up like an arrow. The air holds the wings folded until the glider reaches the pinnacle, when they open. It will then make one loop and gradually circle and glide to the ground.

Provides Hours of Fun

As the PLAYBOY GLIDER does not depend upon a small propeller and lightness to lift it into the air, it is made very sturdy. The wooden nose protects it if shot head on into a wall. If a wing hits any obstruction, it simply folds back and after freeing itself the wing opens and continues its flight.

It will be followed by the Shoppers' Guide, with music, from 5 to 5:45 p. m. and reading of news of the day from 5:45 to 6 p. m.

Following the program by Berkey, the Scheffer sisters, vocal duo, will entertain from 6:15 to 7 p. m. The 4-H club program will be on the air from 7 to 7:15 p. m., after which the Union Mutual Life program will be heard from 7:15 to 7:30 p. m.

Elizabeth Reeves Hubbard, with piano and song selections, will entertain from 7:30 to 8 p. m. Kansas Kal's Old Timers will be on the air from 8 to 9 p. m. and Jack Tapscott, with guitar and song selections, will entertain from 9 to 9:30 p. m. The American dance marathon contest at Huntington Beach will come to listeners by remote control from 9:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Artist To Take Her Listeners On Radio Tour

Elizabeth Reeves Hubbard, who will present piano and song numbers over KREG from 7:30 to 8 p. m. today, will take her listeners on a "tour to her home town."

"We go from sunny California to scenic Mexico for sight seeing, then back to Arizona and from there into Texas," said the singer in explaining the program. "Then we go into Louisiana and on up the Mississippi on an excursion to that 'darky thoroughfare' on Beale street in Memphis, Tenn. Last of all will be the visit to my old home town in Kentucky."

Property Owners Sign Road Deeds

BOLSA, July 17.—Property owners of this district have received blank deeds which they are asked to sign giving ten foot right-of-way on either side of the Bolsa boulevard that the road may be made 80 feet in width. The matter now being taken up here corresponds with that already seen to on the west portion of the road, from Midway City, west, when the several miles on to the ocean was mostly deeded for this purpose.

As the boulevard on First street now lacks but one mile of reaching the Garden Grove boulevard, east of Bolsa it is expected that the widening of the road here will be a matter of but a short time.

Property owners are responding quite freely to the proposal and a majority sending the deeds back signed.

LAGUNA BEACH ORCHESTRA TO PLAY ON RADIO

Using "The Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert as the "big" number of the program, the Laguna Beach Little Symphony orchestra will be heard Friday from 8 to 9 p. m. over KREG, by remote control from the First Congregational church.

The orchestra will broadcast from the Congregational church because the 33 members of the organization would be too crowded in the regular quarters of KREG.

Anna Priscilla Risher, director and founder of the Little Symphony orchestra, announced that she will use the same program which the Laguna Beach organization played the evening of July 15 in the Redlands bowl. The program follows:

1.—Overture—"Merry Wives of Windsor"—Nicholai.

2.—Waltz from the Ballet, Dornraschen-Tschaikowsky.

3—"Unfinished Symphony"—Schubert.

4—Trio for Piano, Cello and Violin—Cadman. (Orchestration by Anna Priscilla Risher.)

The soloist will be Gretchen Kuenhy, cellist. She will play "Romanza," by Risher, and "Scherzo," by von Goens. Miss Risher will be at the piano. Miss Kuenhy, one of the youngest of the concert cellists, has been a soloist with the Laguna Beach orchestra.

Anna Priscilla Risher, the director, has brought into being an organization of musicians who have begun to attract attention in this part of California. The Redlands bowl invitational program is but one of the honors this Little Symphony orchestra has received. Miss Risher, in an interview, said:

"I have built from the inside out and not from the outside in. I am no believer in trying to make an orchestra of distinction by the use of money and influence. A real Little Symphony orchestra must be made from the material and talent available in our own town."

WILL BROADCAST FARM PROGRAMS

Beginning each day at noon and continuing 10 minutes, talks of interest to farmers, growers and producers will be given during the week beginning July 21, under the auspices of the agricultural extension service, co-operating with KFI, as follows:

July 21—"Water Injury of Avocado Trees," an article by Parker and Horner, of the citrus experiment station; July 22—"Truck Crop Question Box," by F. H. Ernst, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county; July 23—"Natural Enemies of Scale Insects in Santa Barbara County," by E. S. Kellogg, agricultural commissioner, Santa Barbara county; July 24—"California Tree Friends," by Woodbridge Metcalf, extension specialist in Forestry, University of California; July 25—"College of Agriculture News," by W. H. Williams, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county, and July 26—"4-H Club Program."

There's a new and easy way to gain in energy, vigor, ambition and health.

And at the same time lose the fat you don't need and don't want.

Take a generous half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts every morning in a glass of hot water—don't miss a morning, but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

A jar that will last you a month costs but 85c at Mateer's Drug Co., Givens and Cannon or any drug store anywhere in the world.

When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost—after that you'll tell your friends that Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat man's money.

After you have had your daily supply of Kruschen every morning for a couple of weeks you'll get what is known in Great Britain as "that Kruschen feeling."

The urge for activity will fill your entire being—you'll not be content to sit in the old arm chair after your day's work is done.

You'll feel the spirit of youth within you—what a joyous feeling—you'll want to take long walks, play games and your work will cease to be a hardship—it will become a pleasure.

Your old time ambition will return—you'll arise early filled with the joy of living—no grumbling at the breakfast table—your keen appetite will cause you to relish everything that's put before you.

For Kruschen Salts—not one salt—mind you—but the six vital salts that Nature says your body must have if your life is to be a happy, healthy one.

Kruschen Salts will help you to lose fat—it keeps your kidneys, liver and stomach in such good shape that they perform their functions properly, keeping the system free from poisonous waste. Its tonic influence reaches every organ, gland and fibre in the body, bringing good health to all who put their faith in it.—Adv.

Grand Old Man of the Trotters

Walter Cox has been training and driving harness horses for over 45 years, and has probably brought in more winners than any man since the days of "Pop" Ed Geers

By BERT NEVINS

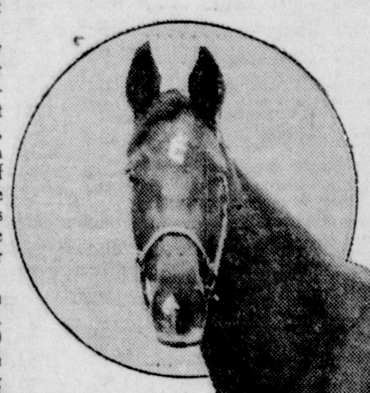

Though more than 60 years of age . . . Cox drives his own horses in all important races . . . not because he feels he is the best driver in the world . . . but because he feels he knows his horses best.

THERE'S a certain man toddling about the Good Time Racing Stables at Goshen, New York, these days, staring intently at horses' hoofs, mumbling imperatively to helpers, and waiting impatiently for reports.

He is Walter Cox, the greatest of all trainers of trotting horses, and his actions are the same each year at this time as he prepares for another light harness turf season.

Watching Cox work, he seems to be no more than 50 years old. Speaking to him, he sounds over 100. In reality, he is 61 years of age, 45 years of which he has spent in the trotting game.

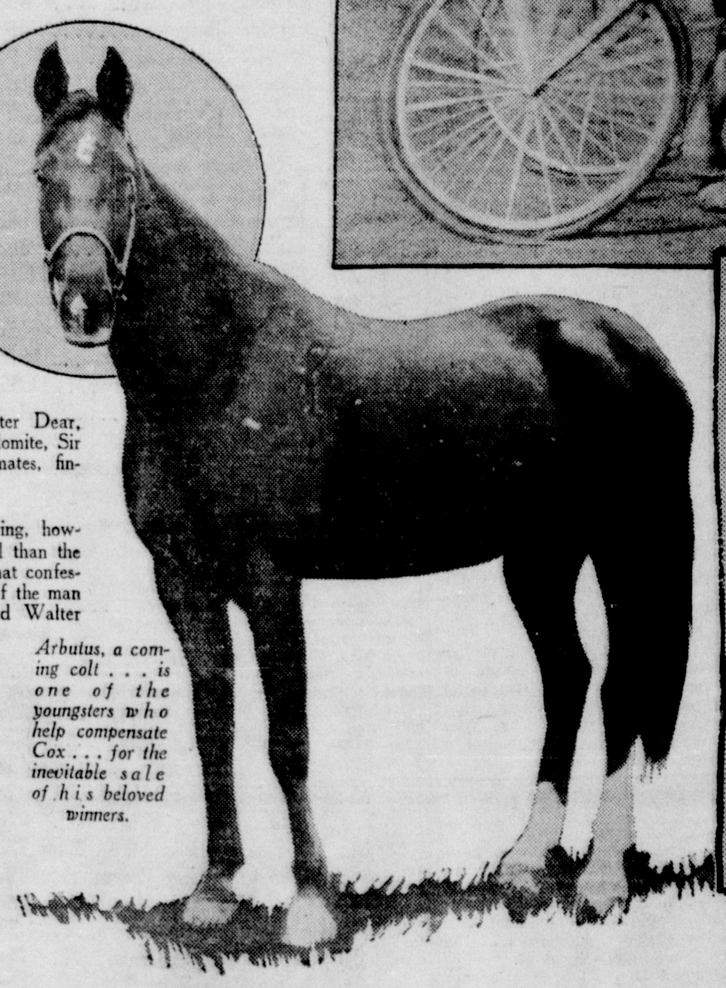

During his long career, in which he has been both a trainer and a driver, Cox has raised and driven more money horses than anybody in the world. Just how many winners he has had he can't say. But his friends insist that he has brought home at least 500 winners.

Last year, he not only trained three-year-old Walter Dear, the outstanding trotter, but also piloted the colt in all of his winning races, gaining for his stable, as a result, the grand total of $57,000 on the one horse and, together with earnings on the others, became the greatest money-winning driver of the season.

In the Hambletonian Stakes at Lexington, Ky., October last, with $60,000 in prizes—the richest purse in the world for trotters—being offered, Cox's colts placed first, second, third and fourth. Walter Dear, driven by Cox, won the event while Volomite, Sir Guy Mac and Miss Woerner, stablemates, finished in the order named.

IT WAS Miss Woerner's fine showing, however, that gave Cox more of a thrill than the victory of Walter Dear, and from that confession can be determined the personality of the man and his secret of success. He expected Walter Dear to win, but he never dreamed the other colt would place in such a big race. To be sure, he knew that Miss Woerner was of championship caliber, but he didn't think she would click until this season. And so, it tickled him pink to see the colt come through.

Arbutus, a coming colt . . . is one of the youngsters who help compensate Cox . . . for the inevitable sale of his beloved winners.

As the father of a prodigy goes around bragging about his offspring, so did Walter Cox praise his Miss Woerner. To him all the colts are his children. He brings them up, watches them grow and glories in their successes. Is it any wonder, then, that he produces so many winners each year?

In looks, Cox is a typical trainer. He always wears a slouch hat, set off at an angle only turf followers can attain. When he talks, his eyes glare at you through horn-rimmed glasses and seem to reflect a certain amount of shrewdness. In a seven-card stud poker game his face takes on the appearance of an experienced gambler.

EVEN in conversation, Cox radiates his environment. Habitually he uses the word "damn" for emphasis. He'll tell you that he's too "damn" old to get out of the game now, and that he has made a "damn" good living at it. Confidentially, he'll reveal out of the side of his mouth that he couldn't quit the trotting game if he tried, for "it gets into your blood and sticks there."

But, it's when he takes you to one of the stalls and starts recounting the deeds of the animal occupying it with paternal pride that you feel you have uncovered the real personality of the man. You see, he and his wife, Emma, have never had any children. All his life he has raised colts and they are almost like a family to him now.

Because he holds such an affection for horses, Cox has never been much attracted to any other animal. He has a dog, named "Bob," but he doesn't feel any extraordinary fondness for him. Should he run away, Cox insists that he'll never bother chasing after him. Not one of the 30 or 40 cats who scamper around the stables is his friend, either. He just has them there to keep the mice away from his colts.

That he cares little for animals, other than horses, is further evinced by the fact that watching cockfights is his hobby. Since it's against the law in some places to stage such combats, he has to rely upon cards to furnish his diversion.

THE warm-heartedness he feels for horses doesn't burn only when victory comes their way. Witness the time old Dick McMann was driving Cox's horse, Jerry B., in a race. It must have been at least 20 years ago. The colt had won two heats and so had the opponent, making the next the deciding heat. As it so happened, Jerry B. lost the race.

But Cox felt it wasn't the animal's fault but McMann's poor handling and, therefore, tried to console the horse the best way he could. He gave the colt special attention the next three or four days in order to impress him that he wasn't angry over the showing.

It is because of the incident, too, that Cox drives in races today. He wants to help his colts as much as possible and doesn't want any of them to lose out because of bad driving. Don't get the idea, though, that he's egotistical and that he thinks he's the best driver in the world. He merely knows the tendency of his own horses and can determine what handling must be given them.

Offhand, he can't say which one of his horses he'll drive in the Grand Circuit races this season. Maybe he'll try out each one of the top-notchers. Walter Dear is gone, you know, William H. Cane, the owner and Cox's boss, having sold the colt for $25,000 to a German stable last winter. The price paid was the largest of the year for a trotter and was accompanied by the sale of Hazleton, another one of Cox's horses, who for $15,000 was also traded to Germany.

Miss Woerner is still with him and some of the other good trotters are Guy Day, Arbutus, Athelonia Guy and Brother Guy. As he is always bringing new ones to the front, it wouldn't be surprising to see a colt, other than those named, win the leading stakes this summer and fall under his colors.

COX has no special training method, except that he, personally, looks after the welfare of every horse in the stable and tries not to have more interest in one than another. Four boys, Carl Dill, Ted Horan, Bert Yaton and Stanley White, help him out with the check-up daily and drive for him occasionally in races.

After trial heats, Cox can always be found in his office, studying charts, but, usually, he is on the outside.

Not always does he treat the colts kindly, although he has never beaten one in his life. As fathers sometimes get angry at their little ones and spank them gently, Cox, too, when displeased, growls at his colts. If he is trying to get them to stand up straight—for a picture, for instance—and they move about, one word from him and they stand still.

The only regret he has is that he so often loses his horses after raising them. "That's the trouble with trotting today," Cox argues. "When a trotter wins a few large purses, according to the rules of the game, he can only race against other outstanding stake-winners. You see, competition is held by classes and there's never enough horses for the high-winner division. So owners send them abroad."

Walter Dear and Hazleton are the more recent of the hundreds of horses Cox has had taken away from him and because he has so many he lets you think he doesn't mind it very much. Still, it hurts him severely to lose a colt he has raised.

ON THE whole, he is pleased with the game today and assures you that it is very much different than when he first started at the age of 16. At that time Ed "Pop" Gears was the champion trotting racer and, like all kids interested in horse racing, Cox idolized him. Then, after serving a short apprenticeship as stableboy and helper, Cox started training horses in New Hampshire at 18.

His first and only big thrill came when he won the Grand Circuit race at Empire City track in 1903. Prince of Orange was the name of his horse and $1000 the amount of money gained. It was not only an unexpected victory, but one attained from a last-minute rally, and, boy, those are the kind that are long remembered.

Cox even goes further back than that, though, to show you the changes trotting has undergone in the many years he has been a part of it. Today there are four organizations which rule the sport, namely, the National Trotting Association, the American Trotting Association, the Harness Horse Association and the Canadian Trotting Association, wielding power in different territories. If you approached a club 35 years ago and told them that their races weren't being held in accordance with the national rules, they would have thought you crazy. And they wouldn't hesitate to tell you so.

And that's exactly what happened to Cox in one case. A horse of his had lost a race in a county fair at Pittsfield, New Hampshire, and, knowing that it wasn't the colt's fault, Cox fought for him. It seems the winner should never have started against Cox's horse, as she wasn't eligible under the national rules of the big associations.

Thirty or forty cats around the stables . . . are tolerated because they keep mice away from the horses. . . . . Portrait sketch of Walter Cox by Sports Artist Laufer

COX went to the officials and told them so. "We are running races here," shouted the head judge, "under the Suncook Valley Fair Association rules and not the national ones."

Such a thing would never occur in trotting today for, according to Cox, the associations are much stronger because there is a better class of people interested in the game. Every season Cox sees the same friendly faces back at the track. His wife is always a spectator at races and travels around the circuit with him.

Trotting conditions may have been revised considerably but Cox thinks that the driving ability of the stars of today equal the prowess of those of yesterday. Gus Macy, Dick McMann, Tom Murphy, M. E. McHenry and Jack and Gill Currie were all great drivers in the good old days but Ben White, Fred Eagen, Harry Stokes, Milly Lease, Doc Parshall and Nat Ray, who grace the tracks at present, appear to be just as good. And Cox ought to know, for he has raced against them all.

It is the opinion of Cox that no comparison can be made between trotting horse races and running horse races. "The former is a marvelous sport," claims the veteran trotting figure, "while the latter is merely a gambling game."

Of course, Cox doesn't deny that considerable betting is done at trotting tracks, but the environment is different. He believes that there is no better class of people in the world than trotting horse owners, who enter the game not to get rich quick, but for the pleasure they derive out of it. He has been with his present boss now for eight years and likes his association very much, as do the hundreds of riders and trainers with whom he comes in contact.

As far as he knows—and who would know more—trotting is strictly on the level. "If anything crooked is around, I don't see it," says Cox, who admits, though, that there used to be plenty of framing years ago.

Cox has no superstitions on or off the track, and "takes things as they come." He is, however, very careful about his health. Should you, by chance, see him scratch his finger, you will also see him immediately apply an antiseptic to it. Too, on rainy days he always wears rubbers.

SUCH precautions he also takes with his horses, which, more than anything else, depicts the fatherly interest he has for them. Stableboys say that he actually worries himself sick when a horse of his falls ill and he isn't relieved until assured that the colt is well again.

Despite this sort of painstaking care, tragedy has come into even the stable of Walter Cox, as into all others. One such occasion was the sudden illness and death of Fireglow, a colt who set a new world record in the running of the Kentucky Futurity in 1927, covering the mile in the remarkable time of 2:04.

Cox himself drove the winner in that race, which veterans say has no equal for sheer thrills from start to record-breaking finish. Fireglow wasn't rated up to his competition, because his sire had been San Francisco, mere "common folks" in the trotting world.

But the little red chestnut colt was a fighter! Spencer, a fine colt, was pushed ahead purposely at the start, his driver knowing that Scotland, his nearest rival, hated to trail. Cox played safe, keeping Fireglow in third position, right behind Scotland. A hum of excitement swept the stands, for the spectators could see that a record-breaking pace was being set and followed.

Just beyond the three-quarter pole, Spencer sagged, and let Fireglow come up to fight it out with Scotland for the last 150 yards. The gallant soul of Fireglow brought him through in a whirlwind finish to beat Scotland by nearly a length. It was this gallant little colt which died suddenly just before a big race at the North Randall track in Cleveland—the sort of thing which comes near to tragedy to a dyed-in-the-wool lover of horses like Walter Cox.

Radox Bring Foot Comfort To America

Nothing Like It Ever Sold by Druggists Before

Corns—Callouses—Burning Feet

Now you can buy Radox in America at any up to date drug store. Mateer's Drug Store is selling dozens of packages a day.

Three or 4 baths according to directions and your corns and callouses are gone, your tired, burning, aching feet are changed to strong vigorous ones and bear this in mind—

If Radox doesn't do as advertised—money back.

Getting a corn out needs only a few Radox footbaths. In the last few years millions of packets of Radox have been sold to corn sufferers. Here is a typical letter:—

"My wife had a very bad corn for several years on the ball of the foot, and four smaller ones on the toes, also hard skin which was very painful. After a few soakings in a Radox footbath the hard skin began to peel off, and the corns came right out after a week. It is a pleasure for her to walk now." E. S.

1st November, 1929.

Radox contains four different Salts. One banishes odor, one is antiseptic, one softens the water, and one releases oxygen which carries the softening salts right to the roots of corns which are thus loosened so that they can be lifted out bodily. Only Radox contains this fourfold combination. —Adv.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has such a wonderful record for quick, safe and lasting relief even in chronic and stubborn case, that Schramm-Johnson says try HEM-ROID at my expense. Nothing is more obnoxious to a newspaper reader than wading through a ream of red tape in hot weather.

Short, snappy stuff hits the spot when the thermometer gets up around 90.

Yet I am going to burden the clients with a lot of intricate stuff today.

In view of the uncertainty of fandom concerning the rules of the night baseball games they attend through the summer, I believe a recitation of the chief regulations is worth while—and timely, even if it is warm.

I have obtained these from the hustling, hard-working president of the National Night circuit—George Washington Peterkin.

For the most part, regular, hardball rules apply to the night game. Those which follow are some of the exceptions:

Base Runners: Must not leave base while pitcher is legally in box with ball, or after pitch until ball is hit or has passed batter. Penalty is automatically out.

If with less than two outs and with first and second, or first, second and third occupied, the force play occurs and fielding team successfully makes its play, only to find that umpire at previous base nullifies its work by declaring runner at some previous base out for leaving such base too soon, then the umpire shall consider it as a forced play and allow both outs.

Ground Rules: Umpire-in-chief shall write down ground rules as agreed on by two managers and have each manager sign them before game starts. If managers are unable to agree, umpire-in-chief will make ground rules:

Players' Conduct: Players who conduct themselves in a manner to discredit league must be put out of game. In out of the ordinary cases umpires must notify president.

Interference: Unless fielder is actually in act of catching ball on base line, runner is entitled to path. Umpire must use his judgment as to whether fielder was compelled to obstruct runner. The run-up is not to be confused with fielding.

Diamonds: Baselines are 45 feet. Pitching distance is 35 feet. Bases must be anchored and base lines, coaching lines and batters' box laid out.

NIGHT LEAGUERS BEGIN TITLE DRIVE

Favor Macias Over Allen In Match Tonight

MORENO PICKED OVER GABUCCO IN SEMI-FINAL

Rated as a sharpshooter with either hand as well as a strong, smart defensive fighter, Jack Allen, Cuban welterweight champion, is conceded a chance to whip the rough, tough and rugged but wide open "Wild Man" Macias at the Orange County Athletic club here tonight.

Macias, however, is as game as they make 'em and it calls for a pretty good fighter, probably a better one than Allen, to take his measure.

Scaling 150 pounds, the welterweights are scheduled to step 10 rounds, two more than many of the recent southside windups.

This will be the second Macias-Allen set-to. The first, waged July 1 at Las Vegas, Nev., terminated in a draw although ringsiders claimed six of the ten rounds for the Los Alamitos Mexican and said Macias got all the worst of the verdict.

First Match Was Warm

All seemed agreed that the match was one of the hottest in Las Vegas fistic history, however, and that Promoter Henry T. Foust was fortunate in signing the principals for a return engagement. Allen's invasion of Southern California made this possible.

The main event is well supported and the action epidemic should extend through most of the preliminaries. In fact, the semi-final between Tony Moreno of Placentia and Jess Gabucco, Hollywood Filipino, ough to steal the whole show.

Gabucco stopped Moreno in one round a year or so ago but the odds will be with Tony tonight. Gabucco has gone back in the past year whereas Moreno, a great prospect if properly handled, has improved amazingly. Moreno should win by a knockout, unless his timing is bad because of his extended absence from action.

Thomas vs. Koshell

Mickey Koshell and Mickey Thomas, welters, will do the six-round special. Thomas is a Seal Beach boy who has usually given a good account of himself here. Koshell is one of those fellows with all of the natural qualifications but little else. He frequently disappoints but looks better than the light-hitting Thomas at that.

Cliff Burrier, popular Santa Ana lightweight, is paired with Frankie Hirsch in one of the four-round spots. Cliff is tabbed to win by a knockout.

Promoter Foust introduced a couple of novice middleweights in the eye-opener. "Bud" Austin of Los Alamitos meets Ben Stinson of Placentia. There is no way of knowing which is the better.

Enchantress Is Honolulu Race Victor

HONOLULU, T. H., July 17.—The yacht Enchantress, owned by Morgan Adams, arrived here last night, winner of the trans-Pacific race from Los Angeles to Honolulu.

The trim vessel docked at 10:22 p. m. after a journey of 12 days, 12 hours and 52 minutes.

Originally picked by yachtsmen as the probable winner on account of its superior size, the Enchantress lived up to expectations by out-distancing its rivals from almost the start of the race.

The Contender, reported second in the long race, was not expected to arrive here until a later hour today.

YANKEE TENNIS TEAM OPPOSES ITALY FRIDAY

NEW YORK, July 17.—America's youthful Davis cup team prepared today to meet Italy in the 1930 inter-zone finals without the aid of three tennis' brilliant internationalists—William T. Tilden II, William Johnston and Francis T. Hunter—who played in major roles in the U. S. Davis cup record of the past decade.

Tilden, who teamed with Johnston to retain the international supremacy for seven years, will be present when the matches open tomorrow at Roland Garros stadium, Auteuil, France, but only in the role of coach and advisor. Hunter, veteran of three Davis cup campaigns, and Johnston have retired from international play.

With the famous triumvirate off the squad, America's hopes were centered on Wilmer Allison, John Van Ryn, George Lott and Johnny Doeg. Allison, Van Ryn and Lott saw action in the Davis cup challenge round last year and Lott played in the inter-zone competition in 1928, but Doeg will be making his first appearance in European Davis cup play.

The American team is regarded as an almost certain winner over Italy and the matches held interest chiefly as a test of the United States' prospects in the challenge round with France.

ALLISON, DE STEFANI TO CLASH IN OPENER

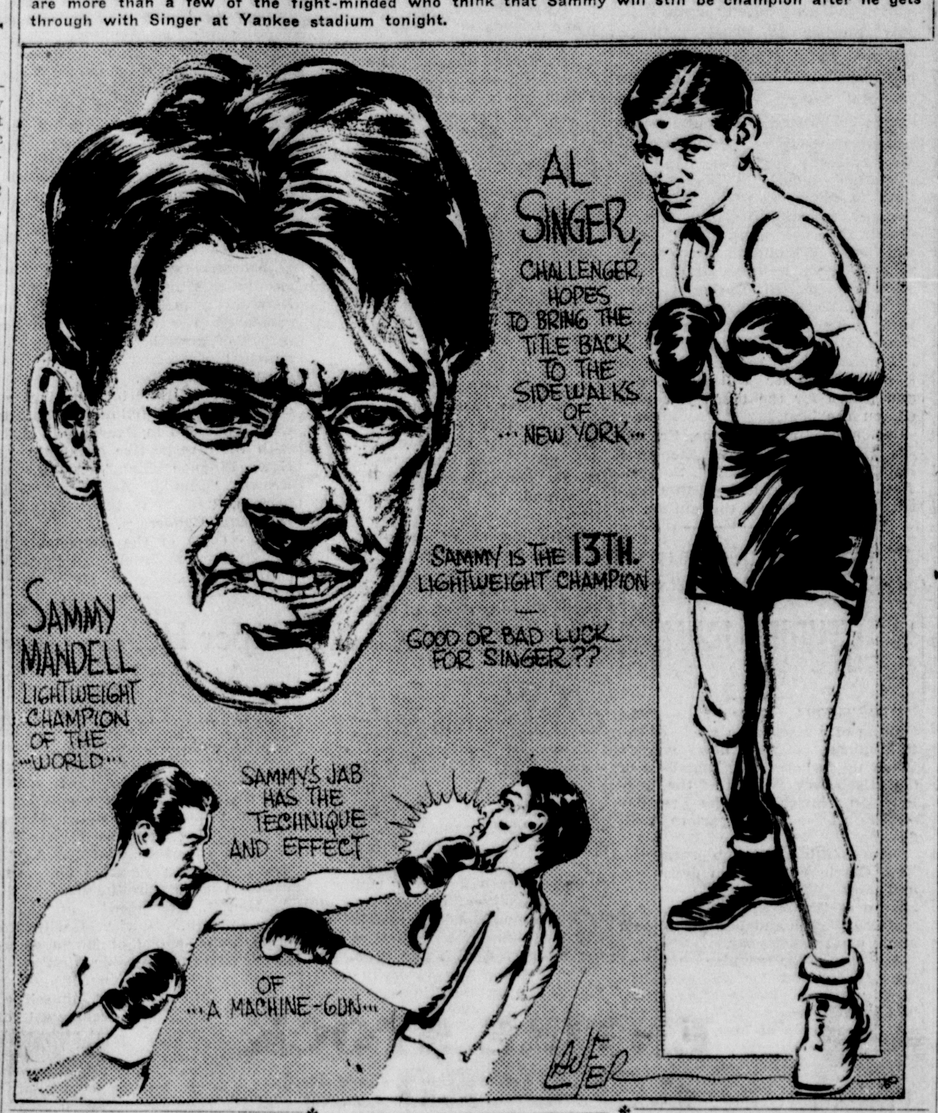

PARIS, July 17.—Singles drawings for the inter-zone Davis cup finals between the United States and Italy were held at noon today.

MANDELL PREPARED FOR DEFENSE OF TITLE

Old Man Samuel Ricardo Mandello was lightweight champion of the world before Al Singer, challenger, ever fought in a prize ring. Singer was still one year away from his first professional fight, when Sammy outstabbed the veteran Rocky Kansas for the title in Chicago, July 3, 1926. And there are more than a few of the fight-minded who think that Sammy will still be champion after he gets through with Singer at Yankee stadium tonight.

BLUE LARKSPUR PICKED TO WIN ARLINGTON CUP

CHICAGO, July 17.—Odds on Blue Larkspur to win the Arlington park $35,000 cup race Saturday lengthened today with the withdrawal of Gallant Fox, king of the 1930 three-year-olds, because of sulkiness.

Indications that Blue Larkspur, junior champion of last year, would be the favorite at post time were seen after the animal negotiated a mile-and-a-quarter trial heat in 2:05 3-5, faster than many races of that distance are run. Rumors also were heard that Misstep might be withdrawn.

Victory for Gallant Fox in the Arlington Cup race would have established him as a claimant to the all-age championship.

Gallant Fox has won nearly $300,000 this year and the $35,000 Arlington Cup purse would have made him the leading money winner of all time.

Jockey Earl Sande, who rode Gallant Fox to his major victories, including the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes, may ride Victorian, winner of the $10,000 Agua Caliente Handicap, in the cup race, it was reported today.

GALLANT FOX WILL RUN IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, July 17.—Gallant Fox will be shipped to England.

Immediately after the running of the Gold cup at Belmont park, the mighty son or Sir Gallahad-Marguerite will be placed aboard an Atlantic liner.

This is to allow the sensational performing colt to become fully acclimated before being asked to start on British soil.

Gallant Fox will race in as many stakes as he may prove eligible. The Ascot Gold cup is the main objective of his trip abroad.

Gallant Fox is to be raced a full season in England. Following this foreign campaign he will return to the United States for stud.

M'Larnin Refuses $20,000 for Bout

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Jimmy McLarnin wants nothing to do with any bouts offered him in Los Angeles, even if his exclusiveness costs him $20,000.

The fighter was on his way back to Vancouver today after rejecting a match with the winner of the Billy Townsend-Joey Medill rematch here Monday night.

Night Baseball Game Goes To 19 Innings

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 17.—(INS).—The Oklahoma City and St. Joe baseball teams of the Western league today held what is believed to be the record for long night baseball games.

The two clubs battled here last night for 19 innings before Oklahoma City pushed over the run which gave it a 4-3 win, neither team scored from the fourth to the nineteenth inning.

Jones of Oklahoma City and Tutweiler of St. Joe each pitched the entire route and each yielded nine hits.

PHYSICAL TEST TO DETERMINE ALEX'S FUTURE

DALLAS, Texas, July 17.—Grover Alexander, who for two decades has seen his name written high in the records of baseball, faced a possibility of permanent retirement today.

Bob Tarleton, vice-president of the Dallas Texas league club, announced "Alex" would be given a physical examination which would determine the pitcher's future with the club.

Meanwhile, Alexander is under suspension and waivers have been sent out. The waiver price is $1500 and no other club has indicated willingness to meet the price.

Tarleton said his decision was reached when Alexander failed to appear at the ball park Tuesday when he was scheduled to pitch. It was the second successive day Alexander did not show.

"Such action isn't fair to our patrons," Tarleton commented, in making the announcement.

Wykoff To Rest; Withdraws From Pittsburgh Meet

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Frank Wykoff, U. S. C. sprint king and holder of the world's 100-yard dash record, was definitely withdrawn today from the National A. A. U. championship meet at Pittsburgh next month.

The young speedster gave up plans to race Eddie Tolan, George Simpson and other stars at the Eastern meet on advice of his coach, Dean Cromwell, and his family physician.

MANDELL DOWN TO 134: FACES SINGER TONIGHT

NEW YORK, July 17.—Sammy Mandell weighed 134 1-2 pounds and Al Singer 133 1-2, when they were examined today, for tonight's 15-round bout at Yankee stadium for the lightweight title.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 17.—Sammy Mandell, who started life with the mein and grace of a ballroom dancer and finished with the lightweight championship of the world, must dance as never before tonight or pay the piper's usurious toll.

He will meet Al Singer, brash with the confidence of the young, in a 15-round fight for the championship and those sparkling feet must match, with guile, the speed and daring and vigor of the other or they will halt abruptly to dance no more. The eyes is quicker than the hand but Mandell is gambling tonight, as always, that the feet are quicker than both and it is not to be said that the records play him false, yet, if the will of the majority is served, he will finish the evening bereft of the title that has been his for five years.

There is always an air of breathless drama about a fight in which the champion is expected to expire. It gets down into the corpuscles and makes the blood race. It lends the thing a fictive glory. It fools you and makes you like it very much. So upward of $175,000 will come through the gates tonight to see the new champion crowned. I think it very possible that it will stay to see the old champion win.

The boys have managed to become highly unimpressed with Mandell as he comes forward to make this, his second actual defense of the title. They don't like his legs. They say his 10 years in the ring number 2 too many.

The weight, they add, is getting him and, finally, that he never was a great fighter. As to that, if anyone will show me a great

Anapauma to Play Champs Here Sunday

D. Eyman Huff's crack Ana-Pauma Rancho baseball team will play a post-season game at the Orange County Fair grounds Sunday with Encinitas, champion of the Inter-County league, an organization comprising four clubs from Orange county and four from San Diego county.

Preceding the skirmish, a silver championship trophy will be awarded the Encinitas squad. There also will be a program of Spanish music, singing and dancing. Ceremonies will begin at 2 o'clock.

The Anapaumas have been playing high grade ball of late and are rated an even choice against the high-powered Southerners who barely nosed out the U. S. Marines of San Diego for first place in the league race.

PRINTERS PLAY BUILDERS FOR TITLE TONIGHT

A little thing like a championship will be the spoils over which the Dennis Printers and the Orange County Builders' exchange quarrel in the bowl tonight.

Meeting in the second half of a double-header, at 8:15, the Printers and Builders will decide the first half title of the Santa Ana City night baseball league—if the Printers win. If the Builders get the verdict, however, the teams will be tied and something or other will have to be done about it by the lunar loop's commission.

The first part of the twin bill pairs the Excelsior creamery and the Eastern Oil company at 6:45. They are playing the last game of the first week of the second half of the schedule.

Colors of the American Legion and the Richfield Oil company were raised after last night's double-header.

The Legionnaires routed the Courthouse, 14 to 7, while the Richfields were taming the Auto Club of Orange county, 4 to 2.

Both Earl Jones and Les Boyle were hit hard in the Legion-Courthouse affair, but the Legion made its blasts count for more than the Parliamentarians.

The other set-to was a mound duel between Ed Perry for the Clubmen and Fred Miller of the Richfields. Miller limited the Club to two hits.

JACKSON STOPS WRIGHT

FINAL QUARTER OF GREAT RACE OPENS FRIDAY

Ten National Night league baseball teams begin their stretch run tomorrow night. The championship will give itself up inside of the next month.

The fourth and final quarter of the greatest season in the history of after-dinner ball gets under way with games in Santa Ana, Anaheim, Whittier, Huntington Beach and Orange.

Olive, ever a stumbling block in the Stars' path, plays in the Santa Ana Bowl. The Packers hold two decisions over Herb Salveson's men already this summer.

As the "big shots" turn into the straightaway, Santa Ana holds what virtually amounts to a full two-game lead over its dangerous adversaries. Despite the transfer of one of its most brilliant players, Orville Schuchardt, to the fold of one of the Stars' warmest rivals, the Salveson entry looks strong enough to hold its lead to the wire.

Stars Have The Edge

Playing smart, inspired, de termined baseball, the Santa Anans won seven of their eight games since the second half of the split schedule began. They may not do as well through the fourth quarter but they have this advantage over the others—they don't have to in order to win. The pressure will be on the others more than the Stars. Anaheim, La Habra, Whittier and Long Beach simply can't afford to lose another game. Santa Ana can. That is why the Stars' chances look good.

Anaheim probably is in better shape than any of the other contenders.

George Pace has a fine pair of pitchers in All Bushman and Joe Ochoa, a very good defensive organization and a highly improved offense with Schuchardt and "Cy" Mann in the lineup.

After making a show of the field through the first half of the season, Whittier faltered badly. "String" McDonnell is not going as well as expected so Lloyd Johnson will have to bear the brunt of the pitching. The Quakers are absolutely out of the race if they lose another game and it is doubtful whether they can win nine in a row.

Acorns May Help S. A.

Long Beach is greatly improved but hardly strong enough to survive the strenuous two-a-week campaign. The Acorns will be troublesome, however, and by spilling some of the leaders are likely to make Santa Ana's lot easier. The Stars don't have to play them again until the last night of the season.

La Habra has the pitching and may slip through. Its chances appear to be better than any of the Stars' pursuers except Anaheim.

Garden Grove, a good hitting team, and Olive, always dangerous, will just be trouble-makers. They don't have much chance of getting the flag.

Huntington Beach has slumped along with Howard Morning. Orange and Fullerton have been disappointments.

A schedule for the rest of the season follows:

July 18.—Olive at Santa Ana; Garden Grove at Anaheim; Fullerton at Whittier; Long Beach at Huntington Beach; La Habra at Orange.

July 22—Santa Ana at Fullerton; Anaheim at Olive; Orange at Garden Grove; Huntington Beach at La Habra; Whittier at Long Beach.

July 25—Santa Ana at Anaheim; Garden Grove at Olive Long Beach at Fullerton; La Habra at Whittier; Huntington Beach at Orange.

July 29—Garden Grove at Santa Ana; Anaheim at Long Beach; Olive at Orange; Whittier at Huntington Beach; Fullerton at La Habra.

August 1—Santa Ana at Huntington Beach Long Beach at La Habra; Fullerton at Olive; Orange at Anaheim; Whittier at Garden Grove.

August 5—Santa Ana at Orange; Anaheim at Whittier; Garden Grove at Long Beach; Olive at La Habra; Huntington Beach at Fullerton.

August 8—La Habra at Santa Ana; Anaheim at Huntington Beach; Garden Grove at Fullerton; Olive at Whittier; Orange at Long Beach.

August 12—Whittier at Santa Ana; Fullerton at Orange; La Habra at Anaheim; Huntington Beach at Garden Grove; Long Beach at Olive.

August 15—Santa Ana at Long Beach; Orange at Whittier; Anaheim at Fullerton; Garden Grove at La Habra; Olive at Huntington Beach.

HOOKS and SLIDES

by William Braucher

DOES A LOW BLOW HURT?

Interesting testimony comes from the Rhineland where the French army of occupation has just evacuated and Maxie Schmeling has moved in. Herr Doktors have examined the Hamburg Hammerer and discover he is suffering a varicocele as a result of that low blow of Sharkey's.

This comes on the heels of assertions by some of the country's most expert boxing writers to the effect that a low blow does not hurt a man and that he can go on with a bout after a short rest. And it is most interesting in view of he recent decision of the New York boxing commission to abolish the foul as a cause for stopping a fight.

IT HAD TO BE DONE

I do not believe the protector has been invented that absolutely protects a fighter from injury by a low blow. It is true, of course, that many boxers claim fouls who are not hurt at all. They leave the ring on their own power a few minutes after they claim foul. It was with the idea of protecting the public against this type of unsatisfactory ending to a bout that the commission legislated so sternly against all fouls. It was a long step but something had to be done.

In this regard I asked Paul Swiderski, the sad-eyed Pole of Syracuse, the other day if he had been struck low in many of his fights and how it felt. Paul is a light-heavyweight, but he has been battling heavies for some time and his rousing knock down and drag out at Louisville the night before the Kentucky Derby was a spectacle I'll never forget.

MICK HANDED HIM ONE

"Sure low blows hurt," said Paul, "and I still carry the effects of one that Mickey Walker handed me in Louisville.

"The fight, as you remember, was conducted without very many rules to speak of. Once the police were in the ring, once Kearns and Lenny (Harry Lenny, the Pole's manager) started trading socks right in the ring. Each of us bounced off the floor a number of times. I had Walker out on his feet early in the bout, and he was fighting in there by instinct most of the time.

"Well, just as the bell rang ending the third round, Mickey let a wild one go and it took me right in the groin. I went over on my face and felt very sick to my stomach, but they pulled me over to my corner and after they had spilled a little water on my head, I felt all right again.

CARRIES THE MARK

"But I'm still carrying the mark of that punch, and it was a pretty good stock, too, because Walker can jolt you when he lets one go. My injury and Schmeling's are about alike. But I don't think one low punch will stop a fighter, if he has the right kind of a protector. And the right kind of heart."

I think the Sad-Eyed Pole's last sentence speaks volumes. It was largely because boxers have shown consistently the wrong kind of hearts that the ruling against foul blows was enacted.

The heart, I think, is even more essential than the protecttor.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

When Washington held a Joe Judge day recently in honor of the veteran's 15 years of service, Uncle Frank Navin of the Tigers and Foxy Clark Griffith of the Senators waived all intake at the gate over 9000 admissions in favor of Joe . . . The attendance was around 18,000 and Joe got a nice check for $7442.75 . . . which is better than flowers and speeches. . . . "Bucky" Harris, looking ahead, is giving Jimmy Shevlin, first baseman from Holy Cross, a taste of the big league sauce. . . . Gene DeSautels, the new Tiger catcher, also is a Holy Cross boy. "Muddy" Ruel says the kid will be a great catcher. . . . Roger Bresnehan, coach of the Tigers, has been giving Gene a few tricks he learned when he was catching Matty, Sallee, Marquard and a few of the other Giant hurlers. . . . Uncle Frank Navin seems to have the inside track at Holy Cross.

ghter today, I'll guarantee to show m an alligator with sunburn.

Anyhow, they even have been ttling darkly about the fight lf, which only goes to show w even a great mind will spoil it is left out in the sun too ng.

Mandell hasn't as much as a emish to show for his 10 years action. He is not the man to spattered all over the first ree rows by some humpty- mpty from Council Bluffs and, ough he has been hit by ex- rts, he has seldom forsaken the rpendicular. He has done 35 unds, for example, against Jimmy cLarnin in the last two years thout being seriously inconveni- ced or abashed. McLarnin hit m, of course. So did Tommy Gro- n, Tony Canzoneri and Billy Pet- lle.

I think, in fact, that if there any significance to be taken om this, it is that he is being t with greater frequency as the ars go on. However, if Mandell ill was the man who defended e title here against McLarnin years ago, there wouldn't be argument and, after the sixth und, there probably wouldn't be y fight. It is the fact that andell is presumed to have slip- ed that gives Singer his great hance tonight.

Otherwise, it seems reasonable to xpect that the champion, having ade weight only twice in five ears and being abstemious almost eyond reason, will come up to this ght with at least some of the eed and stamina that once were s. He also will summon the eat trinity that will be his al- ays—experience, smartness, brav- y.

He can't be a bad bet, particu- rly as a short-money choice. aybe he has lost a split-second the speed in his head and eye nd hand. Maybe the weight, 135 ounds at 2 o'clock, will take more ut of him than he ever can put ack. Maybe he is just a fighter ho has held the title long enough. If so, it will need all of these ings to make Singer win. The tter is a good boxer and a fair uncher. He has made some good ghts and some bad ones. His ands are fragile. He fights at his est against undersized men, of hich Mandell is not one. He robably is a year away, meaning hat his development is still to ome.

ut he has youth and maybe will be enough. I, for one, am illing to be convinced.

BOUT BOARD UPHELD IN DENYING LICENSE

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—The state athletic commission's right to absolute discretion in issuing promoters' licenses was upheld in a decision on file today in Superior Judge Walter Guerin's court.

Fred Young jr., seeking a wrestling permit, testified the board denied it on the grounds that Lou Daro, another promoter, had lost money here in starting a wrestling arena and that he should be protected.

Young said he had $100,000 to start promoting and asked the court for a mandamus writ compelling the commission to act.

Judge Guerin ruled the state legislature gave the board full authority in permit matters and he had no right to interfere.

WEST TO ENTER DOGS IN SANTA BARBARA SHOW

Four Scotch terriers from the Malibu kennels of Z. B. West, Orange county district attorney, will be entered in the dog show at Santa Barbara Saturday, it was learned today. West's dogs, which include some famous champions, are well known in kennels and have won numerous prizes at shows.

Entrants at the meet Saturday are "Heather Ambassador," a new dog the district attorney has just obtained, and which is one of the best bred dogs in America, the son of two English champions, and has been shown in just one other show in America, where he won the prize; "Lady Bug of the Malibu," winner at the Ambassador dog show held recently in Los Angeles; "Miracle of the Malibu," who placed second at the Ambassador show; and "Peterkin of the Malibu," who won the prize at the last Pasadena show.

The show is to be held on the pole field at Santa Barbara and is known as the Santa Barbara Kennel club show.

GUARD UNIT IS PREPARING FOR TRAINING CAMP

At its last session, the Santa Ana city council voted a donation of $200 to the mess fund of the local National Guard units, which will leave here Friday night for Camp San Luis Obispo, where they will enter upon a two week field training course.

Both Company L and Headquarters Company, 3rd Battalion, 185th Infantry, including a personnel of five officers and 81 men, will be tendered a farewell dinner just prior to their departure, by the American Legion Post No. 131. Among the units included in the Third Battalion are the headquarters and rifle companies, Santa Ana; rifle companies, Orange and Riverside; and the machine gun company, San Bernardino. The headquarters and machine gun companies are the most recently acquired units and this year marks their first time in camp. Families and friends are urged to partici pate in the official sendoff.

In Los Angeles the local companies will join with the other two battalions of the 185th infantry. Included in the entourage will be the first battalion, with headquarters company; machine gun company, Pasadena; and rifle company, Pomona, Mourania and Ontario.

The officer personnel of the three Santa Ana companies has changed since the last encampment. Major Donald L. Kinans, who last year commanded the rifle company, is now head of the battalion. Captain Chester J. Cain, prominent in American Legion circles, recently was appointed commandant of Company L. The headquarters company is under the command of First Lieut. James B. Pettit, who last year went to camp with Company L as second lieutenant. There are also numerous changes in the Orange units.

The donations being solicited for the mess fund have more than surpassed previous expectations. This assures the men of such delicacies as ice vcream, pie, candy, etc., not found in the usual government rations.

The conference is to be composed of executives and heads of departments of Farm bureaus and their wives. According to Smiley, discussion of the fundamentals of agriculture will feature the meeting.

Court Notes

Asking that a contract for purchase of property be rescinded, that the money paid be returned and deeds exchanged, Burton J. Merrill and Gladys H. Merrill have brought suit in superior court against Beulah W. Howland, et al. It is alleged that the house sold by the defendant to the plaintiffs, which is located in Fullerton, was in bad condition from dry rot at the time of the sale, whereas it was represented as being in good condition. The complaint asks judgment cancelling a note and trust deed in the amount of $2890; accounting by the defendant for money received as cash payment; and return of title to property in Massachusetts which was part of the transaction, as well as asking that the contract be rescinded.

Petition for probate of the will of Anna Lundin was filed yesterday with County Clerk J. M. Backs by Fred Backs. The value of the estate is set us as approximately $10,000.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H Fletcher's signature.

The Chance of a Lifetime to get plus value in Tires

The majority of people who read this advertisement are going to need tires this season; the time to buy them is right now.

Crude rubber is cheap; as a result tire prices are the lowest in history.

You can actually buy at this time the world's best tires for no more money than you used to pay for inferior or unknown tires.

You can buy Goodyear Tires on an extreme low-cost-mileage basis, and that is exactly what smart buyers are doing.

The special advantages to be enjoyed from Goodyear Tires are due to definite Goodyear superiorities in both tread and carcass, the two main parts of a tire.

The Goodyear All-Weather Tread is superior in traction, and everybody wants sure-footedness underwheel.

The Goodyear Supertwist Carcass is superior in vitality and long life, and this means economy and freedom from trouble.

These superiorities are not imaginary; they are real.

Now is the time to get YOURS

Any Goodyear Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the facts.

And the facts unmistakably are: Goodyear Tires do give greater value.

That's why Goodyear sales are going ahead at a rate surpassing any previous record.

That's why impartial investigation shows a nation-wide preference two-and-a-half to thirty times as great for Goodyears as for any other tire.

That's why Goodyear builds annually millions more tires than any other manufacturer in the world.

That's why more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!

The dominance enjoyed by Goodyear Tires is not temporary or new—it has flourished for fifteen years strictly on a basis of superior quality.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book, "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 170 Varick St., New York, N. Y.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875. —Adv.

STRUGGLES OF INDIA RELATED BY MISSIONARY

India is full of interest for the entire world in these days of progress and modernism. That she is struggling through a period of history living is evidenced daily in press reports from the Far East. Much of the information readers here receive is twisted and distorted, according to statements made today by Miss Doris I. Welles, prominent leader in the Calcutta Hindustani work.

Sent through the Methodist Episcopal church of Santa Ana, of which the Rev. George A. Warmer is pastor, Miss Welles is an active representative of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, Bengal conference, on the mission fields in India. After serving six years, the young Santa Ana woman returned to this city for a year's furlough and the inspiration of her work was felt here by all religious societies before which she lectured. She returned to the foreign field late last fall.

Despite the sensational exaggerations of certain journalistic reports, Miss Welles declares in a letter that all over that land business is becoming more or less paralyzed. Picketting, boycott, civil disobedience, strikes, unrest of all kinds and discontent with the present order of things, are among the problems enumerated by the missionary that must be faced in the commercial and industrial world there. Difficulties are caused largely by lack of unity between the Hindus and Mohammedans, between high castes and low castes.

"How can a country so torn asunder within herself rule herself if she should get 'swaraj'?"

This question is asked and answered by the missionary, who asserts that there is no such thing as non-violent disobedience to the law of the land. Whereas Ghandi makes much of this, Miss Welles insists it is only anarchy by another name. "And if the youth and children are taught this sort of thing while they are growing up India will find herself in a sad way to rule herself when she gets the chance. Her leaders have been sowing the wind and they cannot escape reaping the whirlwind,

RULING OPENS WAY FOR PARK PROJECT HERE

The supreme court decision returned yesterday opens the way for the state park program that has been inaugurated and removes legal barriers that were delaying progress in connection with the purchase and creation of a state park on the beach in Orange county. The question of whether or not a county could purchase land and transfer it to the state had been brought up in Los Angeles county and the matter was taken to the supreme court for a ruling.

The court ruling yesterday declared that there was both statutory and constitutional sanction for a transfer of the county owned land to the state for public park purposes, as provided in the state park bond act under which the proceedings are being had.

The special appraisal committee, appointed some time ago by the board of supervisors to place a valuation on the land along the beach between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach, which is the proposed state park site in Orange county, held its final meeting yesterday at the court house and agreed on a figure that would be reported to the board of supervisors. The report was filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs, who is clerk of the board, and it is anticipated will be opened at the next session of the board.

No figure would be mentioned by members of the appraisal committee in advance of the report being opened by the supervisors, but indications were that a much lower price had been set on the tract than originally mentioned when the matter was brought before the attention of the supervisors this spring by a group interested in the project, which was headed by Tom Talbert, former chairman of the board of supervisors.

At the meeting of the committee yesterday, a representative of the appraisal committee which has been retained by the state park board to set a value on the tract, was present and an effort, it is understood, was made to agree on a price that could be recommended to both bodies. There is a possibility that there may be a slight variation in these figures when they are announced, however.

The tract under consideration is approximately 10 miles in length and includes some exceptionally fine beach frontage. The site is regarded as being ideal for a state park, with transportation facilities being provided by the state highway and the Pacific Electric line. It has been reported previously that the state would spend large sums in putting the tract into shape and in maintaining it as a park.

It has been proposed that a bond election be held to provide funds for the county's share of the purchase price, the state and county paying for the tract on a 50-50 basis. Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, stated today that the board probably would open the report Tuesday, but that he had no idea what action would be taken or what the attitude of the board was on the matter. In commenting on the possibility of a bond election in connection with the project Chairman Smith said that the move would have to come from the people of the county.

SOVIET 'YOUTH' ORDER NOT PRESENT IN ORANGE COUNTY

Check up with leaders in work among the youth of Santa Ana and Orange county, following the announcement yesterday that the movement known as "Pioneers of America," which has been organized widely throughout the east, is connected with the Soviet government in Russia, revealed that the organization is not found here, although there is reported to be a branch in Los Angeles.

The organization, ostensibly a patriotic order organized along lines similar to scouting, really is an under cover activity of agents from Russia and is attempting to subvert the principles of American government through training of youth by the Soviet leaders. Discovery of its ramifications and connection with Russia was announced in New York yesterday.

County Boy Scout headquarters and Y. M. C. A. officials, who are closely in touch with organizations among the young people of Santa Ana and Orange county, reported that the "pioneers of America" has not invaded the county.

BOYS SEEK ENDURANCE FAME ON WATER WINGS, FLAG POLES AND TEETER TOTTERS TODAY

BY UNITED PRESS

The nation's youth has gone marathon crazy.

Boys and girls today sat in trees, atop flag-poles and light standards, teeter-tottered toward doubtful fame, pedaled bicycles in seemingly endless circles, danced far past the exhaustion point and to cap the climax the juvenile population of Huntington, W. Va., planned an endurance water-wing contest.

The craze started a week ago today in Racine, Wis., when the "pioneer" tree-sitter, Jimmie Clemmons, mounted a bough and announced he would sit there indefinitely. He lasted 36 hours but his example has spread the length and breadth of the land until almost every city has its quota of "air minded" youth.

Not to be outdone by the tree sitters, the bicycle riders pedaled into action, four youths announced a backwards automobile trip across the continent, Chicago dance marathoners passed the 2,000-hour mark, flag-pole sitters, their fame challenged, extended their hours and two girls see-sawed in Evansville, Ill., to a world's record, if there is any such thing.

The title of "World's premier tree sitter" rested today with 10-year-old Billy Kearney, of Kansas City, but his fame was threatened in a dozen cities. Only last night the "champion tree sitter," Jack Richards of Kansas City, decided his record was unbeatable and made a "three point landing." His honor was fleeting, however, for Billy remained aloft and soon passed the 156 hours Jack had set.

In El Paso, Tex., Dorothy Dykes, 9, climbed into a tree early yesterday to show that "women are just as good as men are." Dorothy, who wants to be an actress when she grows up, is still sitting, surrounded by many lesser satellites, in the same position.

Other forms of marathons have a vogue too, as five people, if they still can talk, in Chicago will testify. The five, lone survivors of a dancing contest, have worn out many orchestras in 2,300 hours of "dancing" and are still going.

A see-saw contest among children in Evanston, Ill., that had progressed for many long hours, was stopped when anxious mothers missed hungry children for dinner.

In Chicago Frank Ward, 19, climbed a telephone post and announced to the world he was staying there until he got a job. No employment has been offered yet during Frank's first day of "work."

Fourteen year old Nick Getty resumed his tree sitting today—without a hitch—in a tree transplanted to his own backyard in Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Nick went up at 4:12 p. m. Monday in a tree that starts in the backyard of Vincent Cherry's home. The branches on which Nick sat, extends over the Getty backyard. Cherry is ill. Mrs. Cherry threatened to have Nick evicted because of the noise of the refueling crew.

Thirty friends went to the woods today, chopped down a tree, and Nick transferred to the chopped tree. The friends carried it several hundred feet away to a tree that would not infringe on the property rights of the Cherry family.

Ralph D'Agostino, who slid from his perch in his backyard at Brockton, Mass., last night, claimed the title of world's champion flagpole sitter today with a record of 819 1-2 hours. It was "something for shipwreck Kelly to shoot at." D'Agostino, who said he could have remained up "indefinitely," will go aloft again if Kelly beats his mark. It represents 34 days and 3 1-2 hours.

Alvin "Shipwreck" Kelly, pioneer in the flagpole sitting ranks, began his 26th day before large crowds peering upward from the board walk at Atlantic City, N. J., and said he anticipated no trouble recapturing his championship title from Ralph D'Agostino of Brockton, Mass.

Bicycle endurance contests went ahead relentlessly in Newark, New Brunswick, Jersey City and Hackensack, with riders from the latter city in the lead.

Although Jimmy Dooley, head of the Hackensack team, was hit by an enemy baseball, he managed to keep his mount in progress until relieved. The Jersey City aggregation plans to keep going until September if their machines last that long.

Disgruntled Joseph Donnelly, 15, held a three-hour local record for tree sitting endurance at Stamford, Conn., and pondered on the "unreasonableness" of the law which barred him from the fame of the Hunters and the Shipwreck Kelleys.

Cheered by several enthusiastic fellow sophomores of Stamford high school, Joe ascended a tall maple tree yesterday, bent on achieving a tree sitting record comparable to those established by midwestern youngsters. Well into his third hour, however, he was ordered down by police with his only claim to fame—"Stamford champion."

Lured by offers of free food and subsidies of money, many youthful aspirants for tree-setting honors wandered about Camden, N. J., looking for strategic trees.

One boy started the parade when he selected a perch in front of a meat store. The proprietor offered him 25 cents a day for the first four days of his "sit" and a dollar a day thereafter.

Two other boys, hearing about this, contracted with the proprietor of a grocery store to supply them with 25 cents a day and all the food they can eat for sitting in a tree in his backyard.

Meanwhile, Vincent Morrisey, 13, and Anthony Scott, 14, the pioneer record sitters, completed 63 hours at 10 a. m. today. They were reported to have made seven dollars so far, selling newspapers.

FINALS STAGED IN HORSESHOE CONTEST HERE

The horseshoe season on the playgrounds was finished yesterday afternoon, as far as the junior high school boys are concerned, when the champions of the various playgrounds met at Edison playground for the city finals.

In the singles division, Joe Koral, of Edison playground, won the city championship. Other playgrounds finished in the following order: Roderick Dresser, Lincoln, second; Bruce Harnois, Roosevelt, third; Richard Clem, Franklin, fourth, and Dave Strying, Lathrop, fifth.

In the doubles contest Robert Schwarm and Alvin Cass, representing Lincoln playground, won the city championship. Lowell playground was second, represented by Jack Conner and Ralph Lambert. John Birt and Felix Duenas, from Edison, came in third. Fourth place was taken by Harris Warne and Dale Smith for Roosevelt playground. Lathrop playgrounds champions, Elton Broakes and Gene Miller, ended in fifth place, and Lawrence Velarde and Walter Hendrie, who held the championship at Franklin playground, came in sixth in the city contest.

This afternoon the champions at the various playgrounds in the elementary division met at Lathrop playground to determine the best horseshoe pitcher in this class for the city. Results of this tournament will be announced tomorrow.

The Stage Coach Breaks a Record

Twenty days across the continent! In October, 1858, in the midst of the wildest excitement, the first mail was brought into Los Angeles by the Butterfield Overland Coach. The successful arrival of this coach in the west called forth a telegram of congratulation from President Buchanan. From then on, service was improved, until but an average of 18 days was needed to travel from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts by stage coach.

Sketched from a photograph of one of Rio Grande's "cracking" units.

YES—IT "CRACKS" ... LITERALLY

Rio Grande overlooks no opportunity to employ the most modern refinery processes to insure maximum and consistent quality in its trademarked products. The most up-to-the-minute Rio Grande equipment is the "cracking" process, utilizing intense heat and pressure to tear asunder the molecules of crude oil that form a gasoline high in anti-knock quality.

No ordinary pieces of machinery are these monstrous steel giants, which through delicate instruments maintain even quality in their output. The control room, deep in the heart of this giant and hundreds of feet from the "cracking" towers, guards the exacting specifications that mean motoring satisfaction to you. Thus, Rio Grande can truthfully be said to be—"Tuned to Modern Motors."

Young Couple Were Honored at Jolly League Party

Bidden to a treasure hunt Friday evening, as members of the Young People's League of the First Congregational church, Miss Dorothy Haynes and Norman Hicks, whose marriage is to be an August event, little suspected that they were the incentives for the gala affair. Nor was it disclosed to them until the merry guests, about 30 in all, were completing their round of various homes where they were served courses of their progressive supper, and were established in the Frederick Eley home on West Fifth street for the dessert course of ice cream and cake.

The jolly party gathered first at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivon MacFarlane, on East Walnut street, where a mysterious map with hidden clews, led to the home of Misses Carol and Geraldine Smith, 437 South Broadway. There the fruit cocktail course of the evening meal was served, buffet style. Journeying on to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Russick, on South Flower street, the league members were surprised to find a single cracker apiece awaiting each of them. With their appitites now fully in readiness for a complete meal, they journeyed to the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Friend at Costa Mesa, where they enjoyed the main course of the supper. It was during their next stop at the Frederick Eley home that the coung couple were surprised, and Miss Haynes and Norman Hicks were presented a code, a map and a key, leading to the hiding place which was sheltering a handsome electric clock for their future home. This was the gift of the league. Both Miss Haynes and Mr. Hicks have been active members of the organization, Miss Haynes having been their president the past year.

Bridge Group Meets For Enjoyable Afternoon

Carrying out the informality which is especially delightful during the summer months, Mrs. S. E. Blancher entertained members of a little bridge club yesterday afternoon in her home at 327 East Washington avenue. Sheafs of gladioluses in a variety of pastel tones lent attractiveness to the setting.

When the results of the afternoon's card games were noted, Mrs. J. F. Richards, the guest of the day, was presented with a lovely etched plate of the frosted ware now so popular, as the award for holding high score, and Mrs. R. M. Silkwood was consoled with a daintily embroidered towel. Refreshments were served in the afternoon.

Those present other than the hostess, Mrs. Blancher, and one guest, Mrs. J. F. Richards, were Mesdames C. O. Romsdal, George Mills, F. A. Hall, C. E. Jasper, R. M. Silkwood, and Miss Eleanor Guyer.

Ebell Day Nursery Needs Refrigerator

According to a report given out by Mrs. C. A. Bach, president of the Day Nursery board of Ebell society, the Day Nursery is in much need of an ice box, especially now during the summer months, as the ice box now in their possession is not efficient. Anyone, who has a refrigerator not in use, and who is willing to donate it, is asked to phone Mrs. Bach at 2815-W.

Today there were 21 children in the nursery, which is sponsored entirely by the Ebell club members. For the past three years, the nursery has been self supporting, with funds made from the serving of dinners, bazaars, and other means, and has not even had to draw from the treasury of the general board.

Guests Enjoy Musical Program at Tea In Spencer Home

A cool and delightful haven was offered yesterday to members and friends of Torosa Rebekah lodge, in the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer on North Park boulevard, where Miss Muriel Kuhl, new head of Torosa Rebekahs, entertained at a tea musicale as a benefit for the chapter.

Quantities of flowers, culled from the lovely gardens of the home, were used in decoration, the blossoms and their foliage stressing the Rebekah colors of pink and green. Especially attractive were the dining room appointments, where Mrs. William Kesemann and Mrs. Edna Kinsella presided at the tea table. The table was spread with a priceless lace cloth laid over a pink foundation cloth, and centered with delicate pink flowers flanked by slender green tapers. Refreshments carried the color theme as well, including tempting little pink and green mints with the ices and refreshing tea.

Musical numbers included violin and piano selections by the popular young Mustol sisters, the Misses Nathalie and Evelyn, violins, and Virginia, piano. Their program included the Sextet from "Lucia di Lammarmoor," Schuber's "Serenade," and "Serenade in A Major." The Misses Betty Ellen Mitchell, Helen Newbold, Gwendolyn Griffin and Lois Newbold, pupils of Miss Gertrude Stebbins of the Santa Ana School of Dance and Expression, added entertaining readings to the pleasant afternoon.

Bridge Club Members Join in Shower for Recent Bride

Although all the meetings of an informal little bridge club of which Miss Mary Hilyard is a member, are especially enjoyable, that at which Miss Hilyard herself presided last night in her home at 1328 Durant street had spesial features that set it apart from other meetings of the summer.

These delightful features all had as their center of interest, the club bride, Mrs. Joseph Catherina, who prior to her early July marriage in Yuma, was Miss Myrtle Meyer. The first hint that Mrs. Catherina received of the special courtesies to be extended her, came when prizes were distributed at the close of the evening's game. Miss Lula Ott received first prize and Mrs. James W. Murray, consolation. Then the hostess announced that there was a special prize which Mrs. Catherina had won, and presented her with an assortment of kitchen utensils, all in the blue tones she has chosen for her home. These were gifts from the hostess and individual members, and Mrs. Catherina thoroughly enjoyed opening the attractively wrapped and tied packages.

When Miss Hilyard called her guests to the dining room for the late supper hour, the bride again found herself the center of interest, for everything on the table suggested romance. A cunning wee bride and groom centered the shining damask, while slender pink candles flickered at each corner of the table. The pink and white motif was stressed in the rosebud-decked nut cups and in the dainty refreshment course served.

As the final surprise event of the evening, Mrs. Catherina was presented with the gift of the bridge club as a whole, the plates and sherbet cups in etched topaz to add to the crystal set which she is assembling.

Sharing the enjoyable affair with hostess and honoree, Miss Hilyard and Mrs. Catherina, were Mrs. James Murray, Miss Justine Whitney, Miss Helen Gallagher, Miss Elizabeth Perkins, Miss Elizabeth Campbell, Miss Lula Ott, Miss Harriet Whidden, Mrs. Emma Van Deusen and Mrs. . E. Mayhill. Only one member of the club was absent, Miss Lorraine French, who is enjoying an Alaskan tour.

Autumn Style Trend Is Shown at Review

While just at present, Santa Ana women, like their sisters throughout the Southland, find that their chief interest in dress lies in selecting the coolest possible garments for informal beach and mountain wear, yet the feminine mind persists in turning questioningly to what is promised for more formal autumn and winter wear.

Therefore the New York style show just presented by the Garment Retailers of America, will be of interest to woman readers of the Register and will give them an idea of what may be expected in the style trend of the coming season.

The feminine knee, for instance, has been an object of lively interest to fashion arbiters. And according to this style show held in the eastern metropolis, it will remain modestly covered—at least until spring. While all skirt lengths will cover the knee, it was indicated that dresses for sports wear would clear the floor by a good 14 inches. Other hemlines, however, will vary to the ankle or lower for extremely formal wear.

The October bride, according to the styles shown by graceful models, will hark back to the "gay nineties" to borrow several ideas from mother's wedding gown. She will wear a full-blown bouffant costume in satin embroidered in pearls.

The Grecian influence will dominate the new dress silhouette, although the more lively Russian aspect will also be prominent. The natural waistline will be observed, more clearly defined by belts or pinched-in effects. Coats will have the bloused effect and both coats and dresses will be cut close to the hips.

That once simple garment, the pajama appear in all the glory of 1930 dress-making at the show in a wine-colored creation of transparent velvet, with a train. Styles varied widely.

The latest garb for the aviatrix was revealed as white gaberdine, with belt, ankle and wrist band of galons elastiques.

Four new words were added to the color vocabulary. They were "Love Pink," "L'Inossance," "Minuet" and 'Vert Deau."

Other fashion trends were indicated as follows:

Black and white will be particularly prominent. Other leading colors will include copper, wine red, dark green, brown and bisque tan. Blues, pinks and off-whites will predominate in evening gowns. Metallic cloths will feature formal afternoon and evening wear, as well as Lyons and transparent velvets. Cloth dresses will be fashioned from lacy tweeds and wool crepes.

Ermine and sable will be the choice for evening wraps and red fox, fitch, galapin, Persian lamb, mink and natural lynx for other garments.

Dresses will depend for embellishment chiefly on fringes, embroideries, belts, and in formal evening attire, rhinestones.

Miss Joplin Presents Informal Luncheon In "Our Village"

In keeping with the gay informality of summer entertaining, was the swimming and luncheon with which Miss Boyd Joplin yesterday complimented Miss Mary Parker of Los Angeles, who, like Miss Joplin, is vacationing at Laguna Beach.

Miss Joplin's friends spent the morning hours on the beach and in the surf, and at mid-day, she assembled them in the Mad Hatter, attractive little modernistic cafe reminiscent of Alice in Wonderland. Its gay orange and green appointments — orange marigolds and linens and pale green table service—were most inviting, and the luncheon menu was an enjoyable one.

Asked to share the pleasant affair with Miss Joplin and Miss Parker, were the former's mother and sister, Mrs. Marjorie Joplin and Miss Rebecca Joplin, Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson and her sister, Miss Juanita Snyder, who are among the summer residents of Our Village; Miss Kate Benton of La Crescenta, Mrs. Frank Hess of Los Angeles; Mrs. Edmund West, Mrs. Russell Wilson and Miss Enid Twist of this city.

Surprise Shower Was Feature of Party

Mrs. A. K. Chamberlain of West Walnut street was the incentive for a surprise shower, yesterday afternoon, when members of a little club who met in her home for a few hours of bridge took the opportunity to present her with a number of delightful gifts.

When the scores had been added it was found that Mrs. Earl Leper held high, and was awarded a lovely bath towel, while Mrs. J. E. Echols was consoled with an ice box dish. During the refreshment hour, the card table covers were removed, and in their place the hostess spread green cloths which added their cooling note to the atmosphere.

A special guest of the day was Mrs. J. E. Echols. Members present other than the hostess, Mrs. Chamberlain, were Mesdames J. F. Jacoby, M. V. Enos, J. P. Cozard, J. A. Wright, L. F. Bittle, A. B. Tayes, E R. Leper, L. White and M. E. McKay.

Santa Anans Enjoy Travels In Orient

Among Santa Anans to whom the lure of far places was quite irresistible this summer, were Mr. and Mrs. John A. Swanner of 201 East Sixteenth street, and their many friends have been interested in lively accounts of their wanderings through the Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanner sailed in the early summer on the Dollar liner, the President Lincoln, stopping at Honolulu, Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai and Hongkong, reaching Manila in June. Latest word from the travelers was from Manila, and they were starting back to Japan where they were to spend a week or two in sight-seeing.

According to their travel itinerary they were to sail from Japan on July 8 for Hawaii where they would spend two weeks or more and will reach home on August 10. Both Mr. and Mrs. Swanner were enthusiastic in their praise of the courtesies extended them on the trip, and the service accorded by the steamship company.

A quality you would want if you knew all of the facts

fact no. 15

Coffee flavor is the most sensitive thing that enters your kitchen — easy to go wrong. Try to make cheap coffee and good coffee on successive mornings — week after week. How good will your good coffee be? And it is far more difficult in blending and roasting coffee. There is only one place where only good coffee is made—the Schilling roasting rooms. No cheap blends — no 2nd or 3rd grades are ever found there. The finest things usually come from those who make fine things only.

Curtains For Nothing

This week, tiring of the stodgy curtains in my study, I decided to splurge on some new ones, but on counting the cost my one-tenth of one per cent canny Scotch blood counseled holding off on spending money just for a whim. On the other hand, my overwhelming artistic Irish side sat up and loudly demanded NEW CURTAINS, and hang the expense! So-o-o-o, to satisfy both sides of me, I compromised by using some theatrical gauze in natural shade which had seen much duty and needed cleaning.

I put it through a bath, tinted it a lovely shade of apricot yellow with soap dyes, dug up some chintz on which colorful bouquets ran riot, and with my trusty scissors I cut out the bouquets and posed them on the bottoms of the curtains, building one long spray up into a spike three feet tall, with lesser ones at the sides. These bouquets I glued onto the gauze (you see, I do not expect this job to last forever and glue is cheap if they come off).

The curtains are full length in case you want to know, so the flowers just peep over the window sill very coyly. Oh yes, when I washed the curtains, the hemmed edges didn't iron out too well, so I just ripped them out, pressed in a narrow edge and blanket stitched it with apple green wool, and they are lovely, if I did make them for nothing—maybe that's why I like them so well—that drop of Scotch blood will have its way at all costs!

TODAY'S RECIPE

Ginger Bread Sandwiches

1-2 cup sugar
1-2 cup butter
1 teaspoon each ginger and cinnamon
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 cup black molasses
1 1-2 teaspoons soda dissolved in 1 cup boiling water
2 1-4 cups sifted pastry flour
2 eggs, well beaten

Filling For Sandwiches

1 cream cheese mashed with mayonnaise to soft paste
1-4 cup chopped pecans

Cream, butter and sugar, add spices and salt, then molasses, and alternately the hot soda water and flour, whipped to a smooth batter. The well beaten eggs are added last and well whipped in; the cake is baked in a loaf cake tin in a medium slow oven.

It is not used until cold enough to slice if sliced the long way and again built up, but can be used immediately, and hot, if cut across the grain in thin slices and the slices put together as sandwiches with a filling of the cheese and nut mixture.

Served with a fruit salad, nothing is better for the dessert-salad course for a Sunday night supper or for an informal evening occasion, when you want something good to eat and not too hard to cook.

One of the smaller sandwiches has a calory value of close to 200 energy making units.

Ann's Cook Book, Leaflet V, Vegetables, is offered for the current leaflet. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for this fine collection of vegetable recipes and add them to the cook book I hope you are making.

Birthday Dinner Is Pleasant Event

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Miller were hosts last night in their home on South A street, Tustin, at a birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. J. A. Phiney. Bowls of spicy carnations and centaureas centered the table, and were also used effectively about the rooms. A feature of the dinner was the lovely birthday cake, attractively iced, which was presented the honored guests.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hubbard of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Phiney, Sheldon Holmes, Paul Phiney, and the Misses Helen Hubbard, Emery Hubbard, Mariel Hubbard, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, and son Junior.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyon Are Made Honor Guests At Dinner Dance

Cooled by its effortless sweep across untold miles of the blue Pacific, last night's ocean breeze made the Virginia hotel, Long Beach, a cool and delightful setting for the formal dinner dance with which Mr. and Mrs. Theo A. Wingibler, 207 East Main street, welcomed the return of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyon from their honeymoon wanderings through Canada and the north.

Rainbow colorings were chosen by the hostess for her dinner appointments, and the one long table reserved for the party, offered a charming study in delicate-hued with these in two large baskets with their orchid, yellow, pink and pale blue petals, and coquetting with those in two large beskets at either end of the linen draped table. Candelabra filled with tapers in complementary hues and sparkling colored crystal added to the attractive scene, and the filmy chiffons and soft silks of the dinner gowns worn by women of the party, added the final fairy touch touch of beauty.

Mrs. Winbigler greeted her guests in a formal dinner gown of pale yellow satin crepe, while Mrs. Lyon's poise and beauty were emphasized by her costume of chiffon in varied hues in harmony with the priceless amber beads which Mr. Lyon had so recently brought from the Orient. Mrs. Lyon was formerly Mrs. Grace Zaiser of this city.

A unique feature of the dinner hour was the harp-violin program, for the musicians had learned in some manner, that the dinner was complimenting a recent bride and groom, so played a varied selection of exquisite love songs and bridal airs, including Lohengrin's Wedding March as members of the party sought the ballroom.

Asked to enjoy the hospitality for which Mr. and Mrs. Winbigler are famed, and greet Mr. and Mrs. Lyon, whose wedding was a quiet event of June 3, were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Leibig, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Yarnell, Mr. and Mrs. Z. Bertrand West, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Metzgar, Mr. and Mrs. George Guenther, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hatzfeld, Lieut.-Com. and Mrs. Irwin F. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Zaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Winbigler, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Morris, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul, Mrs. Frances Scott, Mrs. J. B. Roberts, and Messrs. George Shattuck, Donald Zaiser and Leonard Baker.

C. E. Members Enjoy Supper on Beach

Members of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church, held an enjoyable beach party and supper on the sands of Corona del Mar Tuesday evening, when they sought relief from the heat of the day in the foamy ocean breakers. The earlier part of the evening was spent in swimming, followed by a delicious picnic supper, which was welcomed with great enthusiasm by hearty appetites. A feature of the supper were the kabobs, a unique method of broiling meat on sticks., and a specialty of George Walker. The repast was concluded with slices of watermelon.

Following the supper hour, singing and games occupied the evening, while several merrymakers returned to the ocean for a swim. The affair was declared a huge success, with 48 present

Committees were in charge of Miss Jean Nicholson, general chairman, while transportation was in charge of Miss Betty Hawk and Ray Archer, and supper in charge of George Walker, boy scout executive. Others who assisted were the Rev. and Mrs. O. Scott McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hawk, Mrs. George Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lauderbach, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Griset, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smedley and Miss Groff.

Forest Home Dwellers Return to City

Temporarily forsaking the joys of summer life in the mountains, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gowen yesterday returned to their home at 928 Spurgeon street, after an extended stay in their delightful cabin at Forest Home.

During the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Gowen had the pleasure of entertaining two interesting guests from Seattle, Miss Lillie Johnson and Miss Minnie Johnson, who are teachers in the Seattle schools and now enjoying a vacation tour of the Southland. The two travelers have started on their return journey northward, and are now at Santa Barbara. They were old friends of Mrs. Gowen in Illinois, where all three were teachers together. Although bearing the same surname and making their home together, the visitors are no blood relation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gowen will remain in Santa Ana for a week or two before returning to Forest Home, where they had the unique pleasure of a heavy rainfall on Monday afternoon. While they are down this time, they have placed their cabin at the disposal of Mrs. daughter, Mrs. Elsie Spruance and William E. Otis, who, with her little Miss Eloise Spruance, and the latter's young friend, Norma Jean Daly, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Wingood Daley, will enjoy a week's stay among the pines.

Native Daughters

That the installation of officers for Native Daughters of the West, who were elected at the first of the June meetings, is to be an event of Monday evening, July 28, at 8:30 o'clock in the Knights of Columbus hall, with a cordial invitation extended to the public to attend, was the decision made at the meeting of the parlor Monday evening. The regular business matters were concluded and then several other matters were brought up for consideration.

Among other decisions made, which was an exceptionally popular one with all of those present, was that the Native Sons and Daughters should hold a joint barbecue at Hewes park, July 27. Further details are to be given out later, but it is thought that at least 300 will be in attendance.

Officers to be installed the last of this month, with the district deputy grand president, Mrs. Lillie Mae Tompkins from Lugonia Parlor No. 241, Glendale, as installing officer are, Mrs. Genevieve Hiskey, past president; Mrs. Marguerite Dickinson, president; Mrs. Marian Crum, first vice president; Mrs. Mildred Gray, second vice president; Mrs. Florence Watson, third vice president; Mrs. Rose Ford, financial secretary; Mrs. Ina Cope, treasurer; Mrs. Olive Seba, marshal; Mrs. Mae West, Mrs. Elva Selvidge and Mrs. Mary Moore, trustees; Mrs. Clara Cooke, inside sentinel; and Mrs. Hannah Kerr, outside sentinel.

'WESTERN FRONT' ANTI-WAR DRAMA

Many war pictures have been shown in Santa Ana in the past 10 years. Many have been good, many bad, but it remains for Universal to produce the greatest of all stories concerning the late war, and its film "All Quiet On The Western Front," is just that.

The picture is great because it is like the war. There is none of the glamour and glory in the film, nothing but the mire, the scum and the horrors of war, yet it will leave an impression on the average audience that will be remembered for a long time, for "All Quiet On The Western Front" is a big argument against war.

The battle scenes are remarkable. The tenderness that creeps into the picture is remarkable, and the effect the war has on 'Paul," played by Lewis Ayers, the star, as he battles from year to year in the front line trenches, watching one comrade after the other get killed, is even more than remarkable.

The story concerns a youth who, with his class enlists at the outbreak of the war. How he goes through various stages of the war, meeting death day by day and how he accustoms himself to it all, make up the highlights of the performance.

Louis Wolheim and Slim Summerville have the other two important parts in the production. Both are excellent in their parts.

A Fox Movietone newsreel, together with an all-talking comedy also are shown.

FULLER PARK

D. L. Stewart is remodeling his home on Olive and Vine streets, enlarging the living room, building on a bedroom, breakfast room, front porch and a fireplace and a double garage with rooms upstairs.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Guthoerl, son Willard and Paul Grary had a picnic lunch at Corona del Mar Sunday.

Ray Hanson left Saturday for a month's visit with his parents at Springdale, Ark. He will also stop at Kansas City and Dallas, Tex.

Kirby Lofton left Sunday evening for Paducah, Ky., after receiving word of the serious illness of his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Riddle have as house guests Mrs. Riddle's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Myers and Carol Myers of Fort Collins, Colo.

DOUBLE BILL TO CLOSE AT WALKER

A double feature program that offers romance, adventure, mystery and thrills, closes tonight at Walker's State theater.

"Prince of Diamonds," the Columbia all-talking drama, is crammed full of stirring action and the climax is thrilling enough to satisfy those who crave strong melodrama. Aileen Pringle and Ian Keith play the leads.

The locale shifts from London to the haunts of society's outcasts in the hell holes of the Far East.

"The Viking" is beautiful pageantry of a poetic era of by-gone days. Like a lost tribe, a race of Viking men are brought back to life in a most fascinating panorama.

Containing all the elements of a corking good photoplay, and directed by Technicolor's master, R. William Neill, this picture was adapted to the screen by Jack Cunningham from the novel by Ottilie A. Liljencrantz, a story o fViking days. It depicts authentic history and has more than the usual amount of romance and adventure.

WESTMINSTER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr a family are not to leave the Aldrich Land Company's ranch as had been planned, Mr. Parr having been given another two year lease on the property.

Mrs. Harry Penhall and granddaughter, Anabelle Day, returned Sunday from Laguna Beach, where they have been visiting relatives.

W. S. Little, field foreman for the Standard Oil Co. in the Santa Fe Springs fields, is taking a 30 days vacation.

Ray Finley and Loyal Skinner have returned from a trip to Seattle, Wash., which they made with a loaded truck. The men went the inland route, returning by way of the coast, and stopped over at a number of points of interest.

Mrs. Ray E. Finley and Miss Francis Finley motored to Los Angeles spending a day, recently.

Boy Scouts held a meeting Friday evening but the meeting was made short owing to the absence of the scoutmaster, Hollis Fittz, who is attending summer school in Los Angeles four days each week.

Frank Johnson is off on a vacation from the oil fields and on Monday Mr. and Mrs. Johnson accompanied by Mrs. Ethel Buck, left for San Juan Hot Springs to spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson had as guests Sunday, Mr. Anderson's niece and Husband, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Wartenbe of Los Angeles, who came for their son, Robert Wartenbe, who has been spending a week in his uncle's home, taking him home with them. Mrs. C. Phillips of Santa Ana, mother of Mrs. Anderson, was also their guest for the day.

'ROMANCE' ENDS RUN HERE TODAY

"Romance," starring Greta Garbo, one of the three leading actresses of the screen, which has been playing at the Fox Broadway theater for the past several days, ends its Santa Ana run today.

The picture, different from any in which the famous actress has appeared before, makes its initial appearance in Santa Ana, the film having not started in Los Angeles yet.

In "Romance" a new Greta Garbo is seen. Instead of the sophisticated woman of affairs, whose heart is of ice and whose ability to make men love her is well known, we find a demure little actress, a woman with a past, who falls deeply in love with a young clergyman, after she herself had gained fame and her place in the world.

How the man affects her, and how, because of her great love for him, she is willing to sacrifice her love, makes the picture one of the most interesting that has been brought here in the past several months. Santa Anans who have viewed the picture declare that the new type of Garbo is even more alluring than the Garbo of other roles recently seen here

Gavin Gordon has the principal male part in the play, while Lewis Stone plays the other principal part.

A Fox Movietone newsreel, and an all-talking comedy also are shown.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The city wall had one large gate and through it you could look right straight across the queer old houses that were on a row of hills. "To Persians this may all be swell, but I am glad we do not dwell inside the wall," said Scouty. "Though one sight of it brings thrills.

"The place we slept the other night was nice and cozy and all right, but, after all, 'twas not like home. Let's look around—then go." "Oh, no!" replied the Travel Man. "'Course you can leave us. Sure you can. But you'd be wiser if you stayed. This spot is quite a show."

"Oh, well, that's different," Scouty cried. "So I will stay right by your side. Please tell me, where do we go first? I'll even lead the way. Is there a place where we can eat? I hope we pick out one that's neat and has some very tasty food. I'm nearly starved today."

The Travel Man just grinned and then they all were on their way again. They shortly found an eat shop where they loafed an hour or so. "And now," the Travel Man remarked, "Let's move. I think that we have parked in this spot plenty long enough. Right through the town we'll go."

They loafed along and here and there saw sights that really were quite rare. Some houses were made out of mud and some were just a tent. From doorways Persian people peered and shortly all the Tinies feared that they might not be welcome. Still, along their way they went.

Then came a woman with a child strapped to her back. She stopped and smiled. The Travel Man gave her a coin and then she went away. He then explained just what she was. "They call her gypsy, boys, because she has no home, but travels 'round the country, day by day."

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE--TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

STRUGGLES OF INDIA RELATED BY MISSIONARY

While expressing her complete sympathy with India's grievances, the missionary also expresses her fear that the method now being employed by that country to change conditions is such as to greatly retard its progress. In championing England's attitude, Miss Welles contends that the British have problems to deal with in India which are not encountered in any other country in the world: problems of caste, untouchability and the systems of religion.

"India can teach people of the west many things," Miss Welles believes. "But India needs us. She needs our help to free her from herself, which is what she requires before she will be able to govern herself successfully. Above all she needs Jesus Christ. It is only Christ who has made the west progressive, when the East has Him its people can be trusted, too, to work out their own salvation, educationally, socially, economically, religiously."

The Santa Ana woman concluded her remarks with the prophecy that missionaries in India will suffer hard times and face many unpleasant situations during the next year. However, she emphasized her sincere joy at being in that far country "where I can have some small part in forming character which will help make India stronger."

ORANGE PERSONALS

Miss Ethel Lovering and Mrs. Bernice Winklehake, both nurses of the Orange County hospital, are enjoying a two weeks vacation. They plan dividing the time by trips to San Bernardino, Mt. Wilson, Anaheim, Santa Ana and San Diego.

Mrs. W. H. Johnson of 304 North Waverly street spent last Sunday in Long Beach as a guest in the home of her son, W. Ward Johnson, who is an attorney in that city. EXHIBITS CHICK WITH FOUR LEGS

RED BLUFF, July 17.—(INS)—Edward Patrick O'Brien, Tehama county's poetical poultryman, had four-legged chicken on exhibit at his ranch.

The chicken is three weeks old and despite the handicap of two additional legs, is the liveliest of the flock and enjoys perfect health.

When the chick was first hatched the extra legs dragged on the ground and were a great hindrance to the owner, but as the chicken increased in size, the extra legs stood out straight behind.

The legs are attached to an extra pair of hips which grow out of the chicken's back.

Several years ago O'Brien had a chicken with two bodies and one head, or two chickens with one head, whichever you prefer. It did not live long.

O'Brien is a familiar figure in Red Bluff. He has written a book of verse, which he peddles on the streets, and he is also a close student of insect life, and bases monthly weather forecasts on the actions of bees and ants and worms.

OUT TO BEAT SPEED MARK

Will she be the next speed queen of the air? Experts say she has an excellent chance to break the world's record for women now held by Amelia Earhart, and Florence Lowe Barnes, famous Los Angeles aviatrix, plans to have a try at it, using her new "mystery monoplane" which has a speed rating of 200 miles an hour. Miss Earhart's record, set on the same measured course which Mrs. Barnes will fly, is 184.5 miles an hour.

ABLE CANDIDATES

The interest is becoming more and more intense in the gubernatorial fight. There is some change in predictions, and many declare that a defeat of the interests represented by both Governor Young and Mr. Fitts seem to be jeopardized by a division of the vote.

It is difficult to tell at this time—in fact, it is extremely difficult to tell at any time until after the votes are in. But certain it is that scores of thousands of people, who are for either Governor Young or District Attorney Fitts, will be deeply disappointed at the conclusion of the contest if one or the other of those candidates is not nominated. Men of equal mental acumen and conscience, we are confident, are supporting each of these candidates, and each declares with every evidence of sincerity and confidence that his candidate will receive the major portion of the votes that are cast by the "dry" forces.

In spite of this declaration, the Anti-Saloon League, through its state board, advised the people to vote for Governor Young. Scores of ministers in Los Angeles have taken identically the same position. On the other hand, many individual ministers and groups of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union have come out equally as pronouncedly for Mr. Fitts.

We believe if all of these people could be gotten together, at least one thing would stand out very prominently. That is there are two tremendously important offices to fill, and these offices are now occupied respectively by Governor Young and District Attorney Fitts, and every argument that could be raised on behalf of either man for the governorship could be raised to keep the man in the particular position which he now holds.

It is extremely unfortunate that the groups are so divided. We cannot help believing that those whose animosity is aroused against Governor Young, who are strong for a candidate who normally stands for prohibition and the enforcement of the law, have in many cases little or no underlying foundation of fact. Those who have known Governor Young for many years maintain that he is genuine clear through. The character of administration which he has given the state certainly should appeal to those who are interested from humanitarian and business standpoints in the conduct of a state office.

We cannot help believing that taking it north and south, a vastly larger number of people will support Governor Young than Mr. Fitts. For this reason we believe the chances of his nomination are greater than those of Mr. Fitts, and from that standpoint we believe that the friends of the things for which both Fitts and Young stand should waive whatever objections they have and support Governor Young, and give Mr. Fitts an opportunity to continue his work as district attorney, in the expectation later of giving him larger opportunity and rewarding him for service faithfully performed.

Aviation head reads, "Flies over U. S." Gosh, yes. Over it, on it and in it. And the screens don't seem to keep them out.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

The country is to be congratulated on the thoroughness with which the committee of the senate investigating campaign expenses is doing its job. There does not seem to be any partisan or factional politics in their undertaking. It has been brought out that more than one-third of a million dollars was paid for the nomination for the United States senate which Mrs. McCormick recived.

Her opponent, J. Hamilton Lewis, has referred to a million dollars as the amount expended. Certainly he cannot claim that she expended anything like this amount, though he declares himself willing to appear before the committee and give testimony. In any case, he is an opponent, and what he says should be read with considerable care.

In spite of this, we believe in the direct primary. We do not agree with ex-President Coolidge in his statement of a few days ago. While, as a matter of fact, the amount of money passing in a campaign for the nomination would not appear, nevertheless it is well known that a few men in various conventions before the time of the direct primary held the power of nomination in their hands, and with all too great frequency they received rewards for the nomination going in certain directions.

The manner in which legislatures were bought up by high-powered, monied men for their election to the United States senate became such a national scandal before the change was made to a direct election by the people, that there was no alternative left for the folks than taking it away from the legislatures and retaining the power themselves. To be sure, big interests can handle the situation better when there are only a few to deal with, and a certain class of men representing special interests will consider an office if they think the men proposing it to them have it in their power to handle the situation, who will not consider it if they have to go out and appeal to the voters themselves. With the concentration of money and business as it is today severalfold greater than it was before the change in the constitution calling for the election of the United States senators by the people was provided for, the reason for leaving it as it is is even greater today than it was then.

The difficulties in such cases as those of Mrs. McCormick, Newberry and Vare, are brought out now. They would be unknown under the other conditions. You cannot corrupt or buy all the people, and if an attempt is made in any wholesale manner under the present conditions, it becomes public property, and affords the authorities like the United States senate an opportunity to correct it.

THE TOURNAMENT OF LIGHTS

Newport Beach is one of the real enterprising cities of Orange county. It is not large numerically, is working under many handicaps, yet when it does things it does them clear out of proportion to the size of the city.

We have been led many times to record the activities of Newport Beach, but few activities receive more praise than their annual enterprise of the Tournament of Lights. This year it was bigger and better than ever. The city and bay were wonderfully lighted; the parade was interesting and distinctive, and the whole evening's performance was carried out in a manner with credit to the city.

The chairman of the committee, and the one under whose direction the Tournament of Lights was conducted this year was Mr. H. L. Sherman. He undoubtedly was well supported by the various committees which assisted him. At the same time when an enterprise is conducted in such a fine manner, one knows that behind it is a directing mind. Mr. Sherman is in the habit of doing the things that he undertakes and doing them well. He is public-spirited and unselfish. He is a big asset to Newport Beach. He is to be congratulated on the fine success of last Saturday evening.

"Student let out of jail to take examination." Headline. Then to return to take a cross-examination

Have you seen "All Quiet on the Western Front"? We believe there is no moving picture that is making a more profound impression upon the minds of the people than is this one.

We read the story when it was first published, and read the reviews on it by those who knew, who declared it to be most faithful to the general facts. Certainly the picture is faithful to the story.

It is on tonight and tomorrow night. We make no apologies for urging those who can afford to do so, to see this picture.

Incidentally, we are privileged now to see some great undertakings depicted on the screen. The picture of Byrd's trip to the South Pole was one of them. We hope to see that returned.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" will be counted upon as one of the great factors in giving the populace a realization of exactly what war is.

What's the difference whether kids go to a circus and have a picnic, or go to a picnic and have a circus?

THE PUGNACIOUS INSTINCT

Dr. Walter F. Dexter of Whittier, addressing the annual convention of the Lions club in Denver yesterday announced that during the past ten years "some of the best minds of the country have come to the conclusion that there is no fighting or pugnacious instinct in the human race."

One would like to know more about this new line of thought. What, then, is the thing that we have called pugnacious instinct in the past? If we must accept some new explanation for the evidence as plain today as when the "pugnacious" instinct was worthy its name we would like to know about it. Dr. Dexter suggests in his address that the tendency to fight is merely a legal, social and spiritual custom.

Smashing the World's Mountain Top Record

San Francisco Chronicle

Climbing the Jonsong Peak in the Himalaya the Kanchenjunga expedition has broken the world's record which had resisted all assaults for 23 years. The former record was set in 1907, when Dr. T. G. Longstaff reached the summit of Trisul in the Garhwal Himalaya, 23,406 feet high.

The Jonsong Peak, just north of Kanchenjunga, is 24,340 feet above the sea. Six men in two parties reached the top. Though men have reached higher elevations on Mount Everest, the Jonsong is now the loftiest peak that men have ever topped.

On the borders of India, Tibet and China are more than 600 peaks of 25,000 feet and upward. Yet not one of them has ever been climbed. Among so many it would seem that some must be easier than others. But none has yet been found easy enough. This fact, more than anything else, brings home the enormous difficulties peaks of this size present to the climber.

How to Raise Children

Riverside Daily Press

Our psychologists have been very busy of late telling us how we should raise our children. The job ought to be done scientifically, they insist: most of us have not the knowledge to be good parents, and botch the job fearfully.

Now, however, comes Miss Joanna C. Colcord of the Russell Sage Foundation to laugh these pretensions to scorn.

Miss Colcord tells the National Conference on Social Work, meeting in New York, that the old-fashioned, unscientific way of raising children is after all the best way there is.

"The most stable children," she say, "seem to be reared by parents who are too busy at useful tasks to interfere unnecessarily in the development of the children."

That sounds like common sense. The psychologists are prone to take in a little too much ground in their claims.

Now Is the Time

The San Diego Union

Almost every old-timer in San Diego, when he reads of the sale of an important piece of real estate at an important price, finds himself looking back and remembering when he might have bought that same parcel at a ridiculously low figure. If he is given to such uncomfortable dreamings, he will muse over what his fortune would be if he had seized opportunities when he saw them. Old-timers and newcomers alike still have opportunities in their grasp today. Real estate today is offered in a buyers' market. Yet ahead of us all there is a future prospect brighter than the city has ever enjoyed in the past. The city is bound to go ahead.

Courage, initiative and economy today may still lay the foundations for tomorrow's fortune.

A LIGHT IN THE DARKNESS

No more in the White House cabinets,
The visitor may see
Those little crystal drinking sets
That were not meant for tea.
Though every pantry one may pass
And ever seek in vain
To find a single flaring glass
Designed to hold champagne.

The beakers built for Rhenish wine
Have vanished from the view,
And not a seidel nor a stein
Is found the mansion through.
No toby's, ranged along a rail,
Attract the questing gaze
And waken thoughts of foaming ale
That flowed in earlier days.

The sad conclusion one might draw,
Who moves from room to room,
Regarding Mr. Volstead's law
Might steep his soul in gloom.
Why store these lovely things away
If at some later date,
The drouth that makes them vain today
May possibly abate?

But though the shelves are no more lined
With bright and glittering glass,
A tiny ray of hope I find
In what has come to pass.
These crystal cups which long ago
Adorned a gracious board
Where amber nectar used to flow
Were stored, but not destroyed!

NO WONDER

The City of New York was unable to dispose of a lion, which is not surprising in view of the fact that it has never been able to get rid of a Tiger.

FARSEEING, IN FACT

Incidentally, the Tammany Tiger is not exactly a blind tiger.

DANGEROUS DAYS

A Western "Speakie" theater closed the other day. The stockholders discovered that they couldn't safely put their money even into a sound investment.

"The Power of Thine Hand"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

An employer is not, ex-officio, hard-hearted. Firing the help is not his ordinary rainy-day substitute for a round of golf. On the contrary, firing the help hurts him just as much as—

But why bring up unhappy memories?

The fact is, employers are eager to see their workers prosper and hold their jobs. No one is more willing than they to obey the Biblical injunction: "Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it."

Employers know that much good, due and overdue, is sometimes withheld from the men they employ. What many of them don't know is just what is in the power of their hands. But they are finding out. They are finding out from employers who believe that it is in the power of their hands to do a good deal, and who have gone ahead and done it. From President Loree, for example, of The Delaware and Hudson Railroad.

In the last eight years, by means of the "elastic work-day," The Delaware and Hudson has avoided discharging any of its employees during slack periods. It has let the sunlight of Intelligent Planning into the haunted house of Seasonal and Cyclical Unemployment, and freed the minds of over 10,000 workers from the depressing "fear of the job."

Under the "elastic work-day" plan, the hours of workers are longer when work is heavy, shorter when work falls off; but none of the workers themselves are forced to fall off.

The merits of that plan, as compared with others, we are not discussing. The point is that there ARE ways—and ways that are good business—of making jobs steadier on their feet. Almost any employer can use at least one of these plans. It is well within the power of his hand.

The other day Sid Hunt and me had a private message sistem, and I was pulling on one of your old brown shoes up and down on a string out the 2nd floor window to take the private message up and down, and the string broke and Sids dog got hold of the shoe and went and hid with it, and by the time we found him G wizz he had one side of it all chewed useless. I been meening to tell you, I sed.

Yee gods the ony comfortable shoes I own, pop sed, and ma sed, Now Willyum, those old things were terrible, youve had them since the beginning of the Ark and I been intending to throw them out for years, hee hee, and besides now youve got your grate chance to laff at public opinion just the way you were bragging about, hee hee.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE BANKRUPTCY OF COURAGE

Courage is the cornerstone of civilization.

The capacity to face adventure and duty unafraid is the mark of a healthy mind.

The modern mind prides itself upon the fact that it has emancipated itself from many of the fears that obsessed earlier and less exacting eras.

There is nothing but good to be said for the modern determination to look life in the face and to see it for what it is.

It has never paid to traffic with self-delusion.

And the debunker, whether he be social critic or psychoanalyst, is a man society can afford to pay well.

But even a good thing can be used to bad ends, and, it has been said, the corruption of the best is the worst corruption.

And I suspect that the modern passion for analysis or self and of society is a passion which, indulged in too freely, may bring us to the point where we are more interested in analysis than in action.

The only really disturbing thing I note about the young men and young women leaving our colleges and universities year after year is the predominance in them of the critical mood of the spectator rather than the creative mood of the participant in the life of our time.

Debunking can devitalize us.

The scientific spirit and modern freedom, misused, can make us a generation that broods too much.

Henri-Frederic Amiel was a man who spent his life analyzing himself, as witness his Journal.

"What a strange creature I am!" he once wrote. "If I were charged with the education of some one, I should seek what was best everywhere and in everything. But for myself I no longer have the taste to reprimand and direct. I merely examine myself and state my preference. Psychology has replaced morality. That is the effect of this flaccid existence that dispenses with adventures and duties, with work and purpose. I no longer know courage save by name, and hope save by hearsay."

The current situation in American life, economic and spiritual, calls for men in whim courage is not bankrupt.

We do not want to fool ourselves about ourselves and our society as some generations have done, but we don not want to allow the laudable venture of debunking to keep us on the sidelines of the life of our time.

Our place is in the arena.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

GROWING UP

We make it hard for children to grow up. It is very pleasant to care for a baby. Even the fatigue of constant attendance cannot rob us of the joy of ministering to something so precious, so sweetly dependent upon us.

We do like to have children dependent upon us. It is with a pang that we realize they can do without us. Mothers like to feed their children. Long after the child ought to be feeding himself mother hangs over him watching each mouthful, her hands twitching to take the wobbly spoon in her hands.

Day by day the children grow farther and farther from us. Soon they can dress themselves, go to school alone, express opinions of their own, choose their way in the world. That is as it ought to be—and isn't. We refuse to let the children grow as smoothly as that. We want to hold on to them because—well because we like the feeling of usefulness that gives us. They are an excuse for our living—if we are not very careful, they become our only excuse.

But nature is stronger than any bond we can forge and the children escape. If not one way, another. If we could gather wisdom sufficient to the evil day we would be happier when they definitely break with the home, for break they must if they are to grow up. And who wants a child who does not grow up?

We cannot expect a child to grow up overnight. It isn't done. Self guidance is a matter of slow growth gained by first hand experience and first hand experiences are precisely what we refuse children. We want them to take ours and when they don't we are grieved. When they do, they don't grow up.

Try to understand that children are lent to you for the period of their physical dependency. That your hold on them will be strengthened by loosening it as early as possible and making no effort to possess in any way, the spirit of the child.

During the years of dependency, legitimate dependency, you do all the teaching you can. Set the background for healthy mental attitudes, do what you can to lay the basis of health of body, hold the child in affection always, and hope for the best. Whatever you do, don't try to own him.

When adolescence comes, the child ought to grow up definitely. It is no longer possible for you to tell him what to do, what to think, how to live. He must do that for himself. He is a person. It may be that you do not like the person he is but that cannot be helped by mandate. You have seen that person grow in your home for years and anything possible to do you have done. Let suggestion and kind counsel do their work. But remember, no force.

Responsibility is the best incentive for growth. Begin early to allow the child to carry his own share of the load. He will grow up faster and he will grow with less pain to himself and to you if he has the comfort of knowing he is helping himself.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY of

ASTOR'S BIRTH

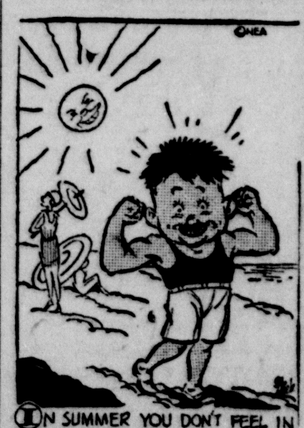

On July 17, 1864, John Jacob Astor, American capitalist, inventor and soldier, was born at Rhinebeck, N. Y.

Following his graduation from Harvard in 1888 Astor traveled extensively and afterward devoted his time in the managing of the Astor estates. In 1897 he built the Astoria Hotel, New York, adjoining the Waldorf Hotel, which was built by William Waldorf Astor, his cousin, the two forming one building under the name Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, at the date of completion one of the largest and most costly hotels in the world. The structure was recently razed to make way for a modern skyscraper.

During the Spanish-American war Astor served as staff officer in the Santiago campaign and presented to the government a fully equipped mountain battery, which did effective work in the campaign before Manila.

Astor became known as an inventor of several useful devices, such as the bicycle brake and a turbine engine. He was drowned at sea when the Titanic sank in 1912.

Time To Smile

DIDN'T IT?

"You silly," laughed the wife. "Fancy being superstitious after all these years! Why, do you remember the first time we met? We walked under a ladder, and you said you were sure something horrible would happen to you."

"Well?" was all the poor husband replied.—Tit-Bits.

EXTREMELY WEALTHY PERSON: So you wish to marry my daughter? How much money have you?

SUITOR: About $1500.

WEALTHY PERSON: I said money, not loose change.—Pele Mele, Paris.
